CHARLEMAGNE TOWER FREED BY GRAND JURY

District Attorney Scores Parents Who Mix "in Family Troubles." Brewster Maintains Silence

COQUILLE, Oregon, April 22.—Charlemagne Tower, accused and arrested on the charge of kidnaping his wife and brought back by officers from Florence whence he had fled with his spouse was turned loose yesterday by the grand jury, the charge against him being dismissed. District Attorney Liljeqvist heavily scored the mother and father-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Poole for their part in their affair, terming it "a family row."

Six weeks ago Tower, who had not been living with his wife for about four months, called her to North Bend one day from her parents home near Bunker Hill, and there in a special machine took her to Old Town and thence up the beach. The parents at once came before Justice Pennock and swore out a warrant charging him with forcibly kidnaping his wife.

The next day the couple were apprehended at Florence and in charge of Deputy Sheriff McLaughlin returned to Marshfield. Tower was released under $500 bonds.

It is stated that the costs have fallen on the state and that the party yesterday collected witness fees for appearing before the grand jury. It was then that the district attorney made an emphatic protest against the mixing of the courts in what he termed "family quarrels."

Walter Morgan Freed

Walter Morgan, four weeks ago arrested and charged with picking the pocket of Mrs. Wimmer in a front street dwelling was released yesterday and returned with his mother to his home in Bandon.

At the time the arrest was made more than $100 in bills was found in Morgan's pockets by Chief Anderson of North Bend. Morgan then partially admitted that he had taken the money. Mrs. Wimmer left for the north on the last Elder so that there was no complaining witness appearing against him to press that charge.

Brewster Silent.

Remarks from Harry Brewster are conspicuous by their absence, the man refusing to answer questions before the grand jury yesterday.

The man who robbed Gunder Severson and then threw him in the Bay to drown and who was captured at Camp 5, has proved to be a man of few words and it is said that little information was given out by him yesterday despite the volleys of questions. His case will probably come up again on Friday, it is said, on the return of Judge Coke.

No action has yet been taken in the Grinrod case other than to put the accused through a few questions. Tom Grinrod is accused of larceny from a dwelling, and after his capture broke jail and left a note stating he had committed suicide.

A WONDER DUCK WITH A GREAT RECORD

The following facts about a remarkable duck taken from the current issue of the Farm and Fireside.

"Word has just come to hand telling of a phenomenal egg-laying performance of a Pennsylvania Runner duck owned by John Slade. Mr. Slade has made affidavit that this duck, 'Victoria,' laid 358 eggs in 365 days, from October 6, 1913, to October 5, 1914.

'Victoria' began laying when five months and two days old. Her 'no egg' day was February 1st, 2nd, 5th, and 14th; July 8th and 19th; and August 8th.

"This, while an unofficial record, is not beyond belief when we consider the extraordinary laying qualities of the Indian Runner duck. A previous unofficial record in Australia, the land of great laying performances, claims an average of 320 eggs from a pen of Runners in 365 days."

FRONT STREET BALL TOSSERS ADOPT ALIAS

Hold Regular Practice Now for Spring and Summer Series—North Bend Next Sunday

Waifs are they no longer. Having jumped into class, they have changed their name. The cognomen is now Front Street Superbas and they claim no relationship to the sweet, virgulent and joyful weed of Havana. They are a baseball nine. They have signed up to play Sunday in North Bend with the North Bend Fire Department, thus marking the second in the baseball series of Coos Bay.

The third contest, staged for a week from Sunday, will be the all-interesting big league extravaganza between the Superbas and the Central Avenue Boosters.

From Manager Connie Dillard, of the Superbas, there came a wire this morning marked, Hot Springs, Arkansas, and thusly did it read.

The Front Street Superbas had their first workout yesterday and though it consisted of nothing more than tossing the ball and the ball around, a smile of satisfaction was noted on the features of manager Connie Dillard. When interviewed regarding the prospects of the coming season Manager Connie said, "I have the greatest aggregation of ball players in the country. I know they are the best men in their respective positions because they told me so and it is a hard matter to go them to lie. They won't even lie in bed."

ADS FILL CHURCH PEWS

"Are You Game? We Dare You to Come," Macon Notice Reads

MACON, Mo., April 22.—An innovation was adopted here by one of the churches this week and it brought results. It was a display advertisement for a prayer meeting, inserted at regular space rates.

