Pentland Here Tomorrow.—Sheriff Johnson was over today, searching on an elusive trail. He said that a wife from Deputy Sheriff Laird at Eugene last night stated that he will arrive here on the stage tomorrow morning with Pentland, going on through to Coquille on the noon train.

Bride Stricken.—L. T. Matthews has received word of the death of his son's wife at Berkeley, California. His son is Prof. Matthews of the Department of Agriculture of the University of California and was married about two months ago. Mrs. Matthews was only 22 years old and was ill only two weeks having undergone an operation.

Many Get Envelopes.—Advertising of Coos Bay by means of business envelopes carrying printed matter on the back has been a success. Secretary Motley states that so far bills have been turned in for 25,000 envelopes and that eventually most of the business means will take advantage of the opportunity. The cost of printing is assessed on the Chamber of Commerce.

Honored Oregon Man.—Col. Hodges, mentioned in The Times Associated Press dispatches this week as having been promoted to Brigadier General with Col. Goethals and other builders of the Panama canal, is a grandson of George Abernethy, first territorial governor of Oregon, and is a first cousin of Mrs. Bennett Swanton of Marshfield.

Railroad Story.—Someone must have been "stalling" Deputy Sheriff Laird according to the following from the Coquille Sentinel: "Deputy Sheriff Laird informs us that work has just been begun on machine shops and a twenty-four stall round house at Wagner, the present terminus of the railroad up the South Coquille, constructed by the Smith-Powers Logging Company, but to be operated by the Southern Pacific as a part of its system."

Tide Lands Case.—A case involving tidelands across the Bay was argued this afternoon before Judge Coke, the heirs of Mrs. Elizabeth Williams, deceased, contending that the old lady was not competent to make a contract of sale to Henry Sengstacken and also that she died before the land had been entirely paid for, and that this terminated the contract. The land was sold for $1,500 to Mr. Sengstacken, part being paid before the death of Mrs. Williams and the remainder immediately afterwards. Judge Coke has not yet given his decision.

"We Should Worry".—Comparison of the rainfall reports of Coos Bay and Portland for February shows a difference of 5.28 inches of rain in favor of this vicinity. The fact that Portland, during February, got only 3.07 inches, has caused a worry there, for the City of Roses, the city famous for the world over for a bountiful rain-supply, is facing a deficiency in its annual quota of aqua pura via the sky route. There is now a deficiency of 9.77 inches in rainfall there since September 1. On the other hand Coos Bay had 8.35 inches of rain in February and about 53 inches since September 1.

North Bend Services.—There will be services in the North Bend Episcopal Church tomorrow at 3 p. m., the heating system which was temporarily disconnected, having been fixed.

Goes to Confer.—R. O. Graves left on the afternoon train for Coquille where he went to meet S. D. Fulford, attorney of Myrtle Point, in reference to the Russel murder case. When asked as to the proposed line of defense Mr. Graves stated he had nothing to give out, the defense being in charge of Mr. Fulford, who is the chief counsel in the case. William Pentland is expected back here tomorrow in charge of Deputy Sheriff W. C. Laird.

Florence Mill Trouble.—Parties from Florence state that the Tidewater Mill Company, owned principally by Porter Brothers, has been attached for about $8,000 claims of parties furnishing logs. Porter Brothers are the contractors for the Coos Bay-Eugene line of the Southern Pacific and are rated among the wealthiest men in Oregon. They have had difficulty with the Tidewater mill since they took it over a couple of years ago and it is presumed that the present suit is simply due to a disagreement. The mill has been shut down since last fall.

Falls From Motorcycle.—Clay Church, riding his motorcycle east on Central Avenue about four o'clock yesterday afternoon attempted to pass over a wire cable stretched across the street in front of the Noble Building and when within a few feet the line was hauled taut. The front wheel of the machine was crushed in, the cycle hurdled over the wire and the rider was badly injured. The doctor declared the knee cap is cracked. With his clothes badly torn Church was removed to his apartment in the Myrtle Arms. The motorcycle is badly wrecked. Church says that the wire cable was stretched from the drum of the donkey engine across the street to a telegraph pole and that it was laying on the ground until just when he reached there.

