

PIGSKIN HURLERS APPEAR IN SUITS

Old High School Team Out Yesterday in Suits—Practice Strenuous

"Feeling as fit and fine as we did two years ago" is the way the football team of 1912 at the Marshfield High School express their confidence of putting up a good showing against the "apstars" of this year with whom they will battle on Turkey Day. Yesterday afternoon for the first time the old members were out in football suits for practice on the Foot Ball Grounds. There they ran off their signal practice, practiced forward passes and had light scrimmage. The entire team of eleven men were present.

That there will be practically no changes in the High School's line-up is the declaration of Coach Niles, who states he will use the same men that met the Coquille Independents a week ago. This team too, is being put through strenuous practice and the fans predict there will be one of the hardest-fought games on the local gridiron that has been fought this year in Coos County. This is the official end of the season and it is unlikely that any post-season games will be arranged.

The old team of 1912 has been doing light signal work for the last two weeks under the arc lights at the corner of Commercial and Broadway streets in the evening.

PLAN BAZAAR

The ladies of the Christian Church are completing arrangements for the church bazaar to be held Thursday and Friday, December 3rd and 4th. The ladies have been working for the past two months and have a fine lot of needlecraft work and Christmas dainties which they are planning to offer. They also plan to sell hot chicken tamales and have arranged to serve a business men's luncheon from eleven o'clock up to the closing hour in the evening. Henry Songstaker has kindly proffered the use of the building now occupied by the Lewis Confectionery and Ice Cream Parlors on Broadway. Attractive booths will be erected for the proper display.

NEW BRIDGE CLUB

The new Auction Bridge Club held its first regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Eugene Crosshwaite on Wednesday afternoon. The afternoon's play resulted in Mrs. J. S. Hanson receiving first prize. Delicious refreshments were served. Mrs. Carl Davis will be hostess at the next meeting a week from next Wednesday. Those present Wednesday were Mrs. W. L. Clabough, Mrs. J. S. Lyons, Mrs. W. H. Kennedy, Mrs. J. S. Hanson, Mrs. A. E. Adelberger and Mrs. J. S. Hanson.

SEWING PARTY

Mrs. J. H. Stadden was hostess at a charming afternoon at sewing Friday at her home on South Fourth street. The decorations reflected the Thanksgiving season. In serving, she was assisted by Mrs. Norris Jensen and Mrs. J. G. Kinney. Among those present were Mrs. Norris Jensen, Mrs. J. G. Kinney, Mrs. H. L. Crawford, Mrs. R. N. Fenton, Mrs. L. F. Denning, Mrs. E. F. LeMieux, Mrs. Wm. Schroeder, Mrs. J. W. Hildenbrand, Mrs. P. W. Dodson, Mrs. T. S. Harvey, Mrs. McLeod and Mrs. J. W. Mitchell.

MYRTLE ARMS IS NOW ALL OCCUPIED

F. E. Conway Says Waiting List Has Been Started of Applicants for Apartments

F. E. Conway announced today that every apartment in the new Myrtle Arms Apartment house had been filled and that now he had a waiting list of parties who desired quarters there as soon as a vacancy should occur. The last two apartments were taken by Mr. and Mrs. Teter and a Mr. and Mrs. Smith, both families being recent arrivals on the Bay.

The rapidity with which the 21 apartments were taken came up to the expectations of Mr. Conway when he was building it and even when it was about completed, a number remarked that he would not be able to lease it all and especially if he enforced the ruling against young children. He said nothing and last week all the apartments were filled and the waiting list was started—he had to smile at some of the doubting ones.

Not only is the apartment filled up but all of them are permanent residents of Marshfield and not of the transient class which might mean frequent changes.

CAMPBELL ON RATES.

Railroad Commissioner Corrects the Wrong Impression He Gave.

