Even Uncle Sam Was Interested

Uncle Sam's investigators were much interested in the way Clothcraft Clothes are made.

Especially when they found so few of the workers in those shops were changed from year to year.

Careful training, good surroundings, the most advanced machines, testing, inspection, and sanitary provisions—all these have helped to put more real value into Clothcraft All-Wool Clothes for men and young men.

Come in and see what solid profit you gain by buying Clothcraft at $10 to $20. No. 5130 Blue Serge Special at $15.00 is one of the best values ever offered the clothes buyer.

BORN.

OLSON.—To Captain and Mrs. B. W. Olson, South Tenth street, April 21, a daughter. Captain Olson brought the Adeline Smith in early and those aboard say he wore a wreath of smiles and came as fast as the vessel would travel, and it was hinted the news came sputtering over the wireless at an early hour.

Enjoy Outing.—Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Flanagan and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Proctor, of San Francisco, and Mrs. J. W. Bennett, are spending a few days at Lakeside where the gentlemen will try their luck at fishing.

Funeral Tomorrow.—The funeral of Keith Truman Collier, the 18-month old son of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Collier, of Catching Inlet, will take place tomorrow afternoon at one o'clock at the Coos River Cemetery, the Rev. Parker officiating. The Wah-ta-Wasa will carry the funeral party from the Collier home.

Assesses Mill Property.—County Assessor T. J. Thrift came over from the county seat this morning for the purpose of assessing the property of the C. A. Smith mill and the city property which belongs to this company. This assessment will not include the timber lands which have already been placed on the roles for this year.

Old Glory Flies.—One of the first acts of Hugh McLain when he took over the postmastership of Marshfield was to cast his eye aloft to the top of the building. No flag, "Not right," he said, "ought to have a flag," and out of his own pocket he purchased a well made Old Glory and it now flies aloft in the northeast trades, standing out, pleasingly marking the post office of Marshfield.

Sail With Heavy Cargo.—The good crafts J. L. Higgins and the Robert Tosack set sail last night and made a fast trip down Front street, arriving close to their destination in a sinking condition and only the timely arrival of the officers kept them from a dire fate. They were rescued and brought into the city's harbor of refuge and given anchorage for the night. Neither silver nor gold had they hence nothing doing for the general fund.

Seeks Divorce.—There was filed at the county seat today a suit for divorce, Mrs. Myrtle A. Edwards-Roberts, of Marshfield, seeking a legal separation from her husband, James Edwards-Roberts. The grounds alleged are desertion. There is one child, a girl of four years now in the custody of the mother. The couple were married December 22, 1909, and it is claimed the husband went east to Virginia in February of 1914 and has never returned.

Goes to Ten Mile.—J. L. Smith, county agriculturist, left on the North Star this afternoon for Ten Mile where he will be for the next week or ten days making the rounds of the dairymen with the aim of establishing a cow testing association among them. For the last two days he has been visiting the farmers of Willanah and Kentuck Inlets. He believes that an association can be formed at Ten Mile, most of the farmers there having expressed a favorable attitude.

Austrians Still Going.—Not a trace was reported today of the two Austrians who left a trail of bad checks in their wake. From Myrtle Point and Roseburg not a report of the men has come beyond the one of yesterday which stated a tall fellow answering the description of the supposed ringleader here was seen Sunday night near Myrtle Point and later in the vicinity of Sugar Loaf. The belief is that the men travel at night and the officers and perhaps sneak into Roseburg under cover of the darkness. It is practically assured that the forgers are not traveling together.

One License, Two Towns.—Acting under the belief that a license to sell fortunes in North Bend also covered the telling of fairy tales in Marshfield, two comely Gypsies came over this morning and began operations. A few minutes later the police interrupted them. The women protested that they had paid one license, but their pleas were unavailing and not being able to leave $6 each they were sent back to North Bend. They told the officers they would come back but failed to put in an appearance, evidently believing that people of Marshfield are far seeing enough without the aid of a seeress.

New Residents.—Mrs. R. F. Whitman with her little baby and mother, Mrs. Laura Beardslee, left on the afternoon train for Portland, where they will take the boat for Marshfield to join her husband, who preceded her some weeks ago. Mr. Whitman is the manager of the Golden Rule store recently established in Marshfield, and was connected with the one here in Roseburg for nearly two years. The Whitmans came from Idaho here and they have many friends who regret to see them leave, but wish them all manner of prosperity in their new home. Mrs. Beardslee will return to Idaho after getting her daughter settled.—Roseburg News.

