THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

THE Coos Bay Chamber of Commerce has a splendid field for the exercise of its energies in the development of the community. It cannot attain such ends, however, unless all the influences and all the motives are lofty. It will be what the men in it choose to make it. It cannot be effective unless its administration and its counsels be wise. Its best success may only be attained when it is representative of the entire community. It cannot be serviceable as a club or as a faction. It must be representative of all instead of a mere part, of the community. It cannot rise to full-orbed utility if those influences that divide men on the outside be taken inside. If its inspiration be to the good of all and not the good of one or seven, if its purposes be untainted and tireless, if membership be controlled by a deep spirit of broad patriotism, the Chamber of Commerce may be made of infinite value to Coos Bay. The Times trusts and believes that it has such a destiny.

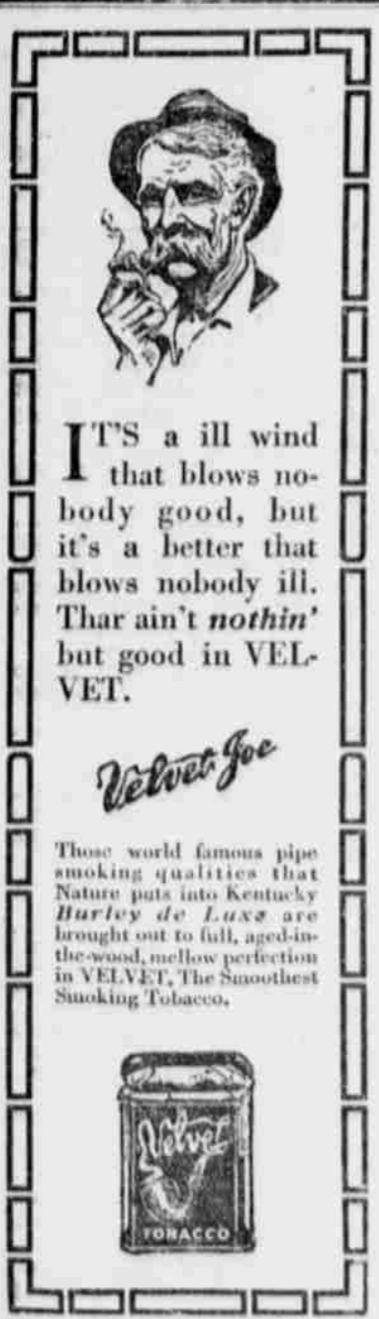

NEW DESTINATION

San Francisco Reports Say Barnacle Bound for East Coast—No Mention of Gold Hunting

According to reports from San Francisco the owners, builders and crew of the Barnacle have declared that they are bound for the East coast. No mention is made of gold hunting on the west coast of Mexico and South America, and the puzzle here is whether the men have changed their minds and expect to go to the seat of war in Europe.

The Barnacle is at present anchored off Sausalito in San Francisco Bay while the owners take in the Fair. No warrant asking a search of the vessel for articles missing immediately after her sailing from here have been issued. A great share of the articles that disappeared about the same time were eatables.

Captain Herman Edwards, of the Alert, states that when the Barnacle was anchored alongside the Alert he one morning found one of the gold hunters leaving his deck with a bucket of Alert coal in his hands. When asked where he was going the man replied that he "would try a bucket full" and that if it was any good he'd buy a ton or so.

BAND CONCERT

There was a record attendance at the Band Concert at the Opera House last Sunday afternoon, many being turned away for lack of room. CHAMINADE CLUB

One of the loveliest numbers sung in the recent recitals of the Chaminaide Club "The Hong Kong Romance," attracted a deal of attention and as an encore, the audience were left in greatest good cheer.

The singers were all fresh Friday morning for the new choruses, the closing work for the year.

The new work is especially beautiful though difficult, and each member will do a great amount of study ere each number is perfected.

