BOBN
FLOTON—To Mr. and Mrs. Carl Floton, of North Bend, at Mercy Hospital, February 21, a nine and one-half pound boy. Both mother and son are doing very well.

New Engineer.—Major Henry C. Jewett, of Washington, D. C., has been assigned to take the place of Major Morrow at Portland. He will arrive there soon.

New Houses.—Mrs. Rosa Preuss is planning to erect a house on Elrod Avenue near Fourth street. Mr. Hale of South Tenth street is also figuring on erecting a fine home.

Father Weaker.—Alfred Johnson Jr. who was here today from Coquille said that his father, Alfred Johnson, Sr. was gradually growing weaker at San Rafael, California.

Case Still Up.—On consent of counsel of both sides the divorce case of Oma McGinnis was continued today in Judge Coke's office and probably will not be finished until sometime tomorrow.

Another Man.—Ernest W. Smith, son of Levi Smith and brother of Frank Smith, of the Coos River Hatchery, wishes it stated that he was not the man in jail Thursday night for intoxication. Mr. Smith does not use intoxicants and he thinks that some offender simply used his name.

No Action Taken.—The County Commissioners did not take any action on the appointment of a Roadmaster or the merging of the job with that of the County Engineer last week. It is understood that it will not be taken up until the April term, probably. P. M. Hall-Lewis had a long petition in asking that he be retained in that capacity.

Wed Saturday.—Irving LeNoir Ragdale and Miss Nellie J. Olson were united in marriage Saturday evening at the home of the bride's parents at Eastside, Rev. B. F. Bengtson officiating. John L. Johnson and Miss Hildur West attended them. A large number of relatives and friends were in attendance and a dinner was enjoyed following the nuptials.

Council Meets Tomorrow.—Because today is Washington's birthday, hence a legal holiday, there will be no meeting of the city council tonight. Tomorrow evening they will gather around the long table to discuss the cares and worries of the city. The banks were closed today, but the schools held session some of the classes, marking the day with appropriate exercises.

Quarry Case.—Parties arriving from Florence state that the first reports from there about the trouble over the right of way across the stone quarry being settled were erroneous. Contractor Scarpelli and his crew are constructing the right of way through the Point Terrace Mill property and not over the quarry, the latter still being held up by condemnation proceedings at Eugene.

Finds Elk Horns.—Max Robberts, who came in from the Smith-Powers camp at Coaledo to spend Sunday at the home of his sister, Mrs. Chas. Van Dusen, brought in a set of elk horns that were found in the woods near the camp. They were a large set. Tom Dabney is now foreman of the camp and they have about a month's work tearing up the balance of the old railway after which they will move to the Myrtle Point line.

Fine Blooded Poultry.—F. E. Raymond, of First Addition, recently received a prize-winning Plymouth Rock cockerel from the yards of A. C. Berntzen, of Eugene. Oregon. Mr. Berntzen's stock has taken the blue ribbons at a great many of the Oregon shows and some of the California shows during the past season, and Mr. Raymond thinks with his breeding pen headed by this prize bird, that he has the best pen of Barred Plymouth Rocks in Coos County.

Extend Season.—E. S. Catron, of the U. S. Biological survey, while here said that he did not think that Representative Barrow's bill extending the open season on ducks from January 15 to February 1 will avail anything. He said that the Federal law fixed the season as closing January 15 and this will be adhered to. Mr. Barrows tried to get the season changed for the Coquille Valley only, but the bill was amended to include all of Coos County.

Sheridan Lost Case.—A jury at Roseburg brought in a verdict for $5096 for Mrs. Laura Verrell, who was suing the First National Bank of Roseburg. T. R. Sheridan, of North Bend was the principal in the case as Mrs. Verrell charged that he took $5000 from her deposit and used it himself. Mr. Sheridan claimed he had her consent to do so. Later the bank was sold, the old stockholders of the First National retaining $48,000 of doubtful paper.