As a direct result of the advertising the mid-week prayer meeting service at the Presbyterian church was attended by a crowd that packed the building.

The writer of the "ad" was W. J. Ward, secretary of the Macon Merchants' association. At the meeting he spoke on the subject of "Publicity as an Aid to the Church," and advocated the regular insertion of paid advertisements in the newspapers calling attention to church services in preference to handbills and placards.

Mr. Ward's prayer meeting advertisement was worded as follows:

Are You Game?

If you are one of those game fellows who will "try anything once," we dare you to come to the prayer meeting service at the Presbyterian church tomorrow night.

One fellow said to the person the other day: "A year ago I told one of your members who asked me to come to prayer meeting that the idea of spending an hour in the company of a preacher, three or four long faced elders and a dozen old women held no attraction for me, but I want to tell you that after attending the prayer meeting services for the last few months, and especially the last one, and enjoying the spiritual uplift that came from mingling with that red blooded bunch of ninety six people, I have concluded that prayer meeting beats pool and pinochle all hollow."

If you prefer some other church, go there, but "be game" and go to one of the mid-week church services in Macon tomorrow night.

If you happen to be a tightwad, it may interest you to know that this is one of the church services where they don't pass the hat—Publicity Committee, Macon Presbyterian Church.

Mr. Ward said: "I believe the church is treading on solid ground when it adopts newspaper advertising as an aid to its work. I don't mean simply announcements under the head of church news, or the spasmodic use of half a page for some evan-

STANDING TIMBER

Oregon has nearly one-fifth of the standing timber in the United States, or about 545,000,000,000 feet; Washington is next with 391,000,000,000 feet and Idaho with 129,000,000,000 feet.

gelist services, but as a week in and week out proposition. The display "ad," paid for like other ads, will bring results, and the church can afford to do it. There's no indifference, no want of sacredness about it; it is simply a use of the best means known, to reach the people and to invite them to our services. Every person, high and low, reads the newspaper. Through it is the only possible way of reaching everybody. I am satisfied it is the thing to do, and I believe interest and better attendance will be developed by it."

SCENE FROM "THE DEVIL" FIVE PART MUTUAL MASTERPICTURE PRODUCED BY NEW YORK MOTION PICTURE CORPORATION

"The Devil," one of the latest of the Mutual Masterpictures, has a wonderful cast and is in every way worthy of the time, trouble and money expended by Thomas H. Ince in adapting this play of Franz Molnar's in line with the Mutual's "better motion picture" policy to film purposes. The actors and actresses who impersonate the principal characters in this drama need no introduction to theatrical audiences.

Bessie Barriscale, who assumes the responsibility of making the principal feminine role effective on the screen, is called upon to do some difficult acting, but succeeds admirably in her efforts. Miss Barriscale is new to the movies. Her success on the speaking stage inspired great hopes for her. These hopes she has fully justified by her work in this, her first screen part. In "The Rose of the Rancho" and as Luana in "The Bird of Paradise" she left behind her impressions still pleasantly remembered by theatrical audiences.

As a co-star Miss Barriscale has no less celebrated an actor than Edward Connelly, whose appearance in George Ade's play "Marse Covington" was greeted with enthusiasm by critics the country over. Mr. Connelly plays the part of the Devil. His impersonation of the overlord of hades has a serpent-like quality that fairly leaps, sharp tongued, from the film.

MONEY MADE OUT OF PEANUTS

In the current issue of the Farm and Fireside Harry B. Potter, associate editor of that publication, writes an interesting and practically suggestive article entitled, "Why Not Grow Nuts?" in the course of which he describes the various nut crops grown in the United States and the profit to be made out of them. In regard to the peanut he writes in part as follows:

"The second most important nut in the United States is the peanut. Scientifically the peanut is a pea, and not a nut. But popular opinion has classed it as a nut because of its flavor. Like the English walnut, the peanut didn't become important until about 1870, though it had been known for a long time before.

"The peanut is now grown all through the southern part of the United States, and the 20,000,000 bushels raised in 1909 (last census) were worth about $18,000,000. The popularity of peanuts is due to the ease of shucking and the low retail price. The early age at which the American public learns to love this nut also helps to explain perhaps its remarkable popularity."
