Argue Demurrer.—A demurrer was argued today before Judge Coke in his office in the case of W. J. Conrad and Les Smith vs. Guellette Burns. The case involves the title to some land up Coos River.

Go to Germany.—"I am going to Germany to see the real thing," is the statement of S. Breuer, shoe dealer of Myrtle Point, who expects to leave at once for the Fatherland. Mr. Breuer will leave about February 1 for the front.

Two Teams to Practice.—The Marshfield Independents expect to practice basket ball this evening in the new high school gymnasium with Coach Niles' quintet. The teams are preparing for the double header games of next Saturday evening.

Again Breaks Arms.—Henry Albee, the 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Albee of Bunker Hill, while at play yesterday fell and broke the same arm which he broke at Halloween time last October. The arm was immediately set by the doctor.

Do Sisters Again.—Announcement is made that the "Do Sisters" will appear in the police court on February 3 to answer to the charge of selling liquor without a license. On a more serious charge entered against them at Coquille they waived examination and will appear before the April grand jury.

Young People Marry.—Miss Amy From became the bride of Albert Oleman last evening in the Methodist parsonage. Rev. Knotts tying the matrimonial knot. Mrs. Oleman is a new arrival here, but Mr. Oleman is well known. He is a candy maker with the Pugsley Candy Company. They expect to remain here in Marshfield.

Improve Street.—W. S. Chandler today arranged for corrugated concrete approaches to be built to the sidewalks in front of the Chandler Hotel and the Irving Block. The paving has settled around the walks so that the curb is too high and approaches will be built from each side by S. C. Small.

Three Get "Soaked."—Mr. Roiley, John Turner and Christ Doe were out in gay force last night. They became "soaked" and landed in the city jail. This morning they came before Judge Butler and were "soaked" again, this last time being for $5 though two of them missed out on the donation to the city treasury, their pocket-books looking as though the proverbial elephant had walked all over them.

Game Man Here Later.—That he is detained at Salem and cannot come until at least Monday or Tuesday is the word that has been received here by Game Warden J. M. Thomas from C. H. Catron, Federal Inspector of the migratory game law and personal representative of State

J. JUSTEN, Mgr.

Biologist Finley. Mr. Catron has gone down to Salem to explain to the Legislators the sense of the Federal migratory bird law.

Pays Fine.—Ward M. Blake paid a fine of $5 yesterday for allowing his auto to stand on the street at night without any lights burning. He explained to Recorder Butler that defective batteries were responsible, but instead of charging the batteries, Mr. Butler charged Mr. Blake $5. Mr. Blake is wondering how Dr. Dix talked Recorder Butler out of a fine lately, as he had figured that his battery story was the most shocking one that could be sprung.

Drain Box Caved In.—Robert Kellogg, engineer in charge of the opening of the Mill Slough drain box, states that his crew have found about fifty feet of the box caved in between Second and Third streets. They were forced to excavate to the box and there rebuild it. Progress is being made in the opening of the drain, water running freely through the lower part at this time. It is expected that the north arm of the drain will bring about the greatest trouble.

Reception Committee.—R. M. Jennings, chairman of the executive committee of the Chamber of Commerce, has appointed his entertainment committee for the year. It consists of J. Albert Matson, J. H. Flanagan and C. R. Peck. This committee will work for the entertainment of all prominent guests of the city who come here visiting. The announcement of the remaining committees of the Chamber have not been made, and probably will not be until the next meeting, February 5.

Boost for Marshfield.—Marshfield gets another splendid boost in the January issue of "Good Storekeeping," a national trade paper published in New York City and which circulates all over the United States. It reproduces a picture of the display window of Frank Cohan's "Owl Prescription Pharmacy," in which a showing was made of nationally advertised goods. The window created much comment in Marshfield at the time and was considered so good that the New York magazine has given it a fine notice.

No Partnership.—That Alexander Hakvist had no partnership with Emil Heimo in the Marshfield Bakery Company was the decision of Judge Coke this morning. Hakvist, as plaintiff, contended that a partnership existed and sued for his share in the firm. However, the court, allowed him $300 with eight per cent interest, a $600 lien on the business and also declared that he is entitled to wages of $10 a week for the time he was connected with the firm, a matter of four or five weeks. This ends a long controversy and both the plaintiff and the defendant declare they are satisfied.

