LOCAL BREVITIES

WEATHER FORECAST

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.) OREGON—Probably rain in west, rain or snow east, southerly winds.

LOCAL TEMPERATURE RECORD

For the 24 hours ending at 4:43 a. m., Dec. 4, by Benj. Ostlund, special government meteorologist: Maximum 44 Minimum 38 At 4:43 a. m. 39 Precipitation 1.48 Precipitation since Sept. 1, 1914 25.65 Precipitation same period last year 16.05 Wind: Southwest; cloudy and rainy.

Happy Wedded.—Before Justice of the Peace Penneck last evening, Miss Mabel Mason became the bride of William Schmitz, who is a cook in a local restaurant. The couple expect to make their home in the city.

ADD SICK—Mrs. Young, of Ten Mile, who has been at Mercy Hospital is reported recovering and will probably be able to return home soon.

Mrs. George Goddum was taken very ill last evening and a doctor was immediately called to her bedside.

Saved by Sickness—Later copies of the Eureka papers received here tell of the escape of Mrs. Flynn, formerly Mrs. Ira Chapman of Coos Bay, and her sister, Mrs. Quinn from the Hansel wreck. They had planned to sail with their sister, Mrs. Ahearn who lost her life, but were detained by the illness of Mrs. Flynn's baby and so were not on the wreck although their names were on the passenger list of the lost ship.

To Handle Case.—H. C. Freeman, a Portland newspaper man and former head of the Oregonian copy desk, arrived in yesterday on the Breakwater as a member of the Oregon Press Syndicate, for the purpose of covering the preliminary hearing on the kidnapping case in North Bend this afternoon and the later events for Pacific coast papers. He expects to be here for several days.

Will Fix Dock.—Capt. C. E. Edwards came down from Allegany this morning, having completed repairs on the Millcoma, and will now be busy putting in the sides to the Millcoma and Alert dock in the rear of the fire station. Though there is now a covering on the dock he expects to wait it all in and use part of it as a small warehouse.

Pheasants Return.—Four of the Chinese pheasants which were shipped here the other day and which are being kept near the Chandler until Dr. Dix can take them to his ranch near Myrtle Point, escaped yesterday. All of them returned later and were easily put back in the pen. F. A. Laise caught one that lighted on an awning.

May Buy Here.—Messrs. Johnson and Jones, two well known Canadian real estate operators are on the Bay for a short stay and are figuring on investing in this section. They have been looking over the holdings of the late Guy Barnum, conferring with Claude Nasburg and Col. Walrath, the administrators. They are also figuring with Warren Reed on some Reedsport property and will see him on his return to Reedsport next Tuesday. Mr. Jones' wife was taken ill at Roseburg and is in the hospital there. Mr. Johnson spent some time on the Bay last summer.

Not to Straighten Street.—That they will not straighten the jog in Commercial avenue is the opinion of the members of the city council in discussing the proposed change to take out the sharp turn where Seventh street jogs into Commercial, and where Charles Thom and his party fell into the fill with a machine two nights ago. The expense would necessarily come from the general fund and it was thought that with the possibility of within the next year filling the street to grade the cost should not be taken now.

Wants Delegation.—Capt. Maegenn is anxious to have a Coos Bay committee sent to Washington to urge the Coos Bay jetty project. He said that he did not confer with Major Morrow this trip because he wanted L. J. Simpson to also be present and Mr. Simpson did not come to Portland although he wired him repeatedly. Mr. Simpson believes that there is no use in doing anything now as he says that Major Morrow, the Senators and Congressmen are fully familiar with the needs of the Bay and the situation and that a committee could do little.

COOS AND CURRY DOCTORS MEET

Society Elects Officers and Passes Resolutions Against "Fake" Practitioners

The annual meeting of the Coos and Curry County Medical Association was held last evening and officers for the coming year elected and resolutions were passed favoring the prosecution of illegal practitioners in this county, the fact being brought forcibly to the minds of the doctors by the occurrence that happened here two weeks ago when an alleged "fake" doctor skipped with many heavy fees.

Those who were present at the meeting last evening were: Dr. L. G. Johnson, Myrtle Point; Dr. L. K. Strate, North Bend, and from this city, Dr. Dix, Dr. E. E. Straw, Dr. A. L. Houseworth and Dr. Everett Mingus.

For president of the society, Dr. Straw was selected, Dr. Strate, of North Bend, was made vice-president and Dr. Mingus, secretary and treasurer, and also was selected as delegate from the society at the state convention to be held in Portland in 1915, the exact date not yet being determined.

To thank the members of the Progress Club and the mothers, of Marshfield who appeared before the City Council at the outbreak of what promised to be a scarlet fever epidemic here, the society passed a resolution, a copy of which will be sent to the club. The doctors expressed their opinion, that it was the efficient work of the women of the city that stamped out the epidemic at the state.

And also realizing the importance of enforcing health laws the individual members of the society promised to do their best in seeing that not only the city, but the county and state health laws are rigidly enforced at all times. The next meeting of the society will be held the first Thursday in February.

PAYS FINE OF $45 FOR SHYLOCK ACT

Greek Cook Has Trial for Slashing "Big Steve" in Back With Knife

For attempting to bash "Big Steve's" back into ribbons, Z. T. Pangares, a Greek cook, plead guilty in Police Judge Butler's court late yesterday afternoon and was fined $45 for his pains. This, Pangares paid out of a bulky roll, his savings for a period of two or three months, during which time he has cooked in a Myrtle Point camp.

In his bed at a local rooming house lies "Big Steve." Unable to get out to file a complaint of assault with a dangerous weapon, plea of assault and battery was placed against his assailant and the trial was heard in the police court instead of before Judge Penneck.

Pangares made no defense for the act of Wednesday night when he cut a knife blade six inches into the back of the Greek coffee house proprietor after a quarrel over a 50-cent bill. Several years ago the cook was a saloon keeper in Portland but since coming to Coos Bay has been engaged principally in the camps as cook.

POLICE JUDGE BUTLER HOLDS PLEASANT MORNING SESSION

Dispenses Justice in "Gobs"—Hyde Thought He Was Dr. Jekyll and Gets in Trouble!

Police Judge Butler was in the midst of his glory this morning. From behind his desk he surveyed a group, not just a group of one, but a group of say three or four. First came Frank Hyde. He was drunk last night, but no so drunk so he was hungry. At the Palace Hotel Hyde ordered a feed and when he was through, though he had $31.50 in his pockets he refused to pay. Maybe Hyde thought he was Dr. Jekyll and being another person, wouldn't pay, but the police told him he had another think coming.

Bill Brown later appeared before Justice Penneck and there was sentenced to 10 days in the county jail for stealing the blankets from Hyde and thereby exposing him to the chill winds that blow about the Bay.

Directly behind Hyde came Bill Brown, the erstwhile pal of O'Brien, now languishing in jail at Coquille for robbing the Bohemian Bar. Brown was charged with stealing a roll of blankets. He was severely reprimanded by the Judge and brought back the coverings. "Australasian Jack" Shedd, back again after a long sojourn in parts unknown, celebrated his arrival and woke up this morning in jail. He paid his assessment and so did Tom Costello, another prominent offender.

Now is the time to arrange for Christmas photographs. Telephone Sta. 354a Studio, 24-J, for appointments.
