Interesting News Notes of Northwest

Holstein Brings Record Price.
NORTH YAKIMA, Wash.—Bonnie Ormsby Lass, a seven-year-old Holstein cow, sold for $2775 at the Mills sale to the Hollywood Company of Seattle, a new West Coast record. A two-day-old heifer calf sold for $600. A great many farmers are going into the hog and beef cattle business, diversified farming being the order of the day.

Largest Cement Plant.
OSWEGO, Or.—The new $750,000 Portland Cement Company plant at Oswego is almost completed and is expecting to start operations in the near future. This will be the largest cement plant in the Pacific Northwest.

New Lumber Company.
KELSO, Wash.—The Eufala Lumber Company has been incorporated and will be in operation in a short time. Arrangements for a big camp at Eufala has been completed. The owners of this company are all experienced men, being closely connected with the Eastern-Western Lumber Company, one of the oldest concerns on the Pacific Coast.

Start Big Saw Mill.
KLAMATH FALLS, Or.—The H. Edmonds Lumber Company has been incorporated and the erection of a large saw mill near Olene has already been started, which assures the building of a plant that will saw 3,000,000 feet of lumber this season. All the machinery is on the ground and the company has purchased 20,000,000 feet of pine timber.

New Creamery in Operation.
ARLINGTON, Or.—A large, well-equipped sanitary creamery has been built here by a New York firm. The creamery has been in operation since February 1, and now reports a very profitable business.

Erect Cheese Factory.
CENTRALIA, Wash.—A new cheese factory is being erected here and has already secured the contract for milk from 1000 cows. This is a splendid dairy section, with a very promising outlook.

Beet Sugar Factory Assured.
EUGENE, Or.—The drainage and irrigation laterals for the drainage and irrigation of a large tract of land northeast of Eugene has practically been completed, which assures the building of a large beet sugar factory by the Eccles Estate.

Big Crops in Linn.
LEBANON, Or.—Linn County will have a record-breaking grain and potato crop this year. The grain acreage this Spring exceeds any previous year by thousands of acres. An unusual acreage of the river bottom land in the Santiam Valley has been planted to potatoes.

Double Cherry Output.
VANCOUVER, Wash.—Last season the Clark County Growers' Union in this city canned 109,000 pounds of cherries. This year the output will be doubled. The indications for a splendid cherry crop are the best ever seen in this territory.

Opens New Farm Section.
KLAMATH FALLS, Or.—Most of the work for the finishing of the Klamath Reclamation Ditch has been contracted and the reclamation service reports that the ditch will shortly be in operation. This will open up a splendid farming section and means much to Klamath County.

Plants Much Wheat.
WALLA WALLA, Wash.—Believing that the price of wheat will be higher this year than last year, when he received $1 a bushel, George Drumheller has planted 8500 acres of wheat, which is a new record in the Inland Empire district. Mr. Drumheller expects to market $250,000 worth of wheat this year.

Big Crop For Wenatchee.
WENATCHEE, Wash.—The splendid weather and fine condition of the fruit trees assures Wenatchee Valley of a larger crop than last year, which means that more than 6000 carloads of fruit will be marketed from this valley this year.

Record Shingle Run.
KELSO, Wash.—Last week the McLane Shingle Mill made the largest run since it began operation two years ago. More than 2,700,000 shingles were run last week. The mill has a capacity of about 500,000 shingles daily, and conditions assure a steady run throughout the entire season.

Her Affectionate Family.
Reference at a recent dinner was made to affectionate families, when Congressman John W. Abercrombie, of Alabama, was reminded of a happy little incident along that line.

Some time ago a fond father attended the graduation of his pretty daughter from a fashionable seminary, and at the close of the exercises the head of the institution rushed up to papa with hands enthusiastically outstretched. "I want to congratulate you, Mr. Smith," said he with great volubility, "on your very large and extraordinary affectionate family!" "Large and affectionate family!" wonderingly repeated Mr. Smith. "Yes," was the happy rejoinder of the principal; "during the last term all of Miss Smith's 10 brothers have called for her to go motoring no end of times, while John, your eldest son, has taken her to the theater twice a week."—Philadelphia Telegraph.
