At Eugene.—Miss Edna Wieder, Mrs. R. M. Wieder and C. J. Wieder, residents of Lakeside, an embryo summer resort on the new Willamette Pacific railroad, are visiting in Eugene.—Eugene Guard.
Coming Here.—Roscoe Riley, in charge of line work for the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Company of this city, left yesterday afternoon for

Early Day Shipwreck.—In the Oregonian items of 25 years ago, November 23, 1889, appears the following news item dated Drain, Oregon: "The tug Fearless, of Coos Bay, Captain James Hill, ran on the north spit at the Empqua River Tuesday night and soon went to pieces, not one of the crew or passengers escaping."
Rough Trip.—J. H. Bridges, owner of the Lloyd Hotel and other Coos Bay property, arrived here today from San Francisco. He came up on the Nann Smith and said it was one of the roughest trips he ever had. The vessel tossed so that he fell out of bed and he was informed that a lady passenger fell from her berth and sustained a broken nose.

Important Meeting.—At the regular meeting of the Episcopal Guild tomorrow afternoon in Guild Hall, Fourth and Market avenue, Mrs. Chas. Stauff will read a paper on "Playgrounds in America," prepared by Mrs. Henry Sengstacken. A large attendance is desired. The North Bend Episcopal Guild Ladies are to be guests. Mesdames Harry Namburg, Herbert Lockhart and A. C. Vestal are to be the hostesses.

No Chautauqua.—Because the passenger rates between Mapleton and Coos Bay are high and because of the time taken in transit, J. R. Ellison, of the Ellison-White Chautauqua Company, wrote the Chamber of Commerce this morning that it will be impossible for them this year to figure on bringing their attractions here. The company is interested in giving chautauquas over the entire northwest and had figured on establishing a small circuit on Coos Bay. Mr. Ellison expressed his belief that this can be accomplished as soon as the railroad is opened.

McArthur Coning.—C. N. McArthur, recently elected to Congress from the Portland district to succeed A. W. Laffer, will be on the Bay next week. He is coming on private business, but while here will look into Coos Bay affairs so that he will be familiar with them when he begins his duties in Congress. Mr. McArthur was long in the Oregon legislature, where he was one of the most influential members, and is generally known as "Pat." He has many warm friends on Coos Bay and it is likely that a reception or smoker will be tendered at the Millcoma Club in his honor.

Wed Today.—Frod Larson, a well known Marshfield young man, and Mrs. May Green, daughter of Mrs. Craig of South Marshfield, were to be married in Coquille this afternoon. Mrs. Green has been visiting at Coquille and Myrtle Point and Mr. Larson left for Coquille this morning. They are expected to return here this evening and will reside on Roseburg, where he will work for a while, and from there will go to Coos Bay. He expects to go from there to Klamath Falls. He will be gone several months.—Eugene Register.

Receive Cheese Vat.—A large tin cheese vat was sent up on the Alert this afternoon consigned to the Loon Lake cheese factory. This concern this winter is doing a very thriving business.

Returns to Visit.—Harry Waters, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Waters, left this afternoon for a visit with his parents on North Inlet after a long absence. He is a member of the life saving station crew at the mouth of the Columbia River.

Merced Here.—Arno Merced of the C. A. Smith company has returned to Coos Bay from Oakland, where he has been spending some time. C. A. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Smith are now in Chicago.

Pays Insurance.—The Roseburg News announces that the New York Life Insurance company has paid W. H. Jewett $2000 life insurance on a policy on the life of his father, W. F. Jewett, which was taken out eighteen years ago. W. F. Jewett carried considerable other life insurance.

Mrs. Green has been visiting at Coquille and Myrtle Point and Mr. Larson left for Coquille this morning. They are expected to return here this evening and will reside on Broadway. Mr. Larson is one of the owners of the dredge Oregon and is a son of Julius Larson and a brother of Mrs. W. H. Kennedy and Mrs. A. O. Rogers and Mrs. Nels Rasmussen of this city. The event was kept secret, but became known at noon today and a number of friends were planning to give them a big charivari tonight.

BLACK SAND MINING.

Samuel Archer, who is mining at Coos Head, recently took $83 out of a small quantity of cemented black sand, of which he has a four foot vein. To make sure that he got all the gold out of it, he sent the tailings, weighing about 50 pounds, to Goldsmith & Co., of Seattle, to put through their smelter and they returned him a check for $15.37 net. He now intends shipping them a ton of the black sand to see what it will produce.
Mr. McKenzie has also opened up a vein nearer the mouth of South Slough which assayed $26.00 per ton. A sample of this is being shown by Henry Sengstacken today.

HIGH SCHOOL DEBATE

CITY ELECTION IS TOMORROW

Tuesday Date for Choosing Three Councilmen and to Vote on Amendments

Pamphlets containing a copy of all measures referred by the Council to the people for their approval or rejection have been distributed to the voters of the city. With the annual city election on tomorrow, Council aspirants and their supporters are being into "camps" and it is expected that with the closing of the polls on Tuesday night that the races will be decided by small majorities.