Prof. Grubbs May Leave.—There was a meeting of the North Bend school board late yesterday afternoon and though nothing definite was decided on it is possible that a change may be made in the principalship of the high school. It is rumored that Prof. J. F. Grubbs, principal for the last four or five years may not be there next year. C. E. Maybee, clerk of the board, said at noon that Prof. Grubbs has not applied for his position next year. There has been talk in North Bend that Prof. Raah might be retained as principal of the high school though it is denied that any action has been taken on this question and Mr. Maybee said that there probably will not be until the next meeting of the school board.

Perseids

T. R. SHERIDAN will leave tomorrow for Portland on the Elder. A. O. PETERSON, of the Ten Mile country, is a Marshfield visitor. HERBERT LOCKHART was a visitor at the county seat yesterday. OTIS BURFORD, of Sumner, was a Marshfield visitor yesterday. B. F. ROONEY was an overnight visitor here from Wagner. HARRY PEOPLES of Powers, is a Marshfield visitor. EARL SAVAGE left today for Powers where he will spend some time. A. K. PECK went to Coquille this afternoon, called there on legal business.

A. SACCHI was a Marshfield visitor today from his ranch down the coast. N. A. NELSON, pay master of Hauser and Hauser, was in last evening from the Lakeside camp. A. S. HAMMOND, of North Bend, expects to leave for Portland tomorrow on the Elder. A. ANDERSON left today for his home at Lakeside, after spending a few days in town. ARCHIE KRUSE came over from the lower Coquille yesterday and is spending a few days in Marshfield. J. E. FORD of the Union Market is in Myrtle Point where he is superintending the shipment of a carload of sheep.

ANDY P. DAVIS, deputy sheriff, came over from Coquille last evening and spent the day here on business in connection with the office. JUDGE JOHN S. COKE returned last evening from Coquille and expects to be here until tomorrow or Friday. MRS. MARY ELIZABETH DOLAN and daughter Miss May Dolan expect to leave on the Elder tomorrow for Astoria where they expect to locate. MR. AND MRS. CHARLEMAGNE TOWER and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Poole left on the morning train for Coquille where they were summoned on grand jury subpoenas. J. M. DYER, of Marshfield, arrived here last evening and left this morning for Glen, Cal., where he

EQUAL TREATIES

ASK AID CHAMBER OF COMMERCE IN BIG MOVEMENT

To Enlist Commercial Bodies of America in Securing More Favorable Commercial Treaties

Acceptance of American manufactured goods on terms of equality with that of any other power, or in other words, the securing of desirable provisions to be inserted in future commercial treaties between this country and foreign powers and which would contain "most favored nation clauses" is the aim of the move placed on foot by the Chamber of Commerce, Wilmington, Delaware. A determined effort is being made by that body to secure the co-operation of commercial bodies over the United States for the purpose of urging Congressional action.

It is pointed out that such commercial treaties as we now have with France and with other countries expire in 1917. The letter states "we are of the opinion that the United States should refuse to enter into any negotiations with foreign powers unless the primary condition thereof be that this country receive "the most favored nation treatment" from all countries for American products, and that until such time as any country we are negotiating with agrees to such an understanding it is unwise for us even to initiate the negotiation of a commercial treaty with them.

Foreign products coming across the waters to our shores are admitted on a more liberal basis than are American goods in Europe. The latter states that the United States "should insist upon the entrance of our manufactures into such countries on equally as low a basis as we admit their manufactures. As regards articles upon which the protective duties have been in a large part or entirely removed we should insist that entrance into foreign countries shall be on the same basis as we are willing that foreign made articles shall come here."

Though the United States is one of the largest customers of France under normal conditions practically every nation of the world has better treatment in the shipment of their goods to France than does this country, so the communication states.

Foreigners received here with open arms in the disposal of their products put heavy restrictions on our products when taken into their countries. This has allowed them, it is pointed out, to come here and enter into a keen competition with American made goods, a fact largely due to the lower wages of Europe. This letter will be taken up at the next meeting of the Chamber of Commerce for a vote of the members and it is possible that with the voting of several hundred commercial bodies over the entire United States Congressional action will be taken to make a complete change in new commercial treaties with foreign nations.
