

COUPLE RETURNS

C. TOWER AND WIFE RETURN WITH CONSTABLE

Husband Charged With Kidnapping Own Wife Taken in Custody at Florence as He Leaves the Stage There.

Chariemagne Tower and wife returned on the two o'clock boat from Florence with Constable McLaughlin. The justice court put Tower under $500 bonds to appear tomorrow for trial at 2 o'clock. He was given time to raise the bail, failing this he will have to go to jail, say the officers.

Charged yesterday with kidnaping his own wife, Chariemagne Tower was taken in custody as he left the stage at Florence last evening with his spouse and this morning started back for Coos Bay in charge of Constable Clark McLaughlin, arriving here about two o'clock. In the complaint sworn to by I. B. Poole, father of the young wife, Tower is charged with having "wrongfully, unlawfully and forcibly seized and confined Mildred Tower and kidnaped the same Mildred Tower with the intent to cause her to be secretly confined in the state of Oregon against her will."

Immediately after the warrant was issued Constable Cox was in touch with the officers up the beach with the result that Constable McLaughlin was waiting for the couple on their arrival in Florence. Until late last night there was a continual buzzing of long distance messages. "What am I being held for?" queried the son-in-law to the father of his wife. He was told to come back and find out. Mrs. Poole talked with her daughter, who is said to have stated her willingness to go with her husband for a week, providing she could return home at the end of that time. The final result was the asking of both the young people to return.

That the trip was premeditated on the part of the husband is pointed out by the officers who say the husband had a machine waiting in North Bend, a special boat at Empire and on the sand spit Ray Campbell with his machine. They sped up the beach toward Gardiner. It is said that Mrs. Tower fought against making the trip, though this report is not substantiated.

Last evening Jack Davis came to Judge Pennock wanting a warrant against Chariemagne Tower claiming that he and Robert Dillard went as security on $50 borrowed by Tower from Judge Hall, where he promised to repay at $10 a week. The warrant was not issued.

INSTITUTE SUCCESS

100 PEDAGOGUES IN ATTENDANCE AT SESSIONS TODAY

Dr. Sheldon, of University of Oregon, Gives Addresses—Lectures To Public This Evening At Library

The one days session of the Coos Bay teacher's institute opened at nine this morning in the high school auditorium. There were more than 100 persons in attendance through the morning and afternoon periods. This evening in the auditorium of the city library Dr. D. H. Sheldon, Dean of the Department of Education in the University of Oregon, will address the public on "Childhood and Youth in English Fiction."

Most interesting were the talks of the morning and afternoon. Dr. Sheldon held his audience at the early session discoursing on the details of assigning lessons, class room work from both the teacher's and the student's standpoint, and the condition of the recitations. Interesting points in psychology. Dr. Sheldon has learned the various attitudes of the child's mind and methods of procedure with different types of individuals. The coordination of these principles are the essence of advanced pedagogy.

At the afternoon period Dr. Sheldon talked on the differences pertaining between the German and the American schools, pointing out desirable points in each. He was for some time a resident in Germany and hence is well posted on his subject.

Dr. Sheldon is an interesting speaker. His lecture of this evening in the city library is designed as one appealing to the general public. "Opportunities of the consolidated school" was the discussion of F. A. Golden, county supervisor and Principal F. A. Gillilan, of the Coos River Consolidated School.

Professor J. F. Grubbs took a stand opposite to the generally advanced theory, that the young men and the young women should remain on the farm. His topic was "The Country Pupil in the Country School." A divergence in subjects is broadening and more of them characterize the city schools he pointed out and for this reason in all fairness to the student, he should be allowed to browse and take his choice, to "find himself."

Miss Anna Volz, the teacher of art in the Marshfield schools, gave a most interesting talk on "Why Art Should Be Taught in the Schools," following which the pupils of the second grade in the high school building gave an exhibition of folk dancing which the visiting pedagogues applauded.

At the afternoon session Superintendent R. A. Baker talked on the "Educational Status in Coos County" showing the rapid development that is being made and has been made during the last three years. Superintendent Raab, of the North Bend Schools discussed the "Possibilities of the Teacher's Association." The address slated by Dr. J. Tencher, Jr., secretary of the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society of Portland was cancelled. Mrs. R. E. Miller rendered several songs, accompanied by Mrs. Wm Horsefall and class of the sixth grade sang several selections. At noon the girls of the Domestic Science Department served a delicious luncheon to about 75 guests.

MRS. M'LELLAN DIES IN NORTH BEND

About to Undergo Operation—Too Weak For Ordeal; Death Marks End of Three Weeks Illness

Mrs. Catherine McLellan, aged 59 years, wife of John B. McLellan, of North Bend, died last evening after three weeks of illness. Death is said to have been caused by gall trouble. She was to have undergone an operation yesterday afternoon but was too weak for the ordeal.

The deceased leaves a husband and two sons who are Ben and Donald E. McLellan, both of whom live on Coos Bay. It is possible that the body may be shipped east to the old home in Minnesota for burial but this will not be known until relatives are heard from.

