COQUILLE MILL SOLD
E. E. Johnson Bids in Property at Receiver's Sale.
The property of the Copulle Mill & Mercantile Company was sold by Receiver W. D. Newton and bid in by E. E. Johnson, the Johnson Lumber Co. holding one of the two mortgages on the property under which it was sold. The amount paid was $12,300; but Mr. Johnson informs us that existing claims against the property that must be taken care of will bring the amount of the investment up to $14,000.
Mr. Johnson has operated the mill under lease for some months past, and will continue to run it to meet local demand for the present. As soon as the condition of the lumber market will warrant he informs us that he expects to increase his output and manufacture for the shipping trade. Copulle people are glad to see this property in Mr. Johnson's hands and are satisfied that it is a good thing for the city that he become owner.

SUES GARDINER MILL.
W. C. Woodman Wants $10,000 Damages for Personal Injuries in Accident.
PORTLAND, Or., Dec. 14.—W. C. Woodman filed suit for $10,000 against the Gardiner Mill Company in the United States District Court yesterday on the charge that one of the sawmill dogs had damaged him to that extent. "Dogs" as the timberjack knows them, are sharp steel hooks that hold the log firm on the carriage while they are being sawed. Woodman was dogsetter for the mill at Gardiner, Oregon. He declares that March 6, while engaged in his work, another of the mill employees threw a log against the carriage in such a way that the dog handle flew up and smashed him on the jaw. The suit was the result.

WANT OREGON NAVAL MILITIA TO PARADE ON THE OREGON
National Naval Militia Association Seeks Special Appropriation For Purpose.
To have the Naval Militia of the United States take the trip through the Panama Canal this summer aboard the ships of the Navy is one of the main efforts of the National Naval Militia Association. With the battleship Oregon heading the fleet, the Oregon militiamen are extremely anxious that they be given a chance to make the trip. A letter asking that the Chamber of Commerce here aid in inducing the Congressmen and Senators from this state in getting a special appropriation, was received today.
"The battleship Oregon," says the letter, "is known and honored by every citizen of our country. It will head the procession through the Canal and be the first ship in San Francisco; hundreds of men will be wearing her name. If our naval militiamen can be aboard, so much the better advertisement for the state."
After the trip the state committee wishes that the Oregon will be brought to Portland in time for the Rose Carnival.

EDITOR AND HIS PAPER ARE TOWN'S BEST ASSET
Head of Department of Journalism Gives New Reasons Why Ads Are Merchant's Best Investment.
EUGENE, Dec. 14.—Advertising in the country paper is the best investment a country merchant can make," says Eric W. Allen, head of the department of journalism at the State University.
"The merchant's advertising should be news. It should tell something very definite about what the store offers, and the copy should be changed frequently. The advertising columns should be made as interesting as any other part of the paper, and the merchants' ad should appear with the same regularity as the editor's news. An advertisement in the local paper is by no means charity. It brings big returns: first, in direct business when it is handled with a little common sense; second in building up the community.
"The paper should be made as important an agent of a town's improvement and prosperity as the church or school. The great problem of the small town in these days of centralization and parcel post is to make itself a good place to live in and a pleasant place for the country people to come to. If it doesn't do that it is doomed to disappear.
"So no town should be so shortsighted as not to give every encouragement to the man who is trying to make a newspaper there. He is in one sense the most important citizen. He can do more for the town both at home and abroad than any other one man. He should be backed up in his effort to do business at business prices and in a business way. It would be just as sensible for you to let your schools run down, or your stores run down, or your churches run down, as to let your newspaper run down."

BURKHOLDER HONORED.

ELKTON, Or., Dec. 14.—Oscar Warner, who had operated an ax handle factory on the Kent ranch, near Elkton, was drowned in the Umpqua river. Warner had no known relatives in this section of the state. Warner and another man were in a boat, and at the time of the drowning were working on the construction or repairing of a boom in the river. In some unexplained manner the boat capsized and both men were thrown into the chilling waters. The tragedy happened near the mouth of Elk Creek. The body was quickly recovered. Mr. Warner was a single man and was about 45 years of age. He had operated a small factory near Elkton for a number of years.

