

SUPREME COURT CHANGES OPINION

Reinstate Attorney Graves Following Personal Talk With Court

R. O. Graves was completely reinstated by a decision of the Supreme Court handed down this morning. The attorney, suspended a week ago because of participation with almost every business man of the city in the I. W. W. "ousting" of June 25, 1913, received a telegram immediately from J. C. Moreland, clerk of the court in Salem.

This decision follows an argument in person made before a special convened session of the Supreme Court last Saturday afternoon at the state capitol. Immediately on receipt of the news Mr. Graves left on the Eder for Portland and went at once to Salem, where he arrived Friday, only to find that the court had adjourned until Monday.

Not to be deterred, he saw each member personally and Chief Justice McBride declared the attorney would be heard. For nearly three-quarters of an hour Mr. Graves talked with the court, told them the extenuating circumstances leading up to the trouble here; the attitude of the entire populace and there declared his action was no more, no less, than that of 600 other business men of the city. The court then told him they would hand down the decision today. The telegram at noon was the result.

"It makes me feel pretty good," declared Mr. Graves as he read the message. "I knew the decision had not hurt me in any way except to hurt my own feelings; I didn't want that decision hanging over me. Now that it is off I feel a whole lot different."

The suspension of the Supreme Court in the first place was nothing more than suspension for a period of three months from practice before the Supreme Court.

NEWS OF NORTH BEND

Charter amendments to be submitted to the voters in North Bend tomorrow call for practically a reconstruction of the entire charter with additions and corrections over the old laws constructed years ago and many of which have become somewhat archaic and out of date, unamended to the growing needs of the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. Frank Black and Mrs. Arthur Selander of Portland and Miss Lois and Miss Thelma Black visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Black.

Mrs. Olivia Edman was a visitor in North Bend.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Simpson spent Sunday in Marshfield.

The W. C. T. U. will give a social Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Filtcroft in Bangor.

The Presbyterian Ladies' Aid will hold a social meeting at the church on Wednesday afternoon.

CHILDREN'S TEETH

School Pupils Should be Urged to Exercise Care for Them.

A prominent Marshfield citizen calls the attention of The Times to a news item in a paper from another city in which particulars are given of a dental lecture delivered to school children. Illustrations showing the structure of the teeth and the working of decay on same. Before being dismissed each pupil was given a pledge card, i. e.: "Taktus, Good teeth—Good health, as my motto, I promise to care for my teeth daily." If we all will take the same motto there will be no need of a dentist growing rich at our expense.

This gentleman says the matter is one of great importance and he would like to see similar action taken by the Marshfield school.

17 CLUBS GATHER TO DISCUSS CLUB

Care of Unemployed During Winter Months is Problem; No Definite Action

Seventeen clubs, churches and organizations of the city were represented at a meeting held yesterday afternoon in the office of W. A. Reid to discuss the plans for a Workingmen's Club. Suggestions extremely pertinent were made, and another step has been taken toward the ultimate establishment of a club that in some way will take care of the man in search of work.

Immediate care of the situation was left in the hands of the service committee of the Fellowship Club. This meeting came as the direct result of a meeting held two weeks ago at which time an appeal was made to every club and organization in the city to express their opinion on the subject and to demonstrate their interest in the outlined program by the promise of a certain sum of money to be paid down now and a monthly payment through the winter.

Mrs. I. S. Kaufman declared the Progress Club would donate $5. Mrs. Winchester said the Christian Science Church would give $10 at once. Mrs. Marsh, on behalf of the W. C. T. U. promised a donation and likewise did Mrs. McCarty for the Coos Bay Women's Club. The A. N. W., through Mrs. Carl Evertsen promised their willingness to help financially and John W. Motley, of the Chamber of Commerce, declared that body would take up the proposition at their next meeting.

Perhaps of greatest importance in the meeting was the proposition advanced by Mr. Elmsinger of the Labor Council, who declared that he stands ready to run a coffee club providing the club would be first equipped and the proposition made by a local restaurant man, his name was not given, who has promised, if the organizations will furnish a reading room, to pay the rent and see that the place is well taken care of.

No action was taken on either of these plans. R. M. Jennings, of the Fellowship Club, believed in the immediate building of a $200 building to be equipped with plain bunks for sleeping quarters during the winter nights. Meal tickets, he declared, could be given out, not more than two to any one man, when they were necessary and in this manner could be given a lift to men out of work and unable to get it during the slack winter months.

Those who were present at the meeting and the organizations they represented were: Dr. Leslie, Baptist Church; I. S. Kaufman, Methodist Church; H. W. Painter, Christian Church; H. G. Kirkpatrick, local of the American Federation of Musicians; R. W. Fenton, director of the Coos Bay band; Carl Evertsen, Blanco Lodge of Masons; A. T. Haines, Presbyterian Church; R. M. Jennings, Fellowship Club; J. W. Motley, Chamber of Commerce; Mr. Elmsinger, Labor Council; D. L. Reed, A. O. U. W.; Mrs. Carl Evertsen, A. and W.; Mrs. Erwin, A. N. W.; Mrs. McCarty, Coos Bay Women's Club; Mrs. Winchester, Christian Science Church; Mrs. Marsh, W. C. T. U. and J. T. Brand of the Civic Club.

