

A Christmas Gift

There's not a creature living
 Who hath not some gift worth while
 If he look into that chest
 Labeled "Everybody's Best"
 He will find in casket there
 Many treasures rich and rare,
 Maybe just a loving word,
 Made to fit a heart that's stirred
 With deep grief or loneliness,
 Or a hand clasp that will bless
 Or perhaps that diadem
 We call "smile," a priceless gem
 Which can send a radiant glow,
 Off dispelling human woe,
 If there love he cannot find,
 Smiles nor words nor wishes kind,
 If in his "chest" such dearth be,
 Such unheard of poverty,
 Let him cut this little screed
 From the page he now doth read,
 Give this verse that I have writ
 And my love along with it!

WHEN SANTA CLAUS CRIES "FORWARD MARCH!"

WHEN Santa Claus cries "Forward march!"
 And smiles his Christmas smile
 The dollies promptly form a line
 And then in single file

THEY march to Santa's reindeer shed,
 Too serious far for play,
 Where they break ranks and get aboard
 The good old saint's big sleigh.

HIS line of march is o'er the land,
 And when the dollies part
 Each marches in and camps right out
 In some wee girl's big heart!
