BORN
LA CHAPPELLE—To Mr. and Mrs. Chas. LaChapelle at their home on South Broadway, Saturday, Jan. 16, a son. Mother and child are doing nicely and father as well as could be expected.

Farley Will Move to Empire
Jack Farley is completing arrangements to move his cigar store from Front street to Empire, where he will open a restaurant some time in the near future.

Criminal Court Finished.—Judge John Coke returned from Coquille last evening where he has been holding a three weeks' session of the criminal term of the circuit court. On Monday he will start the equity term, there being seven cases on the docket.

Receives Sad News.—J. T. Ryan, foreman of The Times composing room, received a telegram today conveying the sad news of the death of his mother in Portland this morning. Mrs. Ryan was formerly a resident of Marshfield and will be remembered by many here.

Anchor Pokes Hole.—When the Elder came in her this morning there was discernible a small hole poked through the steel plates at the stern, the accident taking place in Eureka, according to the meager information given out, when a steamboat crossing the Elder's stern hooked her with the anchor. The damage was but slight say the officers.

Will Test Herd.—George R. Johnson, tester of the Lower Coquille Cow Testing Association, left this morning for the Star ranch of Dr. Wetherbee in Curry county, where he goes to conduct a seven day official test for advanced registry on several high priced Holstein heifers. Last year Mr. Johnson made a similar trip with very good results.

Farmers to Bring Lunches.—That the farmers who attend the demonstration of pruning and spraying to be conducted next Wednesday on South Coos River must bring their lunches is the announcement of J. L. Smith, who has charge of the plans. According to the boat schedules there will be little time for any sort of elaborate luncheon and so he advises that all visitors bring their own lunches.

High School Boys Lose.—Though the members of the Marshfield High school basketball quintet did not return this morning from Coquille a message from them stated they lost to the Coquille boys last evening by the close score of 26 to 24. In view of the fact that Coach Niles' proteges have had but two practices it is considered that his boys did well. They will return on the afternoon train from the county seat.

Go to California.—I. Hacker and wife, who have been visiting their daughter, Mrs. L. H. Hazard, in Coquille, since the first of July, left on the Nann Smith for their home in Psadenas. Austin Hazard, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Hazard, accompanied his grandparents south. Mr. Hacker is now over eighty years old, but is quite vigorous, much to the gratification of the many Coos county friends of the well known pioneer. He was one of the first school teachers in this section. He was also one of the founders of the Coast Mall, one of Marshfield's first newspapers.

CHAMBER ELECTS EXECUTIVE BODY

Lively Controversy Arises Over Changes—But Few Present to Select Members

The meeting of the Chamber of Commerce last night to elect an executive committee for the coming year, was attended by a small number, but for a time a loud and lively controversy was aired over changes in its personnel.

At the annual gathering of the Chamber of Commerce a week ago it was then decided that a nominating committee should be named, their work to be the selection of members, who in the words of the chairman, Albert Matson, "would take an active interest in the work, attend meetings and not throw the entire responsibility upon a few."

When the committee reported last evening there were several changes from the executive committee of 1914 and the number had been cut down from 22 members to 21, as the by-laws of the Chamber specify there shall be.

Exclusion of some former members, thought the Chamber, would be unpolitic and the report of the committee was rejected following a motion to this effect placed before the house by Tom T. Bennett. Arthur McKeown, as a former member, expressed his belief that in the future specified times for meetings should be arranged, that these meetings should be at a time most convenient for a majority of the committeemen and that the members should be given plenty of notice beforehand, "which has not been done in the past," he declared.

On a further motion, after the rejection of the nominating committee's report, five names were stricken from the roles of the executive committee for 1914, R. M. Jennings' name being substituted for that of W. S. Chandler; W. A. Reid for C. R. Peck; Stuart Lyons for Arthur McKeown and John Blatt for C. W. Tower, and the name of Arno Meehan was taken from the list, the members declaring that his duties are such as to allow little time for meetings.

The following is the executive committee of the Chamber of Commerce for 1915: R. M. Jennings, chairman, A. H. Powers, Henry Sengstacken, I. S. Kaufman, E. E. Straw, A. T. Haines, J. A. Matson, E. Angus, W. F. Miller, George W. Leslie, George Rotner, A. J. Mendel, T. T. Bennett, Alva Doll, I. S. Smith, James J. Flanagan, F. A. Tiedgen, F. G. Horton, W. A. Reid, John Blatt, Stuart Lyons and R. M. Jennings.

Further committees for the year will be appointed at a future meeting of this executive body. Only few present. The four members of the nominating committee were J. Albert Matson, chairman, F. G. Horton, A. T. Haines and Henry Sengstacken. The members of the Chamber of Commerce who were present at the meeting were C. R. Peck, chairman, William Grimes, Arthur McKeown, Tom T. Bennett, Dr. G. W. Leslie, A. T. Haines, W. A. Reid, I. S. Kaufman, E. B. Gehrke.