Brother is Safe.—Miss Louise Blatt has received a letter from Hugh S. Gibson, secretary of the American legation at Brussels, stating that her uncle, Armand Blatt-Ducobu, and his wife, are safe in Brussels and both are enjoying good health. Armand Blatt is a brother of John A. Blatt, of Marshfield, and was a prominent Belgian manufacturer, the title of Ducobu being given him by the Belgian government. Since the war, they have been unable to correspond direct.

Funeral Yesterday.—The funeral of Mrs. Ben F. Wymore was held yesterday, Rev. G. LeRoy Hall officiating. She was thirty-four years old and her father, J. A. Roberts, lives at Jennings Lodge, Oregon. Mrs. Rita Bohman, a sister, lives at Portland and another sister, Mrs. Emma Hess, lives at Park Place, Oregon. The five children surviving are Violet, Florence, Maurice, Luther and Paul. The family resided near Millington and Mrs. Wymore died at Mercy Hospital following an operation.

Will Return Here.—Dick Mills, or Miller, as his right name seems to be, is expected to return soon from California, where he was taken to answer a charge of non-support. He was employed as a brakeman on the Smith-Powers line and lived at Millington. A telegram was received from him the other day, asking if his job was still good and saying that the California judge before he was arraigned, wanted to know. From this it was taken that the judge intended to parole him if he had steady employment. A telegram was sent to him saying that he could have his old position.

Horse Kicks Boy.—Playing in the farmyard at his home in Allegany yesterday afternoon, five-year-old Harold Ott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jess N. Ott, was kicked in the head by a horse and last evening was hurried to Marshfield where several stitches were taken in his head above the eyes. Today the little fellow is much improved and will soon be able to return to his home. At the time of the accident a dog ran under the horse barking, and this worried the animal and immediately he struck back, the little fellow being struck full in the face.

To Appeal Judgment.—Notice of appeal in the Circuit Court of the case of Lambeth versus Morrow has been made by attorneys for Lynn Lambeth, who seek to take the case out of the jurisdiction of the Justice Court. Two weeks ago Judge Pennock decided Lambeth was responsible for surgical operations performed on his brother-in-law, Lewis Martin, constituting a remark of Lambeth's to mean that he promised to pay Dr. Morrow. As the result the judge found that he should pay the $175 bill presented by Dr. Morrow. On a counter claim the latter was told to pay Lambeth $17 for automobile hire.

Appeal to Supreme Court.—An appeal to the Supreme Court is being made by August Nelson in the case involving the Fletcher Timber Estate which was decided October 6, 1914 by Judge Coke in favor of the heirs, Henry H. Fletcher and Minnie E. Stadelman. The property, which consists of 160 acres of timber land near Blue Ridge, now said to be worth about $10,000, was sold at an administrator's sale by Nelson for $640. The two heirs were afterward found and the sale was declared void. The property has changed hands several times and at the time of the first suit was in the hands of Miner and Warden, of Menasha, Wis. Guy C. H. Corliss, of Portland, has been retained as attorney for Nelson while Hoy and Miller represent the heirs.

Mrs. Guy Warner and Mrs. Otto Schetter will have charge of the program and have prepared interesting papers on the subject: "Moving Pictures an Aid in Education and Who Censors Them."

INTERESTING WEDDING
Many Marshfield people will remember most pleasantly Miss Helen Raymond, of Charles City, Iowa, who was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Tower during the summer months three years ago, and the announcement of her marriage to Mr. Edward N. Waterbury, of the same city will be heard with interest. Mr. Waterbury has also visited in Marshfield, where he was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Wilbur, both the Wilburs and the Towers being former Charles City residents. Following is the description of the wedding taken from the Daily Press of that city:

"Mr. Edward N. Waterbury and Miss Helen Raymond, two of the best known and prominent people of the city, were married at 8:30 last evening by Rev. W. L. Dibble, of the Congregational Church, at the large and elegant home of the bride on Spriggs street, the Episcopal service being used.

The bride was dressed in a beautiful gown of crepe Georgette over white satin trimmed with crystal, and she carried a bridal bouquet of roses, lilies of the valley with maiden hair fern, which was a cluster of rare beauty. The groom wore the conventional black.

The music room in which they were married, was a display of thousands of cut flowers and plants,