To see so many mothers leaving their duties once a week in the morning to attend this singing school, studying in so painstaking a manner to follow their conductor in all the class harmony of the work is a revelation. It explains why the singing in recital is so full of enthusiasm, especially when sung before the student body, where sons and daughters, brothers and sisters form the audience. It is often claimed the sweetest songs are those of the mother to her child, and so it seems when these mothers and sisters give their perfected work, trying to present the world's best music. Mrs. Dana's paper on Intervals was decidedly comprehensive and showed an unusual amount of intellectual research. A beautiful floral square or mass outlined with tiny ferns a large "C" for Chaminaide in the center, made of red quill daisies, the moss covered with wonderfully fragrant double English violets, was presented by the Club to the president, Mrs. Stauff in appreciation of her untiring efforts in the management of the business, sometimes so arduous.

The new case for the club's music was in place, a fine piece of workmanship, the native wood being of especially beautiful grain and the dull finish gives it a very rich appearance.

The printed music of the club is fast accumulating and this cabinet is of ample size and an ornament to the lecture room of the library building. The following answered roll call:

- Miss Evelyn Anderson, Miss Beatrice Ayre, Mrs. Pearl Riley Ballinger, Miss Louise Blatt, Mrs. E. Chandler, Mrs. J. S. Coke, Mrs. F. E. Conway, Mrs. Levi Daigle, Mrs. Mair Dana, Mrs. Edwin Dolan, Mrs. W. N. Ekblad, Mrs. Carl Evertsen, Mrs. J. T. Hall, Mrs. E. S. Henderson, Mrs. Wm. Horsfall, Mrs. Jos. E. Knotts, Mrs. R. N. Lewis, Miss Clara Myren, Mrs. C. F. McKnight, Mrs. W. S. Nicholson, Mrs. Benj. Ostlund, Miss Edith Preston, Mrs. E. L. Robinson, Miss Genevieve Sengstacken, Mrs. B. H. Smith, Mrs. Chas. Stauff, Mrs. M. A. Sweetman, Miss Alice Tickell, Miss Nora Tower, Mrs. L. Tower, Mrs. C. H. Walter, Mrs. Geo. Watkins, Mrs. F. E. Wilson and two new members, Mrs. Dan Keating and Mrs. Lloyd W. Jacobs.

The concert to be given by the High School musical organization at the Banker Hill school house has been postponed to take place probably within two weeks. The students are busily practicing for the event.

AT THE GJERDRUM STUDIOS

Miss Mary Kruse will give a recital some time the latter part of April. Her program will be one of highest order. Miss Kruse will present numbers by Weber, Chopin, Grieg and MacDowell. Miss Kruse is one of Mr. Henrik Gjerdrum's most talented pupils.

WATER WASTE

Little drops of water dripping from many faucets and leaky fixtures makes a flood of waste. New washers are easily placed in faucets and does not require a plumber if there is a valve to shut off all the water from the house as there should be in every case. A new washer costs about nothing but if a leak is allowed to continue long, the valve seat may be cut and an entire new faucet required.

A faucet leaking to the extent of only separate drops of water will waste 16 gallons per day and 5840 gallons per year. A hole 1-32 inch in diameter is so small that an ordinary pin will nearly fill it, yet in one day 528 gallons or in one year 191,700 gallons of water will be wasted, which is as much as 3 or 4 families will use in the same time. Multiply the waste from one faucet by several hundred and the figures are so enormous that it is easily understood why water systems all over the country are trying to educate the public in preventing waste.

What Has Done So Much For A Clean City As Electricity?

Whether amid the whirr of the wheels of industry in factories—large or small—or in the quiet of the residential neighborhood, Electric Light and Power from Central Station—clean and efficient—has abolished needless grime and soil, at the same time giving better results at less expense.

A Still Wider Application of Central Station Service is bound to mean a still cleaner town. The segregation of the consumption of fuel for light and power in our power plant would eliminate the smudge which is invariably a part of the promiscuous individual consumption of fuel. Efficient methods of production mean that by the use of Central Station Service you will be assured of absolutely reliable power at less cost. Why not investigate now?