Farmers' Week Coming.—Several of the dairy farmers through the valley are getting ready to attend the Farmers' Week at Corvallis on February 1 to 7. Between those dates will be gathered at the state agricultural school hundreds of Oregon farmers. There they will meet some of the foremost men in dairying, experts who have made it their life work and the farmers will be shown the new labor saving and profit-making methods and devices. J. L. Smith, County Agriculturist, is now rounding up the exhibits that he expects to take North with him. He will have charts and maps to show the progress made in every herd in the cow testing associations of the county. Also will be shown land that is still available for dairying purposes, its cost, all salient facts appealing to outsiders who are interested here.

Take Deposition.—The deposition of Glen Aiken was taken today before Court Reporter A. B. Loud in the office of Hall & Hall in the case which originally was Mrs. Wm. Waters versus Church, and in which Mrs. Bluford Davis was substituted as defendant. This case involves the ownership of considerable property belonging to the Davis estate. Mrs. Waters claiming that she is a daughter of James Martin Davis, Hall & Hall, Bennett Swanton and T. T. Bennett are attorneys for the defendant and Graves & McTurff for the plaintiff.

HOW TO CURE A LA GRIPPE COUGH

"Coughs that hang on" demand treatment. Stop and think! Reason and common sense tell you that it is folly to "grin and bear it." Those racking la grippe coughs that wrench the body and cause soreness and pains in the lungs yield more quickly to Foley's Honey and Tar than to any other treatment. Forty years' record of successes proves this. For coughs, colds, croup and other distressing ailments of throat, chest, lungs, larynx and bronchial tubes, you can find nothing that will compare with this reliable remedy. Sold by The Owl Prescription Pharmacy on Central Avenue.

FIRST ADDRESS IN CARNEGIE LIBRARY

Origin of the World and Solar System, Theme of Professor Stafford.

The origin of the solar system and the earth was the keynote of the first address given in the Carnegie Library last evening by Professor O. F. Stafford of the University of Oregon. A large audience greeted the speaker and followed him, interested, through his topic.

It was an interpretation of the recent geographical, astronomical and physical investigations bearing upon what caused this earth, the sun, moon and stars about it and how they all came to be.

Professor Stafford lectures extensively about the state, often going out from Eugene on addresses in connection with the extension courses.

This afternoon he left on the train for Riverton in company with J. R. McGee and tomorrow the men will spend the day looking over the coal deposits in that vicinity. With the railroad now building in here, Professor Stafford declared that the mining of coal will advance wonderfully. He expects to work with other of the university authorities in aiding to open the undeveloped resources of this county.

TATTERED GARB LEADS TO THEFT

Ed Leneve, on Parole, Steals Clothes to Replace His Old Ones.

Ed Leneve, a youth of 20 years, stood before Judge Penneck this morning and pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing clothes from Jas. Logan and received his sentence of 30 days in the county jail. The young man was pardoned from the reform school at Salem five years ago.

"What did you steal the first time?" queried the judge.

"About everything I could get my fingers on," was the reply.

In the court room Leneve faced Logan, from whose suitcase he had taken the wearing apparel, still wearing one of his stolen shirts. Logan testified that Leneve opened his suitcase at the Central Hotel and took out a shirt, pair of pants and a coat, all valued at $5. The youth went to the Johnson rooming house and there threw away his tattered garments, donning the newer paraphernalia.

All went well until Leneve strutted up and down the street in his new garb. Logan saw him, recognized the pants and called the police.

PROGRESS CLUB AGAINST CHANGE IN FOREST LAWS

Send Telegrams Protesting Against Threatened Move of Legislature.

A unanimous protest against the proposed change in the Oregon forestry laws and the cutting of the fire patrol appropriation, bills now pending in the state legislature, was voiced by the members of the Progress Club, which met this morning in special meeting at the home of the president, Mrs. Ward M. Blake.

Telegrams will be at once dispatched by the corresponding secretary, Mrs. R. H. Corey, to the president of the Senate and the Coos and Curry county representatives at Salem.

That the proposed economy move would be a most expensive one is the belief of the Progress Club. Coos county, isolated as it is, would be vitally endangered and the removing of proper fire protection would work a direct harm on the timber owners was their decision.
