Moves Shooting Gallery.—A shooting gallery and confectionery store is being moved in at 139 Front street by J. E. Wasson, who now conducts a similar establishment and a bowling alley on North Front street. The bowling alley is not to be moved.

Bids in Furniture.—F. D. Fletcher, for the Sperry Flour Company, yesterday bid in the furniture of the Eastside Grocery at $150 under a judgment of the company against the firm some time ago. A. P. Davis, deputy sheriff conducting the sale. There will be no change in the business, according to Mr. Davis.

NOBLE THEATER TONIGHT

Clean, highest-class photoplays. First choice of the General Film Co. program and the cream of the independent output.

Miss Kathryn Williams in Selig's splendid two-part feature:

TILL DEATH DO US PART

An interesting and exceptionally interesting Selig dramatic tragedy, telling the story of a society girl and two men who are cast away on a desert island.

Kathlyn Williams and Wheeler Oakman, both of whom had prominent parts in "The Spoilers," play leads in the picture.

The other photoplays to be shown tonight will arrive late this afternoon so we are unable to give their titles.

You can always depend upon seeing an entire change of program, of uniform standard at this playhouse. Lower floor, 15c; balcony, 10c; children, 5c.

Tomorrow night—The seventh episode of "The Master Key."

Sunday night—Big Paramount feature, "The Unwelcome Mrs. Hatch."

Monday and Tuesday. "Tillie's Punctured Romance."

The entire house could have been sold for this attraction if we had sold reserved seats. Every one will have an equal chance for seats. Come early.

have been filed by Mrs. Hazel A. Cox for a legal separation from her husband Henry P. Cox, formerly a bartender in this city and now residing at Roslyn, Washington, from which place Mrs. Cox returned more than a year ago. She alleges cruel and inhuman treatment and asks to retain the custody of their three-year-old daughter.

Inconsistency, Downfall.—Because he was inconsistent C. Welch found himself lodged in the city jail this morning. Instead of confining himself to Welch's grape juice last night he broadened out and took in too much territory, hence too much fire-water. He was then without funds and a moratorium was declared much to the detriment of the general fund.

Have Several Engagements.—Not only will the University quartette appear in Marshfield but through the week they are in this county, will give concerts in North Bend, Coquille, Bandon, Myrtle Point, Gardiner and Florence according to word received from there this morning. It is more than possible that the collegiate warblers will later go in a body to the Exposition at San Francisco.

Has Judgment.—A judgment for more than $4,000 secured by the Robert Dollar Company against the Coquille Lumber Company took on another aspect when this afternoon A. P. Davis, deputy sheriff, went to the office of H. E. Coffin, cashier of the Smith Powers Logging Co. to garnish money alleged to be owing the Coquille Lumber Company, the First National Bank in this case representing the Robert Dollar Company.

Trial Tomorrow.—For 10 o'clock tomorrow is scheduled the hearing of Charles Isbahl and R. F. Schronborn before Justice Penneck on the charge of "abducting" an automobile belonging to Dr. Bull for a midnight joy ride. L. A. Liljeqvist, district attorney, left for Salem about 10 days ago and stated then he expected to be back in time to hear the case. He had not arrived today and the judge is wondering if another delay will have to be allowed.

Athletes Held Up.—Rainy weather of the last two weeks has brought to a standstill the activities of the high school track team as far as getting outside onto an open track is concerned. It had been planned to start the boys with their work immediately after the close of the basketball season but Jupiter Pluvius ruled adversely and as a result the sprinters are anxiously watching the wind vane and the weather predictions for the happy change. In the absence of Prof. Niles who has been sick, Prof. Grannis has been looking after the inside work of the athletes.

District Boundary Board.—There was a meeting of the school district boundary board at Coquille yesterday according to Judge Hall who was there on legal business, though he was not certain that any changes were made for this section of the county. The grouping of three districts at South Inlet, as proposed, for the building of a school building central to them all does not come up under this board but is a matter for the people themselves to vote on at the school election held in June. The same is true regarding the Catching Inlet project.