There are to be elected three Councilmen, two of whom will serve for three years and one member for one year. Those who were nominated in the primaries of October 31 were J. F. Telander and Harry J. Kimball for the two year terms, and Carl Evertsen for the one year session.

On the Citizen's ticket George A. Baines and George E. Cook were nominated for the long terms and H. W. Painter for the short one.

Important Question.
There are five sections of Ordinance No. 682 of the city charter up for amendment by the people. In brief, the amendment would have the city recorder, in posting the notice of any street improvement or the changing of a street grade, specify exactly where the contemplated work is located and the kind or kinds of improvement being considered by the Council.

Within twenty days after the posting of this notice owners of two-thirds of the real property abutting or adjacent to the street considered may file a protest with the recorder and, except on the unanimous vote of the Council this will halt the improvement for at least six months.

Most important in the ordinance is the section, which if passed, will allow competitive bids upon different kinds of improvements. Thus it will be possible for the Council to consider all sides of the cost and efficiency question before ordering a street to be paved with a certain type of material.

No changes will be made in the voting places used in the primaries with the exception of Precinct 18 which has been moved for tomorrow from the O'Connell building at the corner of Second street and Market avenue to the Swedish Lutheran hall near the corners of Commercial avenue and Third street.

The polls will be open from 8 a. m. until 8 p. m. and the judges will immediately begin their counting after the latter hour and it is expected that the results will be known by about 10 o'clock. They may be obtained at the Times office. The total number of registered voters for this election is approximately 850.

SOCIALISTS PUT TICKET IN FIELD

North Bend Party Will Stand by Members in City Election of Next Week

At a meeting of the North Bend Socialists held Saturday evening in their meeting hall an entire ticket for the coming city election of next week was nominated. There will be six nominees in the field chosen from the gathering of about 20 members present at the meeting.

E. J. Coffelt secured the approbation of the party for Mayor; H. L. Sumner for City Recorder and Garfield Imhoff for City Treasurer. There were three members given nominations for the same number of council berths. Those selected to represent the Socialist party were L. O. Stroman, Nels H. Welling and Chris Miller.

The two Socialist nominees will furnish the only opposition that the present incumbents in the Mayor's, Recorder's and Treasurer's offices will have. At the caucus meeting of a week ago only one candidate was selected for each of these offices though there were two men placed on the ticket for each of the three council positions.

SURVEY ROAD FROM PLAT B TO EMPIRE

County Court May Order Highway Opened at Its Monthly Meeting Beginning Wednesday.

The survey of a road from Plat B, running over the hill and across Pony Slough to connect with the Empire road, the whole of which would be less than a mile in length, was completed Saturday afternoon by County Surveyor Gould, P. M. Hall-Lewis and R. L. Weekly. At the meeting of the county court on Wednesday it is possible that this stretch may be ordered opened, according to County Judge Hall. The building of this highway would be halted then until sufficient funds for the purpose are available.

Practically all of the business to come before the December session is in connection with the paying of county bills for the preceding month and matters of road business.

The annual meeting of the county judges and commissioners of the state will be held in Portland next week and this Judge Hall is planning on attending and immediately following there will be a state road meeting. It is at these sessions that questions regarding the construction of highways are taken up, the cost of work and views are exchanged as to the worth of various types of roadbuilding, and measures for the mutual benefit of the counties are framed for presentation to the state legislature.

NOBLE THEATER TO OPEN ON TUESDAY

First Performance in New Showhouse May Be a Matinee

Manager Lemanski announces that he will open the handsome new Noble theater on Central avenue next Tuesday, December 1. He hopes to be able to put on a matinee in the afternoon, but will have an evening performance there anyway.

He will close the old Royal on North Front street for the time being. He retains the lease on it and will leave all the fixtures and chairs there for special occasions, but he will take out the machines, etc.

Opening Bill.
The Marshfield public will have a chance to hear Madame De Witt, the dramatic soprano, in the rendition of her grand opera selections, at the opening of the Noble Theatre tomorrow. Madame De Witt is an attraction who has been advertised through the biggest cities of America and her coming to Coos Bay is a bit out of the ordinary.

With the disruption of regular Winter opera schedules because of the European war, Madame De Witt found a break in her coast tour that would allow her one week on Coos Bay. She was immediately asked to come and consented. Next week she will leave for the East to resume her appearance in grand opera for this Winter.

On their way from Seattle to San Francisco where they have an engagement, Burbank and Danforth were secured with their great musical act for this week in Marshfield. They are both musical specialists but in saying so it is not at all meant that they have specialized on one instrument. There are 10 included in their act with the violin and the slide trombone featured. Other instruments used are the herald trumpets, cornets, saxophones, wendophone and the milophone.

Picture & Framing Walker Studio

The Grand To-Night