WANTS TO DROP THE PROSECUTION

Gov. West's Letter to Supreme Court in R. O. Graves' Case Indicates Feeling

The Salem Capital Journal of last Tuesday, prior to the Oregon Supreme Court reinstating R. O. Graves, printed the following, which will be of interest here:
Feeling that ends of law and justice have been served in securing the conviction of R. O. Graves and his associates, of violation of the law against the enforcement of mob rule in the case of the mobbing and deportation of three members of the I. W. W. organization from Marshfield last year, as a result of which Mr. Graves, a prominent attorney of Marshfield, was last week suspended from the practice of law in the state courts for a period of three months, Governor West joined in the movement to secure a suspension of sentence of temporary disbarment imposed upon Mr. Graves and wrote a letter to the supreme court recommending Mr. Graves' restoration to the right of practice.
At the time of the mobbing of the three members of the I. W. W. by the leading citizens of Marshfield and their forcible deportation from the city and Coos county by loading them upon a gasoline launch and taking them across the Bay with the admonition never to return to Coos county, an appeal was made to Governor West by the I. W. W.'s for protection of their rights as citizens and Governor West interceded in their behalf acting under the belief that there was an element of persecution and vindictiveness on the part of the citizens of Marshfield in thus taking the law into their hands.
It has since developed, upon investigation, that the three I. W. W.'s were the principal agitators in a strike movement among the workers in the lumbering industry and that they deserved the treatment they received, and perhaps worse, for the unlawful methods adopted by the I. W. W.'s in trying to promote dissatisfaction among the workmen and to bring the employers to terms. The full text of Governor West's letter to the supreme court, recommending a remission of the balance of Mr. Graves' punishment, follows:
"Hon. J. C. Moreland,
Clerk of the Supreme Court,
Salem, Oregon.
"Dear Sir: Referring to the recent disbarment of Attorney R. O. Graves on account of his participation in the Coos county deportation affair, I wish to say that I believe the decision of the court has already had its effect and has taught its lessons to both Mr. Graves and his associates.
"In view of this, the circumstances which led up to the deportation, and the past good record of Mr. Graves, I ask that your Honorable Court at this time be kind enough to remit the balance of the punishment imposed.
"Christmas and the New Year are at hand and this offers a splendid opportunity for the judicial and executive departments to join hands and through the performance of this kind act close an incident which while unfortunate has taught us all a wholesome lesson.
"Respectfully yours,
"Oswald West, Governor."

many of the claims they contracted:
"According to an expense statement filed with Secretary of State Olcott by A. H. Greenburg, secretary of the Oregon Brewer's & Wholesale Liquor Dealers' Association, that body expended $33,478.62 in the recent general election to defeat the constitutional amendment for state-wide prohibition.
"The statement shows that $35,000 was turned over by the association for campaign purposes; that $4501.36 was expended for office expenses, including salaries; $3013.29 for printing; $209 for office rent; $2675.94 for newspaper advertising; $211.61 for expressage on literature; $22,510.86 for speakers and field men's salaries, and $865.61 for literature and stamps, leaving a balance of $1521.38."

SMALLPOX AT ROSEBURG
Conductor Afflicted With Disease While Running Train.
ROSEBURG, Or., Dec. 14.—Conductor Shearer, who was in charge of train No. 14, from the South, was placed in charge of the county Health Officer following his arrival here, on account of having smallpox. It is said he broke out with the malady while on the train, and at the station here he was met by local physicians who determined it to be smallpox.
By order of Judge Hamilton, J. Jones, of Clatsop, has been excused from serving as a juror at the December term of Circuit Court. Mr. Jones is said to have smallpox. Another juror was excused at Youcalla for the same reason.

REFUND TAX PENALTIES
It was ordered by the County Court that Treasurer Dimmick take credit for and refund the money for all penalties paid on the first half of taxes for the year 1913. These penalties were collected before the courts decided that half payments could still be legally made under the new tax law.—Coquille Sentinel.
