WEATHER FORECAST (By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.) OREGON — Rain west, fair east, southerly winds, moderate near coast. LOCAL TEMPERATURE RECORD For the 24 hours ending at 4:43 a. m., Feb. 23, by Benj. Ostlund, special government meteorologist.

Council Meetings.—There will be a meeting of the City Council at eight o'clock this evening, the first in two weeks. Also the city fathers of North Bend and Eastside will be in session.

Bunker Hill Services.—A. F. Bassford will preach in the Bunker Hill school house Wednesday evening. There will be a twenty-minute song service before the preaching. All are welcome.

Clark Joins Fraternity.—Word has been received here that Sidney Clark, who left here a few days ago to enter the University of Oregon, has become pledged to the Phi Gamma Delta National fraternity.

Woman Frightened.—Mrs. R. E. Browning sent in a call for the police Sunday evening after she heard some one make several attempts to open the door at their home. When the police arrived, there was no trace of anyone.

Kelly Named.—At the annual state convention of the Oregon Christian Endeavor Society at Eugene last week, Ned C. Kelly, of Coquille, was elected one of the vice-presidents for the Southern Oregon division.

Postpone Meeting.—Out of respect for Mrs. L. M. Noble, who is one of the oldest members of the A. N. W. Club, the ladies of that organization have postponed its meeting from Thursday of this week to Thursday, March 4, when Mrs. Friedberg will be hostess.

Couple Married.—Rev. G. LeRoy Hall yesterday performed the marriage ceremony for Miss Nellie F. Church and Harold Moore, both of Catching Inlet. The young couple expect to take up farming and will settle somewhere in Coos County, their home not yet being decided.

Mrs. Poole Buried.—The burial of Mrs. William Poole, who died Sunday morning, was held this morning from the Dungan Undertaking Parlors, the service being conducted by Rev. Bassford. Mrs. Poole was a former resident of Florence, and came here in the early fall for medical treatment.

Firemen Hold Dance.—Marshfield's Volunteer Fire Department laddies with their ladies gathered last evening in the I. O. O. F. Hall to enjoy the annual dance given by the organization. Practically every member of the Department was present, and the evening was made lively with Martin's orchestra.

Sees Prowlers.—Mrs. Hugh McLean last night about 11 o'clock called the police to her home on Highland avenue, telling them that she had noticed a suspicious character prowling about the Central school. The police visited the place and after staying about for some time went away confident that the man had vanished.

Starts Cleaning Business.—Charles Terry, who has been employed for the last five months as a barber in J. T. Terrell's barber shop, has sent for paraphernalia to start a cleaning and pressing establishment next door to the Marshfield Bakery on Second street. He states his dry cleaning and pressing outfit will be here in a few weeks.

Drunks Bother.—Nightwatchman Bill Shoupe says that most of the recent reports of prowlers and burglars have been caused by drunks getting mixed up in the location of their homes. The majority of them have been caused by parties seeking private lodging houses in various parts of town, the exact location of which they do not know when they get too much liquor.

Lecturer Here.—Mr. Haugan, a Scandinavian lecturer and newspaperman, arrived here Sunday from San Francisco to spend a few weeks on the Bay. He will speak under the auspices of the Sons of Norway here. He was formerly located at Minneapolis, and is an old friend of C. A. Smith. He had luncheon with Mr. Smith in San Francisco the other day and said that the latter was optimistic concerning the outlook.

Wife Allowed Alimony.—Judge Coke this morning granted Mrs. Dixie Egenhoff $100 suit money and $25 a month as temporary alimony pending her suit against her husband, William Egenhoff, for divorce. In her complaint, the wife alleged that he had been cruel and inhuman in his treatment, often became drunk and has committed adultery. She found him at South Inlet in company with another woman, Egenhoff has been running the gasoline boat Alice H.

Go to Supreme Court.—John D. Goss and Tom T. Bennett expect to leave about Thursday for Salem, where they will conduct the case of Barnum versus Lockhart, carried there on appeal from the Circuit Court, where the case was decided in favor of the plaintiff, who is now dead. The issue involves the purchase of Point Barnum above Flagstaff, the tract being bought under contract and the controversy is over the fulfillment of the contract. About $18,000 is involved in the case.

Planting Mines.—Emmet Pierce, who was up from Tarheel camp this week, informed Frank Denning that Homer Ring had discovered a craft laying mines in the lower bay, figuring out that they were anticipating some naval attack in the future. However, it seems that Homer was passing off the dredge Seattle as a real mine layer and when Donald Charleston was investigating the character of the rock ledge across the bay near the government works, his diving suit was most convincing evidence to the Tarheel aggregation.

Made Quick Time.—Sunday, probably for the first time in the history of Coos Bay, a San Francisco paper was read here the day after publication. It was brought in by Captain B. W. Olson on the Adeline Smith. He left San Francisco early Saturday morning, soon after the Examiner was issued and secured a copy. He arrived in here early Sunday morning with the Adeline. It happened that the edition was the San Francisco Exposition Opening number of the Examiner, making the event a little more noteworthy.

Engineers Ask Figures.—The government engineer's office in Portland has sent to the Port Commissioners asking the amount of money expended on the harbor project and also the amount of cubic yards removed from the main channel. The figures, as they are being sent back by Secretary J. W. Motley, show that between March 31, 1913, and December 31, 1914, $545,439.85 has been expended and 3,935,478 cubic yds. of dirt excavated. The figures are to be used in making a report to the war department at Washington.

Fear Skating Rink Noise.—That a skating rink erected at the corner of Elrod and Broadway, as has been planned, will be a nuisance, is the contention of members of the Ferry estate, who own residence property adjoining the proposed site. George Ferry lives next door. The contention is that the building would shut off light from the house and that the noise of the rink would make it impossible for any one to live in the vicinity. Gray & McInturf have been retained by the Ferry Estate, and will investigate the matter.

Clean-up Committee Meets.—There was a meeting of the clean-up campaign committee, the chairman of the five city districts in the Chamber of Commerce, where they met with City Attorney John D. Goss and the health committee of the Council, Harry J. Kimball and George E. Cook and with Health Officer Dr. E. E. Straw. Methods of cleaning up that may be enforced together with the list of new ordinances were discussed. Word will soon be given to start the general campaign that is expected to result in the cleaning up of the city.