Railroad Commissioner Thomas K. Campbell, who, while here last week stated that he thought where the consumption of water was sufficient to entitle the consumer to one of the lower rates, he should not be charged the step rates down to the lower one, writes that he was mistaken. At the time of talking about the matter, he said that he would look it up on his return to Salem. He did so at once and writes as follows:

"The custom is to charge the higher tariff rate and step down to the lower rates as per the water company's tariff: 'First 200 cubic feet, 40c per 100 cubic feet; next 300 cubic feet, 25c per 100 cubic feet; next 1500 cubic feet, 15c per 100 cubic feet; next 18,000 cubic feet, 12c per 100 cubic feet; next 20,000 cubic feet, 9c per 100 cubic feet.' The total of the foregoing amounts make 40,000 cubic feet and the tariff rate for 'all over 40,000 cubic feet is 6c per 100 cubic feet.'"

"You can readily see that any other method than the one of charging the higher unit first and stepping down, would lead to discrimination. This has always been the rule for all companies that handle meters, so far as the writer knows.

"Kindly give this matter publication as the writer does not care to have the public get the wrong information. That would only lead to misunderstanding and make trouble for all parties concerned."

WED IN COQUILLE.

Couple from Belgium United Here—Just Escaped European War.

Justice Stanley said the ceremony at his office in this city which united Johan Ernst Olson of Sweden and Miss Johanna Katarina Patronella of Germany. This couple recently came from Antwerp, the lady leaving about a month ahead of the gentleman, and both having left just in time to escape the attack and fall of that city. This worthy couple had been engaged to wed for fourteen years, but Mr. Olson being a seafaring man and it requiring six weeks public proclamation of the bans before a wedding may be solemnized in the old country, they had never had an opportunity until the present time to have the knot tied.

Another remarkable feature is the fact that both the high contracting parties speak very good English, owing to the fact that the groom has followed the sea and the bride has been a resident of Antwerp, a city more cosmopolitan even than New York.

Mr. Olson is a machinist and has a good job with the Southern Pacific on the steel bridge at North Bend. The bride is a sister of Mr. Gus Bromser, a well known resident of North Bend, where the newlyweds will reside.

Still another novel feature of this wedding is the fact that this is the first November wedding our "marrying justice" has ever heretofore performed, that month having been void of that event in his past official service—Coquille Herald.

COMMITTEE WILL WITHOLD PLANS

Not to Present Coffee Club Plan to Council Tonight—Better Organization

The committees having in charge the investigation of a Coffee Club and a free employment bureau for Marshfield, will not make their appearance before the City Council this evening. No action will be taken, the committees of the various churches have agreed, until a definite plan has been formulated so that on coming before the city fathers they will have something tangible to suggest or request.

But in sympathy with the move have been many volunteers, who have taken up the agitation, branding it as exactly what is needed here at this time. A report received from The Dalles states that a Coffee Club is now organized there and is working successfully.

Stock was subscribed in The Dalles in the sum of $1200, which was found enough to rent a suitable building and to equip it with a lunch room, reading room, and with rest rooms for both the men and the women. A woman was hired to do the cooking and with her an assistant who looks after other features of the club.

The report further declares that "expenses there are about $10 a day, and the daily receipts average $2 over that amount, making a profit, which is put by for emergency use. This Coffee Club was copied after the one originated in San Jose. They have tried to make it a laboring man's club; it is not religious in any way, but merely gives an opportunity for the laboring men to get their meals at a low price, have a place to meet and to secure employment. It is a clearing house of capital and labor.

In The Dalles the club was started under adverse circumstances and in the face of much opposition, yet it has grown to a successful institution and is making its mark. It is almost a similar organization that will probably be presented here to the City Council for their expression.

At a meeting of the Men's Fellowship Club to be held tomorrow evening in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce, matters in connection with this proposed Coffee Club or Workmen's Club will be discussed by the members.

AMONG THE SICK

Mrs. E. Don McCrary, who recently underwent an operation at Bandon, is recuperating rapidly and expects to return to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jutstrom, on South Coos River, this week.

G. A. Brown, who has been at Mercy Hospital the past week, returned to The Chandler yesterday.

Ruby Morrison was operated on this afternoon at Mercy Hospital.

Percy Hasley, who was operated on several days ago, is rapidly recovering at Mercy Hospital.

Louis Martin underwent an operation at Mercy Hospital and is now recovering nicely.

Along the Waterfront.

