Meet Today.

The Swedish Lutheran Aid Society this afternoon is holding its annual meeting. Mrs. Olivia Edman will be hostess in the church.

Rents Ranch.

J. L. Stevens has rented the John Blatt ranch on Coos River and will take entire charge of the place. Mr. Stevens is an old tenant of Mr. Blatt's and will be aided by his younger brother in working the farm.

Leases Ranch.

Jas. L. Stevens, a well known South Coos River rancher who is now residing on the McKnight ranch at Camp One, has also leased the J. A. Blatt ranch, across the river, for the ensuing year. His brother, Stanton Stevens, will be placed in charge of the Blatt place by him.

Were Overloaded.

Staggering beneath a load that was too much for human beings, Jake Tovestrom and Frank Brady were apprehended last evening by the officers and placed in jail, there to wait in sympathy with each other. Both men having money, they were turned loose this morning after $5 had been deducted from each of the two rolls, to tramp their ways in peace.

Hold Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce will be held Friday evening at 8 p. m. At that time the officers for the ensuing year will be elected and reports will be made by the outgoing officers and plans for the coming year will be thoroughly discussed. It is strongly urged that every member of the Chamber be present at the meeting.

Rumor Wedding.

Iris Elrod, a well known Marshfield young man who is now manager of the Woolen Mill store at North Bend, went to Coquille today for a few days' stay. Rumor has it that Cupid is drawing him there and that a well known Coquille young woman is to become his bride. However, he kept his intentions secret from his friends and they have only their suspicions.

No Trouble There.

Wallace Carpenter, a Bandon young man, returned here yesterday to locate. The other day his father sent for him to come back and not knowing just where to find him, asked the Marshfield police to notify him and they did. Carpenter says that his father simply desired him in connection with a business deal. He is over 21 years old, he says, and is embarking for himself.

Newspaper Man Here.

George F. Nellist, formerly managing editor of the Eureka Herald, with his wife, arrived yesterday afternoon from Portland on the Elder and left out at noon for Eureka where he goes on a visit. Mr. Nellist for the past year has been at work throughout the Northwest in getting out special editions for various newspapers. He has contracts in Washington and expects to return there some time later.

Cuts Now Ready.

Cuts for the printing on the back of business stationery to boost for Coos Bay were received this morning at the Chamber of Commerce. There are two of them and they will be loaned to any business man who has stationery to be printed and may be brought to the newspaper office where the work is done. Roy Lawrence made the drawing for the cut, which is extremely artistic. It says: "The only community in the United States into which a new railroad is being built is Coos Bay."

Why? Because it is the last undeveloped seaport of any magnitude on the Pacific Coast.

An effort will be made to have all business men print this on the back of their business stationery.

Suffers Loss.

C. W. Warner was among those sustaining considerable damage in the Westerberg home fire. Mr. Warner occupied a house adjacent to the burned home and for awhile it looked as though his place was certain of destruction. He and friends quickly moved out the fixtures and in the rush considerable was broken and spoiled, his loss probably amounting to $75. Mrs. Warner and the children were visiting at Myrtle Point.

Small Buys Interest.

S. C. Small has purchased E. F. Morrissy's half interest in the Coos Bay Paving & Construction Company, with $7000 as the consideration, and expects from now on to operate the company by himself in handling local contracts. The concern is entirely local and will make special efforts to secure the business about the Bay. Mr. Small formerly owned a half interest, operating in partnership with Mr. Morrissy.

Pet Fawn.

During the last few days, a fawn, now about as large as the ordinary dog, has attracted considerable attention here. It belongs to the Ross family, who reside in a tent in North Marshfield. The fawn was picked up at Camp One last summer, the mother being killed by a falling log, and was brought here when the Ross family moved here from Camp One. It will follow members of the family closely and delights in playing with dogs.

Give to Belgian Fund.

The Coos Bay Grocery Company at North Bend has sent $33.28 to the Belgian relief fund at Portland. The Oregon cash contributions now amount to over $9000 and the goods contributed are estimated at over $18,000. The steamer Cranley is due at Portland about Jan. 25 and the Oregon committee plans to have a full cargo there from Oregon and Idaho. The steamer Washington, which was originally planned to take the Oregon contributions will have a full load from Seattle.

Hugh McLain Leaves.

Hugh McLain expects to leave tomorrow morning for Portland and San Francisco from whence he is also contemplating a trip east to New York and Washington, making in all a four-weeks' absence. About the trip East, Mr. McLain today declared he is still undecided, but should he go he will in all probability be able to announce the new Post Master for Marshfield on his return. From San Francisco Mr. McLain expects to take the Santa Fe road going east by way of New Orleans.

To Move Offices.

Paul Dimmick, manager of the North Bend Lumber and Manufacturing Company, which is owned by Swayne & Hoyt, expects to leave some time this month for San Francisco where he goes to take charge of the lumber end of the Swayne & Hoyt business. All books of the North Bend company will be handled from there. Mr. Dimmick declared today that the company does much lumber business out of Portland and that with one central office could attend to it, not only more cheaply, but more efficiently.
