LOCALS BREVITIES

WEATHER FORECAST (By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.) OREGON—Showers tonight and Wednesday in the West; probably east winds, changing to southerly. LOCAL TEMPERATURE RECORD For the 24 hours ending at 4:43 a. m., March 31, by Benj. Ostlund, special government meteorologist: Maximum 57 Minimum 47 At 4:43 a. m. 49 Precipitation 0.36 Precipitation since Sept. 1, 1914 56.66 Precipitation same period last year 57.05 Wind: Southwest, cloudy.

Cigar Factory Moved.—The Forest cigar factory and Singer Sewing machine agency have been moved into a building on North Front street.

Service in Bunker Hill.—There will be service at the Bunker Hill school house this evening at 7:30 o'clock. There will be thirty minutes song service especially for the boys and girls. All are welcome.

Settlement Made.—Complete settlement has been made by the city with Mrs. James Kellond for injuries she received several months ago when she tripped and fell on a Broadway plank sidewalk. A warrant for $800 was issued by the city, the settlement being made through C. I. Reigard.

Elks Will Install.—The installation of officers of the Elks Lodge and initiation, will be held this evening in the lodge rooms, the election having taken place a short time ago. A request is sent out that all Elks be present. An elaborate program has been prepared for the occasion.

Pictures for Publication.—Rev. G. LeRoy Hall today was showing pictures taken for the Baptist Publication Society and which will be sent to the Exposition. They are of the logger's chapel at Wagner, the one that moves on skids, the Life-Line and various scenes in the woods of Coos County, where services are held by Rev. Hall.

Not Back Yet.—From several letters that have been received lately it seems doubtful that L. J. Simpson is expecting to return to the Bay for several weeks yet. He writes that he is held there on business. And from this it is taken that the opening of the Porter mill will not be for some time to come, possibly a month or two, according to the information received here.

Have Judgment, Want Money.—In a judgment issued some time ago Emil Helmo, representing the Marshfield Baking Company, was given a decision against Grillam & Son, formerly of North Bend, but now at Catching Inlet, for $41 and costs amounting to $18.15 and yesterday papers were issued in the justice court compelling the immediate payment of the money.

Awaits Commission.—Though tomorrow, April 1, had been set for the date which Postmaster Curtis would retire, Hugh McLain, Postmaster-elect, said today that his official commission has failed to arrive and pending its coming there is naught to do but watch and wait. It is expected the commission will be here in a few days as several letters have been sent to Washington.

Dr. Morrow on Way.—Dr. E. V. Morrow who left here a week ago for Portland and Calais, left the Rose City on Monday evening for New York according to the report received here. On April 11 he will leave for Calais by way of London. Dr. Morrow says that he will have charge of a unit in the surgical department of the allies hospital, this meaning he will have under him four surgeons and two nurses.

Jubilee Quartette Back.—The four singers of the California Jubilee Quartette who a week ago played and sang to crowded houses here, returned this morning from the Coquille valley where they had successful engagements in Bandon, Coquille and Myrtle Point, playing in the latter place last night under the auspices of the high school there. Today they left for Gardiner and tomorrow night appear at Scottsburg.

Many Applications.—There have been many applications received by the North Bend school board for the position of city superintendent of schools to take the place of Professor Raab, resigned. There has been no formal meeting of the school board for a week though yesterday some of the members went through the list of candidates which now number close to the 20 mark. It is possible that a meeting will be held this week.

Hurry Tax Payments.—The office and the hallway leading to the office of the tax collector was jammed yesterday and today to its utmost according to Geo. W. Watkins, who was over there on legal business. This was the last day on which the taxes could be paid without becoming delinquent. At least half of them must be paid before April 1 or penalties are added. This accounts for the big rush to the county seat by property owners.

Sues Grocery Company.—William Hendryx, of North Inlet and formerly of North Bend, today began suit and took out attachment papers against the Pacific Grocery Company of North Bend for $49.50 and six percent interest which he alleges was due him November 15, 1913 for some seed sold and labor done for the company. It is understood the firm states the transaction does not appear on their books. Constable Cox served the papers on them this morning.

It's Only Once a Year.—Bricks under tall silk hats and little round derbies that lay on the sidewalk, sawdust in the corn meal mush, pins in your chairs and chocolate coated blocks of wood—all these and more are on the program for tomorrow. Beware of pesky little "brats" that yell "April Fool" from corners when you kick the hat, eat the mush and sit on pins. Laugh, take it good naturedly and pass it on to the other fellow—it's the big once-a-year game.

Sister May Come.—R. O. Graves is in receipt of a letter from a sister he has not seen in years who writes that she may be in Portland the early part of April and asks him to come there to meet her. Her husband is a lawyer associated with the Department of Justice in Washington, D. C. and has been called out to Salt Lake to conduct a case and from there they expect to come to Portland and later here for a visit. Mr. Graves will probably go north to meet them if they come.

Underwent Operation.—A minor operation was performed on the nose of Albert Powers, son of A. H. Powers, in San Francisco last week, made necessary by an injury received in a football game in Marshfield a couple of years ago. The operation was successful and the young man is getting along finely.

Band Concert Sunday.—There will be a band concert on Sunday at the Orpheum Theater at 2 p. m. by the Coos Bay Concert Band according to Director Fenton, the concert this time being run in conjunction with the afternoon performance and for which a small charge will be made to include both entertainments. This will be the first appearance of the band as an independent organization and the members claim that they are coming back stronger than ever before.

Says Pitch Wood Burns Best.—For several days J. Tom Hall has had trouble in making the fire in his office burn and when yesterday the woodman dumped a load of wood at the foot of the stairs of the Eldorado Building Mr. Hall went down and looked the situation over. In the rain he spied two chunks, covered and full of pitch. He chuckled, grabbed the sticks and hurried back up stairs where he told Judge Hall of the find. "Good joke on somebody, don't you think?" he queried of the Judge. The latter looked at the wood. "Don't need to think," he declared, "It's on you. That's our load of wood."

Ball Magnates at Work.—Since the organization of the Front Street Waifs and the Central Avenue Boosters' nine, Manager Dillard, of the Waifs and Manager Crosthwaite, of the Boosters, have been mighty busy men, arranging schedules and signing on new players. They received a new suggestion yesterday, that is, to have the game staged as a band benefit. The fact that it would be the first organized baseball game of the year would be a drawing card, they say, and it would be of still more interest providing the Coos Bay Concert Band would share the proceeds. The plan will be suggested to the band members, and if they are willing there will be a parade to open the first game of the year, there will be music and everybody will go to see the big game of the National pastime.

New Metropolitan Touch.—All the big cities on the coast got jitney buses months ago; so did Marshfield. Some got fire trucks; so did Marshfield. Some of the cities have police patrols; so has Marshfield. Yesterday afternoon Chief Carter sauntered down the street—it was a quiet time. And then he spied Matt Erickson with a full cargo stagger against the big plate glass window of the Busy Corner Drug Store. After bending the glass in several places Matt essayed the street crossing. Too much for the Chief. He chuckled him in the stern end of a dray, made the rounds further down the street, got another passenger and drove the wagon down to the back door of the "Carter Hotel" where the guests were escorted to their rooms. The other man was John Dick. B. H. Long longed to come too and so he was given room. But they were all broke and Judge Butler found not one cent for the city treasury and the general fund.