HUNTERS' LICENSE

Game Warden Thomas, Has Authorized Logging Camp Employes To Issue Game Permits

For the convenience of the men in the logging camps and to prevent the excuse that it was difficult to obtain license when they are charged with violation, Deputy Game Warden Thomas on his recent trips authorized the time keepers at the various Smith-Powers Camps to issue licenses to prospective hunters. He hopes thereby to help the men and reduce the intractions of the game laws.

DEBATERS LEAVE

WILL MEET TEAM FROM MEDFORD TOMORROW IN EUGENE

Spouters Leave On Early Morning Stage; Accompanied by Principal Hopkins; Winners Out For State Honors

Eugene has been selected by the Bandon and Medford high school debating teams as neutral territory for their debate of tomorrow evening for the honors of southern Oregon. This morning the Bandon "spouters" left on the stage for Eugene. The winners of this debate will represent this section of the state in May at the University of Oregon when teams from all over Oregon gather there to talk for the championship of the state.

The members of the Bandon team are Jack Kronenberg and George Stultz. They were accompanied by Mrs. Kronenberg who is going out for a visit and Principal H. L. Hopkins, of the high school.

Two months ago this team won the championship of the county, winning seven points against six by the Marshfield team. Inasmuch as the honors went according to the points Bandon secured the honor of spouting with Medford, the winner of her section.

Coach Harold Quigley, who was unable to accompany his team to the Valley stated when he was here that the great expense of taking the debaters to Medford might prevent the taking place of the debate. It was the compromise at Eugene, each team agreeing to travel to the most central point that enabled the boys to get away.

According to a custom each district of the state selects its best team through a series of contests and one team from each district meets finally at the University for the talking honors of the state. Last year Oregon City was the successful contestant.

While here Principal Hopkins called Professor Tiedgen regarding the securing of a speaker for Commencement this spring at the Bandon High School. A speaker has not yet been decided on.

IMPORTANT MASONIC SERVICE ON SUNDAY

Rector Browning of Episcopal Church Will Conduct Service for Masons and Preach Special Service

On the coming Sunday at 11 a. m. there will be a service at the Episcopal Church, Fourth street and Market Avenue, and by invitation of the Rector, all members of Blanco Lodge, No. 48 A. F. & A. M. are to attend in a body assembling at the Masonic Building at 10:30 and proceeding to the Church in a body. Sojourning Master Masons and members of the Eastern Star are cordially invited to participate in the service. Special Palm Sunday music by the choir will form a part of the program, and the Rector, who is chaplain of the Blue Lodge, will preach on the theme: Speculative Masonry—A building of God not Made With Hands. The Marshfield lodge numbers over two hundred members, and it is hoped that a large representation may appear at the service.

The Knights Templar have visited the Episcopal Church on several occasions, but in the nearly five years that Rev. Browning has been here, no service for Master Masons has ever been arranged, and it is hoped to make this a special one in the annals of the Lodge.

ACCIDENTS IN COOS COUNTY IN ONE WEEK

List of Mishaps Reported to Labor Commissioners Hoff from this Section of the State

SALEM Ore, March 26.—Forty accidents, none fatal, were reported to Labor Commissioner Hoff during last week. Fourteen of the accidents were in connection with lumber manufacture and logging, while 11 were in connection with railroad work. Following is the list of accidents: Brown, Ray, Marshfield, foot cut and bruised, logging.

Cassidy, F. A., Marshfield, foot bruised, lath mill.

Edwards, G. E., Marshfield, back bruised, sawmill.

Prosser, David E., North Bend, hip broken, railroad construction.

Peterson, Engle, Marshfield, leg injured, machine shop.

Armstrong, R. H., Marshfield, toe bruised, railroad yard.

Kesling, P. J., Marshfield, foot bruised, sawmill.

Tredder, B. B., Marshfield, two fingers bruised, sawmill.

CLARK JUMPS WELL

MARSHFIELD ATHLETE SOARS CLOSE TO SIX FOOT MARK

University of Oregon Knights of the Cinder Path Train For Big Columbia Meet In April

Less than three weeks are left for the spike athletes of the cinder path of the University of Oregon to train for the opening track event of the season, "the Columbia University meet in Portland where come representatives from at least six state colleges. Among the contenders from Eugene will in all probability be entered the name of Sid Clark, who last year was one of the best athletes in the Marshfield High School.

A trifle slow in getting his stride and the new form at the start of the season the new recruit seems to be coming into his own in the high jumping class. Word from the University states that he is "right on the heels of Muirhead and there will be some tall jumping if these men hold out as they are expected to." Muirhead, of Columbia University in Portland, is called by Coach Bill Hayward one of the greatest athletes that has even come to Eugene. A tall rangy fellow he is now high jumping close to the six foot mark.

Further the Emerald says, "It looks as though Coach Hayward will have someone in the high jump for the other colleges to sit up and watch." This tricky trainer of men last spring was in Marshfield and having watched Clark in action immediately turned his best efforts toward getting the young man enthused in the University that he might enter school. Clark went to Eugene in early February.