Digger for Ditch.—Finding that digging in soft mud by hand and with shovels is a tedious method and extremely slow and tiresome Robert Kellogg, engineer in charge of the opening of a drain ditch from the north arm of Mill Slough to the drain box near Central Avenue, has received a large "clam shell" digger which he expects to use. This machine literally eats mud and will be much quicker than the hand method. The ditch has been laid out and partially dug. With this completed it is expected that the long looked for draining of the north arm will occur.

been received here by the police today that D. J. Keel, wanted in Bandon for wife desertion and looked for here several days, has been arrested in Roseburg by Sheriff Quinne. Keeler is a logger and is said to have deserted his wife several times, refusing to support her. This time it was thought he would come to Coos Bay and the officers here and in North Bend were on the lookout. He was located in Myrtle Point where he disappeared and a wire was at once sent to Roseburg where it was known that Keeler had a trunk and personal effects. It is probably by keeping watch of this property that the man was located.

On Chautauqua Circuit.—Many here who remember Prof. A. F. Reddie of the public speaking department of the University, will be interested to know that this summer he has a 10 weeks engagement with the Ellison-White Chautauqua circuit extending up and down the coast and as far east as Montana. Prof. Reddie was here last winter in this county for a series of dramatic recitals, having appeared here at the Baptist church and also at the home of Mrs. Henry Sengstacken. His engagement is in "The Servant in the House," and he will be supported by a former member of the Baker Stock Company and another who was at one time with Sothern and Marlowe and Ralph Ash, a sophomore at the University.

Another Wants Tobacco.—Now the attorneys of the city are wondering if the convicts at the state penitentiary from this county have banded together in a general plea to the law expounders for tobacco money, that they may smoke and chew, passing away the time on the inside looking out. A short time ago, I. N. Miller received a letter from a man Francis, in the penitentiary asking for a little tobacco money. This morning, W. A. Ackerman received a plea some what similar from George W. Cummings, convicted forger from this county, claiming that the county owes him $3. He says that when arrested in North Bend the sheriff made him pay his fare to the county seat and, that being under arrest, he has figured out the county should have paid the fare and, therefore, the county owes him $3 which Mr. Ackerman will please collect.

Forenoon session at rink for beginners only, 9 to 12. Expert instructor, 50c.

SCHOOL ROOM NEUTRALITY

MRS. ELLA FLAGG YOUNG'S neutrality proclamation in which she warns teachers against taking sides in discussing the war with Europe is a thoughtful and considerate restriction. America stands for a democracy of sentiment that can be found in no other country under the sun. This is her glory and privilege. In her schools are found representatives of French and German and Slav and every other nationality.

If these children are to be taught the broad and safe road to peace and freedom, which is America's particular mission, they must be most carefully guarded against the dangers of race and national prejudice, the bane of Europe as shown in her present conflict.

Teachers have a stupendous opportunity in present conditions in America. It will be their duty to present to the coming generations a higher and saner attitude of mind, a broader and kinder basis for ideals, by which we may hope ultimately to lift the world beyond the reach of any such second calamity as it is now suffering.

It is in the schools, with the light of learning and the new receptivity of youth that a spirit of universal brotherhood must be fostered and demonstrated if it is ever to take the place of tyranny and force. No child in America should be made to suffer indignities because of the conditions which its race may be experiencing abroad. No child should be cramped or embittered by a sense of narrow prejudice or a spirit other than the broadest humanitarian attitude toward Europe's atrocious slaughter.

A "DANGEROUS" BRIDGE

On a recent trip up Cherry Creek a fisherman came to a foot bridge across the creek. The bridge was made out of a small log that sagged in the middle about five feet above the shallow creek. There was a sign on the end of the bridge that read something to this effect: "All persons are warned about crossing this bridge. It is dangerous and broken in the middle and anyone doing so does it at their own risk. This is no longer a public road and is not used for travel."
