BORN

ECKHOFF—To Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Eckhoff at their home in North Bend, Tuesday, December 15, an 8 1/2-pound daughter. Everybody, including father, is doing fine.

Child Is Buried.—The little baby of Mr. and Mrs. John Andrews of this city was buried yesterday afternoon. The child was but a few days old.

Girls Cook.—The girls of the Loyal League, recently organized at the Marshfield Presbyterian Church, have arranged to hold a pie sale at the church Saturday.

Have New Office.—R. Von Shipman, owner of Budzien Park, is moving his office from Front street onto Broadway into the office near the corner of Anderson avenue.

Cut Cedar.—Fred Nelson and F. J. Bingham are planning to open a camp on South Inlet soon to cut the white cedar off 160 acres. They plan to saw it at a small mill at the excelsior factory.

Greek Meets Greek.—Gust Kremdes, a Greek, he started suit against George Pet, another Greek who is an employee of the dredge Seattle, claiming that he loaned the latter $21.75 which Pet now refuses to repay.

Move to New Location.—The Lewis Confectionery yesterday completed moving into their new home in the building formerly occupied by The Times. The lower floor of the structure has been completely remodeled and divided into two store rooms, both of which have built-in glass fronts.

Served With Bench Warrant.—A bench warrant was served on Joseph Schott of the Smith mill today and he went to Coquille on the afternoon train with Constable Cox, who declares that a subpoena was issued on Scott some time ago for giving liquor to a minor and that he failed to answer the grand jury summons.

Gets Drunk; Gets Job.—There was a surprise in store for Bill Durkee when he woke up in jail this morning, without a cent of cash, and found that a broom had been provided for his special benefit and with it he was able to raise a husky appetite for breakfast. This is a new procedure and in the past men have often been let out unable to pay their fines; this is a system of working it out.

Takes First License.—Not to be caught off his guard and "plighted" for having no automobile license at the first of the year, C. A. Anderson is the first machine owner to apply through Justice Pennock for a state license. He has taken out his application blank, which will be forwarded to the secretary of state. On December 31 all licenses on machines in this state will become void.

Funeral on Friday.—The funeral of John Golden, who was found dead yesterday, will be held next Friday morning at 9 o'clock, the services being conducted by the Rev. Father McDevitt. The remains may be seen between 8 o'clock and 8:30 of that morning at the Wilson Undertaking Chapel. A sister, Mrs. J. A. Kendon with her husband and daughter, Miss Rose Kennedy.

Mayor Couldn't Vote.—That Mayor Robert Kitson, mayor of Eastside, could not vote at the city election held there two weeks ago is the story being told on the high official of the city. It seems that Mr. Kitson, though he came to this country in 1903, failed to take out his first citizenship papers until two years ago. According to the alien voting law passed at the November state election those who have not their final papers are not allowed to vote. Mr. Kitson is now seeking to find out whether or not he will have to wait for three years before being able to cast his vote.

Goes to Last Resting Place.—Mrs. Annie Wulf, one of the old and respected pioneers of Coos Bay, was buried this afternoon from the new home in Ferndale into which she was moved on the day of her death. The services were conducted by the Rev. Father McDevitt. Many friends gathered to pay their last respects to the woman whom they all had known for so long.

Joanson Is Wanted.—Carl Frederick Vilhelm Jonsson is being anxiously sought for, according to a letter received today by Judge Pennock from J. C. Addie, secretary for charities of the Portland Salvation Army. The reason given is because of the death of the man's mother. Jonsson was last heard from in 1909 in Marshfield where he had Post Office box No. 712.

Visits Agents.—Mr. Curtis of Louisville, Ky., manufacturer of the combination table and desk furniture which Messrs. Brewer and Dunlap are representing in this section, arrived here today to confer with them. He was pleased with the business they have been doing in this section and urged them to secure an office in a prominent location. He will spend a few days here.

Finishes Rihs.—Rihs sawed from heavy crooks of white cedar have been finished at the Porter Mill for the new boat of William Bjorqvist and have just been taken back to Catching Inlet on the Wah-ta-Waso, where Robert Matson has completed his boat-building ship yard and will aid Bjorqvist in the construction of a 55-foot boat for the carrying of the school children to the school at the forks of Coos River.

Sues for $500.—William Wiegand, a saloon man of Copperfield who was put out of business when the saloons of that place were closed by Miss Fern Hobbs, the secretary of Governor West, and who is now suing Gov. West in the courts of Baker for heavy damages, has started suit against the Monumental and Building Works, owned by H. H. Wilson and wife, claiming that he loaned the partnership $500. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson reply that the money was spent for a part interest in the works. They are being represented here by C. I. Reigard.

To Get Jetty.—Capt. Macgenn stated today that L. J. Simpson would accompany him to Portland Saturday to confer with Major Morrow relative to the jetty project. Capt. Macgenn discussed it again with Major Morrow this week and pointed out that if the old jetty was not rebuilt soon and the balance of it allowed to crumble away, navigation of the bar would become much more dangerous. He said that the old jetty is a better aid than any buoy or anything else and with that gone there will be nothing to designate the safe portion of the channel and to prevent the bar breaking clear across.

Mrs. W. F. Harmon was brought home last evening from Mercy Hospital, where she recently underwent an operation. She is getting along nicely, but it will be some time before she completely recovers.
