BORN.

MOREY—At Mercy Hospital, North Bend, Monday, Dec. 14, to Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Morey, a daughter. Mother and child are doing well, and the proud father, who is a member of the mechanical force of The Times, thinks he has received the finest gift ever given to man since Christmas was invented. He maintains that the little lady can already say "daddy," and has told him she wants a doll for Christmas.

Give Reading—At the meeting of the Marshfield Episcopal Guild this afternoon Miss Evelyn Anderson will read Henry Van Dyck's famous Christmas story.

Meet Tonight—There will be a meeting of the Anglican Young People's Association in Guild Hall this evening at 7:30. All members are asked to be present.

Had Good Trip—Bert C. Fricke, of the Paraso, reported that they had about thirty-five passengers in from Portland yesterday and had a fine trip down the coast. They sailed today for San Francisco.

Son Christened—The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Chandler was christened Sunday at the Marshfield Episcopal Church, the Rev. R. E. Browning officiating. Benjamin Robert Chandler, Jr., was the name conferred on him and Judge

Coke and the parents were the sponsors.

To Detain Prisoner—Judge Coke in the Circuit Court yesterday afternoon appointed W. A. Ackerman as attorney to defend a man by the name of Cummins who is in the county jail charged with forgery and with obtaining money under false pretenses on complaints filed by William Schroek and John Volz of North Bend.

Plans Done—Secretary Smith, of the North Bend Chamber of Commerce, was here yesterday and stated that Architect Tourtelot, of the new Simpson Hotel, had written that he had practically completed a revision of the plans and would forward them soon. Mr. and Mrs. Hammel are planning to leave soon for California for a short stay.

Estimates Damages—Carl Evensen, proprietor of the Coos Bay bakery which caught fire Friday night, has estimated the damage done to his business at $125. This includes Christmas cakes that were lost in the storeroom, being ruined by water, many loaves of bread that were ready for the oven when the fire broke out and the damage to the building about the big oven. This loss is covered by insurance.

School Children's Display—A display of the art work of the school children of the grades will be held in the Owl Drug Store on Central Avenue Thursday and Friday afternoons and evenings from 2:30 until 9 o'clock, being placed there under the supervision of Miss Volz, art director of the city schools. A sale of the book plates and other pieces of art made by the children in their work will be held at this time.

Build Houses—Manager Werulch, of the North Bend Manufacturing Company, is figuring on starting the construction of "ready-to-put-together" houses. The plan to have every part of the house cut and ready to fit together so that an ordinary workman can construct it in a few days. In this way, all waste will be eliminated. He plans to have four types of houses ranging in price from $225 to $750 and make terms on them.

Auto Hits Building—When the brakes on Ray Martin's machine being driven by Richard Behr at 2:30 this morning failed to hold on the dock at the foot of Central Avenue, the driver, to save himself and two companions from slipping off the edge into the water, turned the machine into the building of the Farmers' Exchange, breaking down the door. The machine was immediately backed away with only a slight bend of the fender showing and today the slight damage was repaired.

Machine Wrecks Bicycle—Ellis Grant, a messenger boy of the Western Union, with Arthur Johnson riding on the cross bar, came down Market Avenue at eight o'clock last evening and at the corner of Front Street crashed into the automobile driven by Lynn Lambeth, who was going south. Both boys were thrown to the pavement and the bicycle was wrecked. They declared Lambeth was driving too fast. Lambeth in turn states that the boys were riding two on one bicycle and failed to notice him until too late.

Re-rate Insurance—To re-rate the fire insurance within the city of Marshfield, M. R. Colwell and L. N. Brainerd, of the Underwriters' Equitable Rating Association, are here investigating. The fact that Marshfield now possesses a new auto fire truck, they say, will have some effect in reducing the rates. This is the first re-rating of the city for several years. In September of 1913 the last book was published with the reports and these were gained from written statements and without the presence of the underwriters.

Went Under Assumed Names—Constable Cox, delving back into the records of the steamship Elder today found out that on October a Mr. and Mrs. William R. Young and daughter left on the Elder for Portland. The couple were arrested but a few days ago at a little town in northern Oregon on the charge of adultery preferred by the husband of the woman, a man by the name of Quigley, who testifies that his wife eloped with Young. They were all brought back and placed in the Coquille jail with their trial pending. The information found today was asked for by Sheriff Gage.

Harry to Retire—Neva Harry, who has been road supervisor of the Brewster district on the old Coos Bay Wagon Road for about 20 years, and who has been one of the most efficient road builders the county has ever had, has decided to retire. Mr. Harry had the reputation of accomplishing better results and more for the money than any other man in the county and in addition to the approval of the County Court, he was warmly complimented by those who traversed the road. F. A. Baker, a well-known resident of the Dora section, has a petition out for the appointment and has the approval of Mr. Harry, so that he is practically certain of getting the place.