The meeting adjourned to meet again at the call of the president, W. A. Reid.

WEDDING AT LODGE
Coquille Woodmen Surprised—Well Known Couple Marry.

COQUILLE, Ore., Dec. 5.—During this winter, Beaver Camp No. 10,559, Modern Woodmen of America, has initiated several unique social affairs in this place thus far, and the last one presented set a pace that it will be difficult for any other order to emulate at once, for the evening's entertainment was capped with a genuine wedding ceremony in the hall of the order here.

The bride was Miss Viola Nicholas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Nicholas of Myrtle Point, and the groom Clarence Cunningham, of this city, who was born and raised here and is an employe of the Smith-Powers Logging Company. The wedding came as a complete surprise to all of the Woodmen and their guests. Delores Wilson acted as bridesmaid and Lloyd Irvine was groomsmen.

The Woodmen presented Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham with a beautiful 45-piece dinner set and a flashlight picture of the merry party was taken. The couple will reside in Myrtle Point.

The committee which arranged this successful affair consisted of H. B. Tozier, Lloyd Irvine, Ellis Kelley, C. A. Walker and N. C. Kelley, all of this city.

Quia in 1913, exported 322,121 bales of leaf tobacco.

Heavy Losses of Life When British Steamer Goes Ashore at Barrows, Eng., in Storm

BARROW, England, Dec. 8.—The British steamer Vedra, from Port Arthur, Texas, with a cargo of gasoline, went ashore near here this morning in a heavy gale. The cargo was ignited and of the crew of 36 only two were saved, and they were severely burned.

WILSON SAYS NO LARGE ARMY

Stands for Peace.

"Allow me to speak with great plainness and directness upon this great matter and to avow my convictions with deep earnestness. I have tried to know what America is; what her people think, what they are, what they most cherish and hold dear. I hope that some of their finer passions are in my own heart—some of the great conceptions and desires which gave birth to this government and which have made the voice of this people a voice of peace and hope and liberty among the peoples of the world, and that, speaking my own thoughts, I shall, at least in part, speak theirs also, however faintly and inadequately, upon this vital matter.

America as Arbitrator.

"We are at peace with all the world. No one who speaks counsel based on fact or drawn from a just and candid interpretation of realities can say that there is reason to fear that from any quarter our independence or the integrity of our territory is threatened. Dread of the power of any other nation we are incapable of. We are not jealous of rivalry in the fields of commerce or of any other peaceful achievement. We mean to live our lives as we will; but we mean also to live. We are, indeed, a true friend to all the nations of the world, because we threaten none, covet the possessions of none, desire the overthrow of none.

Our friendship can be accepted and is accepted without reservation, because it is offered in a spirit and for a purpose which no one need ever question or suspect. Therein lies our greatness. We are the champions of peace and of concord. And we should be very jealous of this far distinction which we have sought to earn. Just now we should be particularly jealous of it, because it is our dearest present hope that this character and reputation may presently, in God's providence, bring us an opportunity such as has been seldom vouchsafed any nation, the opportunity to counsel and obtain peace in the world and reconciliation and a healing settlement of many a matter that has cooled and interrupted the friendship of nations. This is the time above all others when we should wish and resolve to keep our strength by self possession, our influence by preserving our ancient principles of action.

No Large Army Here.

"From the first we have had a clear and settled policy with regard to military establishments. We never have had, and while we retain our present principles and ideals, we never shall have, a large standing army. If asked, are you ready to defend yourselves? we reply, most assuredly to the utmost; and yet we shall not turn America into a military camp. We will not ask our young men to spend the best years of their lives making soldiers of themselves.

ARRESTED TWICE ON SAME OFFENSE

Greek, Who Knifed 'Big Steve' Fails to Solve Intricacies of the Law

Subpoenas were served today on four witnesses of the cutting affair in a Front street Greek coffee house five days ago when John Pangaris attacked "Big Steve" George, the proprietor, and tomorrow the entire affair will be taken directly before the grand jury at Coquille. Pangaris is charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

Having appeared in the police court, where he paid a fine of $45 on an assault and battery charge, Pangaris thought the matter settled. A friend, John Allen, put up the money for the fine on the strength of Pangaris' assertion that he would repay the money out of a $100 postal order. Yesterday he collected the money and attempted to get away without reimbursing Allen. Pangaris was found drunk by the officers in a North Bend saloon, but with only $33 in his possession. This Allen laid claim to, but he was not allowed to collect.

Because of the treachery of Pangaris, "Big Steve" immediately came and preferred the charge in the justice court. At the time of his arrest Pangaris threatened to knife Chief of Police Anderson.

PACIFIC COAST HIT BY STORM

Entire Country Hit by Storm Which Started Along Atlantic—Damage Heavy

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.) WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 8.—The northeast gale which began here days was whisking out to sea today, ward off Cape Cod today, leaving a storm of marked intensity to off the north Pacific coast. Overcast, unsettled weather prevails over practically all parts of the country.

Now they're trying to excuse the manish type of modern young boys by saying, "Oh, well, girls were the cause."