The rejected report of the nominating committee, the rejection of which was moved by Tom Bennett and seconded by Arthur McKeown, was stricken from the minutes of the meeting and not recorded. This was done on the grounds that as the report contained the names of new members who were eventually not elected, the report should be kept.

J. Albert Matson, chairman of the committee, declared "the committee has acted in the best of good faith in making its recommendations, in fact we hardly thought anyone would care about serving on it and I assure you," speaking to Mr. McKeown, "that the leaving of your name from the new list was done as an entirely impersonal matter. And I want to assure you again that it was not at all done in the spirit of sneaking behind anyone's back. We were entirely in the open with our actions."

AMONG THE SICK
Mrs. A. W. Stevens of Haynes Inlet underwent an operation at the Mercy Hospital this morning. She is getting along very nicely.

Dave Whitted of Allegany underwent an operation this morning for blood poisoning in his hand caused by a scratch received a few days ago and which became infected.

Mrs. William Pool, of West Marshfield, is on the sick list today and under a physician's care.

Mrs. Hix of North Bend is recovering from her operation of Monday.

Mrs. Al Stevens, of Haynes Inlet, who was operated on yesterday at the Mercy Hospital, is improving today.

Mrs. Max Timmerman, who has been at Mercy Hospital, has recovered sufficiently to return to her home.

HEIRS WIN LIGHT DAMAGE VERDICT

Relatives of Finn Sue Pulp Company for $50,000—Get $550

Announcement that a verdict allowing $550 to the heirs of Ed Koskela, a Finn who was electrocuted in the pulp mill several months ago, has been received here from John Goss in Portland, who is representing the mill company.

This is the second of four suits against the C. A. Smith interests that are being tried out in the Portland courts, the plaintiffs having secured a change of venue. In the first, that of a man named Manki, suing for $25,000 balm for the loss of an eye, no damage was allowed. The second verdict is taken by the defense to mean a victory.

The third suit is now being tried in the Portland courts. It is that of Martella, or rather his heirs, vs. the Coos Bay Paper and Pulp Co., asking for about $40,000. Martella was electrocuted in the Pulp Mill when he grasped an electric light globe.

The fourth case to be brought up by William Stoll, attorney for the plaintiffs, is that of Warthum vs. the A. F. Eastabrook Company, alleging a timber trespass. Many have gone from here as witnesses in the cases and it is expected they will return early next week.

G. W. DUNGAN IS BURIED.

Well Known Citizen Laid to Rest While Many Pay Their Last Respects.

Members of four lodges and a host of friends gathered this morning at the Dungan Undertaking Parlors on Broadway South, to pay their last respects to Garland W. Dungan, who passed away on Thursday after an illness lasting for more than a month.

Rev. Robert Browning had charge of the services, which were conducted by the Eagles. Frank Norton officially represented the Knights of Pythias, George Cook the Loyal Order of Moose, Dave Rees the Eagles' Lodge and Dave Musson the Order of Owls.

JUSTICE COURT BUSY.

Doe Sisters Charged With Keeping Bawdy House.

The Doe Sisters, May and Alice, were brought into justice court this afternoon, arrested on a charge of keeping a house of ill-fame, known as the Palm Rooming House on Market street. Both of the young women put up $150 for their appearance in Judge Stanley's court in Coquille. The reason for bringing the case up there is supposed to be because District Attorney Liljeqvist has taken an active hand in the matter.

Eugene O'Connell, who owns the building and who had sublet it, suspicioned all was not well and is said to have drawn the attention of the prosecuting attorney to the matter.

Gus Peterson, keeper of a saloon at Empire, is charged with selling liquor on Sunday and appeared in Judge Penneck's court, putting up a $200 appearance bond. This was put up by William Longstaff and James E. Bering.

WATERFRONT NEWS

Early this morning the Daisy Putnam arrived in from Portland.

Though she was expected this morning, the Paraiso, according to a wireless report, will not arrive in from San Francisco until tomorrow morning.

The Roamer was able to cross out this morning for the Rogue River after being barbound for several days and it is expected that the Rustler will get away tomorrow.

MAGGENN WILL GO TO WASHINGTON

Will Join Other Delegates in San Francisco Next Week to Urge Jetty Appropriation

Capt. T. J. Maggenn will leave Portland Monday or Tuesday for San Francisco, where he expects to meet W. S. Chandler and L. J. Simpson and arrange to proceed to Washington to urge the jetty appropriation by Congress. He expects they will leave there next week. They will work with the U. S. Engineers. Hugh McLain will probably join them in Washington. Captain Maggenn has evolved a new point in favor of the jetty, having data to show that the shoaling of the bar is caused by sand washed in from the sea and not by mud from the Bay streams.

If Capt. H. C. Nelson does not arrive in Portland in time to relieve Capt. Maggenn on the Breakwater Monday, another captain will be secured.

The Breakwater will probably be inspected by the government officials at Portland Monday to ascertain the extent of the damage sustained in the storm and the repairs required.
