LOCAL BREVITIES

WEATHER FORECAST

OREGON—Fair, light variable winds, mostly westerly.

LOCAL TEMPERATURE RECORD

For the 24 hours ending at 4:43 a. m., April 29, by Benj. Ostlund, special government meteorologist: Maximum 58, Minimum 43, At 4:43 a. m. 43, Precipitation .41, Precipitation since Sept. 1, 1914 59.57, Precipitation same period last year 62.40, Wind: Northwest, cloudy.

Builds House.—John Tellefson is erecting a modern bungalow at Eastside. He and members of his family now have several houses there which they rent.

To Hatch Pheasants.—Dr. Geo. E. Dix today sent a number of Bantam hens to the Frank Rogers ranch on South Coos River to hatch Chinese pheasant eggs. The Chinese pheasants do not hatch in captivity.

Rain Stops Cars.—The auto stages between here and Coquille were able to operate this morning, using light cars so as not to cut the roads too deeply, but this afternoon the frequent showers had caused their discontinuance.

Open New Camp.—J. L. Aasen who was here from Coquille today said that he expected to close up his camp at McKinley in about two weeks. They are getting their new camp at Rink Creek in readiness to operate as soon as the lumber business picks up.

New Elks.—Joe Williams and Gordon Rasmussen were elected to membership by the Marshfield Lodge of Elks last evening and will be initiated in a week or so. Following a short business session, the Elks gave their monthly dancing party which was enjoyed by about thirty-five couples.

Recovery Lost Article.—Tuesday a found ad was inserted in the want ad column of The Times for a lady's belt picked up on Front St. Yesterday Mrs. O. Hansen came to the office, paid for the ad and was given the article which she had identified.

May Buy Cafeteria.—David Alexander has closed up the White Elephant restaurant on Front street. He is thinking of buying out the cafeteria in the Lloyd Hotel building, the papers for the sale all being made out but not yet signed. Mr. Alexander has not yet made up his mind to the sale.

Moose Plans.—Mel Duncan has been appointed a delegate from the Marshfield Moose Lodge to confer with the Bandon lodge about the date of the Coos County Moose Day doings. The Marshfield lodge wishes it fixed at a time that will not conflict with the proposed San Francisco excursion.

Goes to California.—Miss Dorothy Kibler, for a time linotype operator at the office of the Coos Bay Harbor at North Bend, will leave tonight on the steamer Nann Smith for California. With her brother she expects to spend part of the summer in the Yosemite Valley. Miss Kibler was connected with the Harbor office for several years past and is one of the best linotype operators in this part of the state.

Debate Christian Science.—Rev. J. Knotts announces that Sunday evening at eight o'clock in the Methodist Episcopal church he will "turn the X-ray of Gospel Truth on Christian Science." This will be a rebuttal on the talk Tuesday evening by Bliss Knapp on "Christian Science."

Mrs. Catching Buried.—The funeral of Mrs. Patsy Catching, a pioneer of Coos County who died at her home near Summer on Tuesday night, was held today from the family residence at one o'clock. The services were in charge of Rev. Knotts of this city. Many old friends gathered to pay their last respects to the woman they had known so long and well.

Get Ribbons.—Dr. Geo. E. Dix and Frank Laise have received the prize ribbons which their dog, Owen Kildare, won in the recent Seattle dog show. The dog carried off all the honors in the Irish setter class and besides the ribbons, a cup, which was awarded him has not yet been received here. He will probably be entered in the dog show at the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

Council Held Up.—Though there was a meeting of the Eastside City Fathers this week they are held up regarding the protest that has been made on the Coonston street improvements. A unanimous vote of the Council is necessary to overcome this opposition, according to the Eastside charter, and Councilman Bailey has been gone more than four weeks into Curry County.

It Almost Snowed.—The air was frigid this morning, very frigid, and for a time it looked as though Coos Bay would have a snow storm. In fact there was more than an inkling of such a calamity for through the air there fluttered minute frost particles, white and snowy, but old King Winter was fooled by the thermometer in his attempt to come back and turn Spring into Winter.

Ticket Committee Works.—A ticket committee of the Fellowship Club was at work today and this afternoon promised there will be at least as large a crowd as last time to attend the banquet of next Tuesday evening at the Guild Hall of the Episcopal Church. The committee members are J. W. Motley, Dr. G. W. Leslie, Lionel and Harry Gordon, Frank D. Cohan, W. A. Ackerman, A. K. Peck, J. E. Montgomery, Stewart Lyons and W. A. Reid.

Carrot Company Leaves.—Finding business poor and the weather worse, the Baucher-French Carnival Shows last night packed up their tents and apparatus and left on the Elder at noon for Portland from which point they expect to show down through the Willamette Valley. The company received very little support here. They came last week from Eureka. By their going the general fund of the city loses a license fee daily of $12.50. They were to remain until Saturday.

Captain O'Kelly Buried.—Many Eagles and old friends gathered yesterday afternoon to pay their last respects to Captain J. A. O'Kelly who was buried in the Odd Fellows cemetery, Mrs. O'Kelly, mother of the deceased was at the funeral. She is now staying for the time being at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Ostrow, First street. It is understood that Harry J. Kimball has been appointed administrator of the estate which consists of three gasoline boats, a house in North Bend and several lots.

J. Tom Hall Funeral.—The Circuit Court will adjourn at noon tomorrow out of respect for J. Tom Hall, whose funeral is to be held at 2 p. m. Friday from the family residence at 994 West Commercial avenue. Rev. Robert Browning will preach the sermon and the last rites at the grave will be in charge of the Knights of Pythias, of which the deceased was a prominent member. Mrs. Sarah Tenbrook, of The Dalles, has sent word that she expects to arrive this evening. Interment will be in the Odd Fellows' cemetery.

Millicoma Club to Elect.—This afternoon at four o'clock balloting for the new officers of the Millicoma Club commenced and the polls will remain open until 8 p. m., at which time the annual business meeting of the members is to be held. The two candidates running for president are Charles Hall and D. Y. Stafford, and it is expected the race will be a close one. Varying the precedent of former years there will be an entertainment tonight after the business meeting. There will be music, stunts and will end with a "hot dog" feed.

Phone Line to Powers.—The telephone company is figuring out a method of putting a telephone line into the new town of Powers for the general use of the public. At the present time the Smith-Powers company has a line running to their camps and offices there from Myrtle Point. It is probable that the phone company will use the poles now installed, stringing their wire from Myrtle Point to Powers where they will put in a pay station. As the town grows it is expected a regular exchange may be installed with phones for the business houses and homes.

Three Musketeers.—A gallant crew it was that greeted Judge Butler this morning in the police court. "Hooray my hearties," he welcomed and bowing low the trio answered, "We're glad to be back, me lord." The judge called the role. Erick Bird, John Carlson and Milton Hurst responded. Judge "hawled" out the latter for repeating and Milton humbly begged a thousand pardons and said he had no money. By a process of mental "number work" the judge figured out it would be $15 for the general treasury and was about to compliment the police on their haul when he discovered that there was only $5 in the crowd, Mill Hurst having already run up a little bill on the city. The men were discharged.
