

COOS BAY TIMES

M. C. MALONEY, Editor and Pub. DAN E. MALONEY, News Editor

Official Paper of Coos County Entered at the Postoffice at Marshfield, Oregon, for transmission through the mails as second-class mail matter.

QUESTION FOR THE DAY. NOTHER Tuesday gone and nothing done to settle that county judge affair. Wonder just who is county judge, anyway?

A WOMAN FOR FRISCO. WHY not send a woman to San Francisco to assist in caring for the Coos county booth at the Exposition? A woman can talk longer and faster than a man can and as this is what it appears to me should be one of the main requisites at the big fair. I am wondering why the Chamber of Commerce is not looking for one, especially as they have recently added a woman's department to the local organization.

WITH THE TEA AND THE TOAST

GOOD EVENING. Absence of occupation is not rest. A mind quite vacant is a mind distress.

THERE ARE BUT TWO REALLY GREAT DISAPPOINTMENTS IN LIFE. ONE IS NOT GETTING WHAT YOU WANT AND THE OTHER IS GETTING IT.

THE WISE GUY SAYS:

"A married man who owns an automobile is in a position to acquire a lot of experience."

It is not generally known, but K. W. Goodale, the Portland manager of the Flak Tire Company, who is in the city visiting I. R. Tower, is something of a poet. He recently composed a famous little ditty dedicated to the Flak which runs like this:

"It makes the world run smoother, It softens every jar— You still live three score years and ten, But travel twice as far."

Deafness would be a terrible affliction to some Coos Bay men who like to hear themselves talk.

After all there is a heap of excitement in a gossip's life, to say nothing of an occasional investigation.

The average Coos Bay man is willing to let his wife have the last word—and the sooner she gets it the better he seems to like it.

CHOPS OFF HIS LEFT ARM IN DREAM. California Man Dead From Loss of Blood. SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 2. Louis Miller, who lived with his son in a cabin near Day Point, Contra Costa County, dreamed he was chopping wood, arose in his sleep, pro-cured a hatchet and severed his left arm. He died from shock and loss of blood. The son had left his father sleeping in the cabin and on his return found his father unconscious with the hatchet still grasped in his hand. Miller regained consciousness and told his son of the fatal dream before death.

OLDEST PAPER IN OREGON

Jack McDonald's Contribution to Fair Exhibit Attracts Attention. The following from an Oregon City paper will be of interest here, giving additional particulars of the old paper which Jack McDonald sent for the San Francisco fair exhibit: Yellow after 69 years, but still legible, a copy of the first newspaper printed on the Pacific Coast, the Oregon City Spectator, will be sent to the Panama-Pacific Exposition and occupy a prominent place in the Coos County exhibit. The paper is the property of Jack McDonald, of Marshfield. It has been framed to protect it from further wear. The first issue of the Spectator appeared in February, 1846. It was followed by the Argus and the Enterprise. The Enterprise, established in 1865, is the only one of the three still published.

AUSTRALIA BIDS US COME AND SEE HER BEAUTIES

Land of Plenty, Says Letter From Trade Commission of Island Continent to America. "We have a land of plenty," writes Captain J. W. Niesigh, chief publicity officer of the Australian exhibit to the Panama-Pacific Exposition. A general invitation is extended to all visitors from Coos Bay to come to the Australian building where, despite the war, will be found an array consisting of practically every chief industry of the big island continent. There will be fleeces of wool to show how the sheep of King George's favored land grow long coverings; there will be agricultural displays showing the wheat that can be raised on the former desert wastes that are now watered under government projects and mining will be an important part of the big display, so will the exhibits of the forest. "The war has made it difficult for us," says the letter, "but in spite of this fact we have kept faith with the San Francisco Exposition and will have our own building."