Defer Action.—The Coos County school boundary board at their meeting this week deferred final action on the petition of South Inlet residents for a new district to be formed out of Districts No. 57 and 61. An endeavor will be made to have the old districts provide means of bringing the pupils far distant from the buildings to the school. A petition from part of the Libby district to have a new district was rejected, it being claimed that the taxable property was only $8,000. The parents of the ten children may ask the present district to provide means of transportation.

NORTH BEND LIBRARY

Among the interesting books donated to the North Bend Public Library this week is a postage stamp catalog printed in Paris, France, which contains illustrations of all the types of postage stamps issued to date by the United States Government. In this book are one hundred and fourteen types of U. S. postage stamps illustrating over 400 varieties of stamps which range in value from one cent to one hundred dollars. Inasmuch as our Federal laws make it a crime for any publication in this country to illustrate a U. S. postage stamp, this book is of merit in showing a large number of postage stamps issued by our government, and their uses, a large portion of which most people never see or know anything about. This French catalog which contains more than one hundred pages, likewise illustrates all the stamps used or that have ever been used in the postal union throughout the world.

Among the fiction purchased by the library this week is the prize novel, "Diana of the Green Van" written by Leona Dalrymple which was recently awarded the $10,000 prize in a story contest, the judges being Ira M. Tarbell, S. S. McClure and Geo. N. Madison. The story is a rapid succession of romantic surprises and is odorous with outdoor life. The Rose of Old St. Louis by Mary Dillon, is a historical novel of the time of the Louisiana purchase and is of interest in the happy combination of a good love story and a bit of good history during a period not yet much written up in fiction. The writer brings the reader into deep sympathy with the loyal Southern French subjects who were loathe to exchange their allegiance from France to a new world rule, but never lets him forget that he is an American citizen; so that when the cannon from old St. Louis announces the purchase must now look to Washington for protection, the reader feels a thrill of triumph with the hero-lover who claims his bride-elect on an impetuous and unforeseen promise made by her years before that "when St. Louis became American, she would 'cease to be French' and listen to his suit."

Molly-Make-Believe which has been so widely read from the city libraries the past few years, is a unique, romantic story of secret love and ministrations thru days of sickness and nights of pain, which end as all real love stories should end.

The children's shelves have been enriched with Tip Lewis, one of the Pansy books, Five Little Peppers of the famous Pepper series by Margaret Sydney, and The Diamond Key, a book of railroad-making adventures in short stories that will interest every live boy.

Mrs. C. F. McCollum presented several books to the library this week, among them a beautiful and timely volume, The Practical Flower Garden that should prove an inspiration and a help to lovers of flowers. The other books presented by Mrs. McCollum were "Dannie, Emmy Lou, Tristram of Blent and Our Christian Heritage. Mrs. J. W. Grout who has already given several books added to the number this week by giving "The Wedding Guest, a book of special interest to young married people by T. S. Arthur, and a copy of Hawthornes Tanglewood Tales for the children's corner.

A. N. W. CLUB

The A. N. W. Club with Mrs. F. Hazard last Thursday afternoon was well attended and an enjoyable time is reported. Mrs. A. T. Haines was present as special guest.

At an appropriate hour, the hostess assisted by Mrs. C. F. McKnight served very tempting refreshments to Mrs. F. E. Allen, Mrs. G. A. Bennett, Mrs. Olivia Edman, Mrs. Carl Evertsen, Mrs. Elizabeth Hyde, Mrs. R. E. Irwin, Mrs. E. Mingsus, Mrs. Geo. Murch, Mrs. W. P. Murphy, Mrs. Mary McKnight, Mrs. Quist and Mrs. Chas. Stauff.
Mrs. F. M. Friedberg will be hostess next Thursday afternoon.

MYRTLE ARMS DANCING PARTY

Among the enjoyable affairs of last week was the dancing party and supper-luncheon given by Mr. Henrik Gjerdrum at the Myrtle Arms on Monday evening.

The luncheon room was beautifully decorated; the color scheme of yellow being carried out artistically with an abundance of daffodils.

Mr. Gjerdrum's guests included: Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Cohan, Mr. and Mrs. Mat L. May, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Conway, Mrs. Effie Farringer, the Misses: Rhoda Seat, Isis Marsh, Ursula Farringer, Edna Louise Larsen and Messrs: Thayer Grimes, Will Goodrum, and A. J. Mendel.
