

SOCIETY GOSSIP

NAME SON

Mr. and Mrs. Jay B. Tower whose home was gladdened this week by the arrival of their first child, a son, have decided to christen him Jay Walter Tower. The first name is for the father and the second name for the two grandfathers, Walter Hill and Dr. Charles Walter Tower.

B. Y. P. U. BONFIRE

Last evening over sixty young people, members and friends of the Baptist Young People's Union, gathered around a huge roaring snapping bonfire at the home of Pastor Bassford and wife and enjoyed one of the biggest times of their lives in roasting marshmallows, "hot dogs," singing songs, playing games and telling stories. During all this merry making, the kind ladies of the church were busy preparing delicious refreshments which were served around the bonfire.

Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Patchett, Mr. and Mrs. Alva Doll, Mrs. J. C. Doane, Mrs. D. D. Ross, Dr. and Mrs. H. M. Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Bargelt, Mrs. J. Nagle, Mr. and Mrs. Erickson, Rev. and Mrs. A. F. Bassford, the Misses Kathleen and Hannah Fitzgerald, Genevieve Gosney, Dorothy and Lois Bassford, Florence Willey, Anna Downs, Louise Thompson, Leona Post, Lillian Cook, Myrl Cox, Mary McArthur, Ruby Carlson, Velma, Carrie and Rilla Ross, Olson, Grace Fulton, Alpha Mauley, Frances Lang, Zella Wallace, Glenda Farrell, Alice Tickell, Clemence Wright, Florence Pierce, Marjorie Fulmer, Bernice Patchett, Irene McPherson, Kathryn Colombo, Della Oldland, Vera Carroll, Mabel Immel, Helen Stack, Miriam Wright, Besse Flanagan and Messrs Wayne Gosney, Howard Kelley, Paul Bargelt, McDuffee, Ray Davis, Al Nicholson, Harry Swartz, Dudley Hill, Chas. "HELLO" GIRLS PICNIC

Last Wednesday evening the employees of the Coos and Curry Telephone company were hostesses at a moonlight excursion to the sand hills leaving Marshfield at 7:30 on the Alice H. and picking up the North Bend merry-makers at 8:00 o'clock. At the sand hills they were joined by six of the Hansen and Hansen boys who had walked from the camp down to the scene of enjoyment and enjoyment is "right." A huge roaring bon fire was the center of attraction around which the young people sang songs, old and new, played games, told stories and fairly split the air with shouts of laughter as some genius of wit would contribute his little "yarn." At midnight a regular picnic lunch was spread on the sand, but strange to say, it disappeared in a rapid fashion; not so strange either, when one stops to consider the nature of young people's appetites after a lively chase up and down sand hills.

At a late hour, the picnicers returned home, all wishing for another such occasion at an early date.

Among those present were: the Misses Eliza Ayre, Josephine Truman, Myrtle Miller, Harriett Callins, Bess Ayre, Anne Holland, Jennie Hall, May Gaines, Ruby Brigham, Elvira Frizeen, Nellie Holland, and Messrs. F. D. Mitchell, Geo. Gettings, North Bend is giving the first of Jimmie Martin, Mehlmann, Art Lunca series of picnics at Cooston.

strum, Wm. Kaiser, F. A. Franz, Jess Wagner, Melvan, Earl Gates, Clifford Gaines, Noble Pitman, Hindmarsh.

ST. MARY'S GUILD

The St. Mary's Guild of North Bend was socially entertained on Thursday of this week at the home of Mrs. C. M. Byler.

The ladies sewed and chatted and towards evening the hostess served dainty refreshments. Arrangements were made for a public card party to be given Tuesday evening, May 18, in Taylor's Hall, and every one is cordially invited to attend, as these affairs are always made most pleasant for all who attend.

The ladies out last Thursday were: Mrs. Temple, Mrs. Walter Smith, Mrs. Geo. Everitt, Mrs. Marshall, Mrs. Dennis Hill, Mrs. I. B. Bartle, Mrs. A. A. Leighton, Mrs. S. S. Lighton, Mrs. A. Phillips, and Mrs. C. M. Byler.

In two weeks the Guild ladies will meet with Mrs. Geo. Everitt.

PIPERS GROVE PICNIC

A picnic to Piper's Grove last Sunday was given by Mr. and Mrs. Madden in honor of their daughters, Misses Catherine and Marie's birthday. While the lunch was being prepared, which was equal to any banquet ever put up in the White House, the boys and girls engaged in a base ball contest, Miss Jessie King making a sensational slide to first base. The afternoon was spent in swinging and story telling. Many good pictures were taken. Some of the children wandered away and answered the supper call by featuring the prison march. Joe Winsor acting the part of rear guard. The following were invited to celebrate the Misses Collins' birthday, Mr. and Mrs. Gillette, Mr. and Mrs. Hoelling, Misses Ethel Connors, Elizabeth Hoelling, Ottilia Hoelling, Jessie King, Anna Truman, Freda Holm, Marjorie Swearingen, Maud Martin, Vera O'Loan, Hattie Hage, Anna Reed, Olive Phillips, Eliza McKay, Irene Deweese, Gladys Bean, and Mable Wickman, Eugene Johnson, Arthur Harris, Shannon Mitchell, Percy Phillips, Tom Hage, Joe Winsor, August Hoelling, Jack Hafner, Harry Conroe, Herbert Morton, Al Nunez, Roy Carr, Harold Simpson, Tony Eberhart, Leo McLain, Dick Rogers, Al Mercer, Will Davis.