On account of a heavy sea running on the bay yesterday, klicked up by a persistent southeast wind, neither the Naam Smith nor the Speedwell were able to get out yesterday. Word from the lighthouse said that the wind is calming down today and the bay is much smoother and it is expected these two ships will be able to cross out late this afternoon.

The Paraiso reported off the bar at 7 o'clock this morning, but because of a deckload was unable to cross in until this afternoon with the high tide. She is expected to sail Wednesday for San Francisco.

FINE SHOWING OF EASTSIDE SCHOOL

Lacks Only Two Points of Being Perfect—Program Given Friday

The Eastside public schools yesterday were standardized by School Supervisor F. A. Golden, and a special program was rendered in honor of the occasion by the pupils. There was a good attendance of the patrons.

Mr. Golden states that the Eastside schools are among the best in the county. He greatly praised the work of Mrs. Selma Thomas, the principal, to whose energy he attributed much of the fine showing made. There are ninety-three pupils enrolled there and Mrs. Thomas and Miss Franse teach them all. The school scored 98 per cent, losing one credit because there was no fence around the yard and another because there was one row of double seats.

The following is the program, which was excellently rendered: Address of Welcome... Olive Moore Song, "America"... School Instrumental Solo... Elsie Moore Instrumental Solo... Anna Major Instrumental Solo... Rose Molony Song, "Hear Dem Bells"... 4th and 5th grade boys Song, "The Battle Cry of Freedom"... School Duet, "Farewell to My Home"... Elsie Thomas and Florence Willey Song, "Better Far Than Gold"... School Address... Prof. Golden Song, "Come to the Greenwood"... 4th and 5th grade girls. Made Fine Record.

Supervisor Golden recently visited another school which has a phenomenal record. It is known as the Saechl School in District No. 35, near Bastendorf Beach, and is taught by Miss Alma J. Roberts. She has ten pupils enrolled and during eight of the nine months she has been teaching, she had a perfect record for attendance, no pupils being absent or tardy except during one month. Some of the pupils have to go as far as three miles to attend school there.

CONCRETE SPILLWAY DRAINS LAND

Fifty Acres on S. C. Rogers' Coos River Ranch Practically Reclaimed.

On the ranch of S. C. Rogers, on Coos River, there has just been completed a system of drainage that County Agriculturist Smith terms as unique among the farm innovations of Coos County. By means of a concrete drain pipe 50 acres of valuable farm and pasture land have been made practically dry the entire year.

To make this concrete spillway, Mr. Rogers declares he has used at least 200 sacks of cement. The project is 450 feet in length and the spillway is about two feet in diameter and drains through to Coos River. Workmen have been three weeks completing the task.

Previously Mr. Rogers had installed a wooden drain box about a foot square. This attempted to serve for the whole of the 50-acre area. So small and inadequate was this system that during the rainy months the box was wholly unable to cope with the heavy water surplus and the land remained for the most part under water.

Such a condition, the owner believed, was a loss of money. He has more than 55 head of milk cows to browse on this land. Some years he plowed the strip up and sowed it to grain. This was done in the spring and very often soiling was either delayed or the grain and grass found it impossible to grow, being drowned out in the early year freshets that flooded the land.

To put in the large concrete spillway was found the only means of coping with the situation. Now this project will carry off in a hurry the main body of the water while the smaller drain box will be retained to drain the surface puddles.

FROSTS TWICE IN ONE NIGHT.

Last Saturday night the curious phenomena of two frosts in one night was observed here. The first frost of the season came before midnight and was so dense as to look like a light fall of snow. Later the usual nightly fog rolled in and carried off the frost. Towards morning, though, it frosted again and even very late risers found all the walks and-roofs white with rime. Neither of the frosts, though, appear to have been heavy enough to hurt vegetation, the tender plants that line the court house walk still blooming profusely and nasturtiums remaining as green as ever.—Coquille Sentinel.

It is said that the German invaders of Belgium, whatever else they may have destroyed, have been careful not to injure park trees. The cavalrymen, so a report goes, are forbidden to tie their horses to trees for fear that the animals will gnaw the bark. Germany was the first nation to apply forestry on a large scale, some of the crown forests having been under scientific management for over a hundred years.