What else Coach Hayward has up his sleeve to spring on the other colleges of the state is a matter of conjecture. It is known that he has acquired at least two men for the dashes that are in the 10 second class on the century run. Carridge, of Kansas, a new arrival on the coast, is rated well up in the sprints; so is Goresky, a freshman from Columbia University. In the state interscholastic meet of last year this runner proved a blue ribbon winner in his class.

Last year the Oregon Agricultural College "gum-shoed" on the veteran trainer and took the Columbia meet by eight or nine points, the first time Oregon has lost in this meet for more than 10 years. To erase the defeat from his conscience the burly trainer is working his wits and his men night and day in preparation for the big meet usually watched as the criterion of the track meets for the rest of the spring season.

Weight men, Oregon has plenty. There is big Philbin, 220 pounds, who tosses the 16 pound shot like a little pill; Snyder, yellow haired athlete from eastern Oregon, does the same thing and Sam Cook, of Couer 'd Alene, in the discus and javeline events, "loses all control of himself" and heaves out of sight. Last spring Cook added materially in bringing "home the bacon" several times from Northwest track meets.

The broad jump is going close to 22 feet this early in the season and it is possible that the pole vault this year, some where in the Northwest, will bring out a candidate to negotiate the 12 foot mark.

As far as the hurdles go, Hayward is not confident though he places great credence in the ability of "Jack-rabbit" Boylen, red haired and from Pendleton. This same Boylen together with Peacock, Ford and "Lengthy" Loucks will probably be plucked for the relay team that Hayward has set great store by in former years.

STORY FOR TODAY

Two Marylanders, who were visiting the National Museum at Washington, were standing in front of an Egyptian mummy, over which hung a placard bearing the inscription, "B. C. 1187."

Both visitors were much mystified thereby. Said one: "What do you make of that, Billy?" "Well," said Bill, "I dunno, but maybe it was the number of the motorcar that killed him."—Chicago Journal.

ANGLERS PREPARE

AWAIT APRIL 1 AND OPENING OF SMALL TROUT SEASON

Passing of Equinoxial Storm Believe Nimrods Will Bring Better "Fishes" Luck

Little fishes, sizes six inches and under in length, for months have frisked in the cool waters of the lakes and streams, splashing in pure delight with full knowledge of the fact that even the most eager angler would be afraid to hook them and bring about the displeasure of the law that says, "Leave'em alone." But with the coming of April 1 all this is changed. Fishermen will get a supply of smaller hooks and hie themselves with big baskets farther up the streams, to come home at sun down with messes enough for the neighbors.

Fishing this season has been dull. That is the way the expert anglers dub it. They claim that the frequent rains have made it impossible for even the best of them to secure catches of more than 25 or so. This, by good fishermen, is characterized as "fishermen's luck."

That the present rain is the delayed equinoxial storm, is the belief. That with this cleared out of the way, the wind today had shifted to the northwest again, the Nimrods state that the fishing season of next Thursday will open strong and with all the earmarks of being the best in years.

Parties already in the stream this year have been disappointed returning home with but small messes as pay for their labors and often enough have they hooked the little fellows under six inches, only to sigh and toss them back into the water, hoping the while to get even next year when they measure up to standard.

SUCCESSFUL TRIP

J. H. Law Returns From Business Journey Through California

J. H. Law, of the Ladies Cleaning Works, returned today from a successful trip through California as an expert cleaner and demonstrator. He went as far south as San Diego and returned home with splendid endorsements from the leading dyers and cleaners in the Golden State. The Balloon Expert Cleaners and Dyers of San Diego paid Mr. Law for his process and gave him a certificate of the superiority of his process. Los Angeles, San Jose, Palo Alto and Bakersfield cleaners all endorsed Law's original methods.

GAME WARDEN SAYS MANY VIOLATIONS IN COQUILLE VALLEY

Returns to Coos Bay After a Ten Days Campaign During Which Three Violators Were Arrested

Deputy Game Warden Thomas returned from a ten-days' active campaign among the game law violators in the Coquille Valley. There have been many complaints of deer killing on the Middle and South Forks and the Game Warden says it must be stopped. He made three arrests and one man was fined and the trial of two others will be held later.

Mr. Thomas will return to Coquille Monday to investigate further reports of violations of the game law in that section and says if they continue he may find it necessary to move his home over there.

GUN CLUB TROPHY

WAS MADE OF TIN

Coquille Gun Club Did Not Make Application For Cup In Time And Disappointed Results

Editor Times: COQUILLE, Ore., March 26.—I notice an article in your paper written by your correspondent at this place which states that Fred Siggle won the "Fred Gilbert" loving cup and that he was proud of it. Your correspondent is laboring under a wrong impression. The cup was shot for and Fred Siggle got high score but as to him winning a cup to be proud of; far from it. The reason of this is that Coquille did not apply for the cup in time so they were in the same boat that the Marshfield Club was in. They did not receive the cup. All of the cups that were won on the day of the shoot were tin cups which were put up as a kind of a consolation prize. So the only cups that were won and of which the club can be justly proud of are mere tin cups.
