M. C. MALONEY, Editor and Pub. DAN E. MALONEY, News Editor Official Paper of Coos County Official Paper City of Marshfield.

Address all communications to COOS BAY DAILY TIMES. A NEWSPAPER'S VALUE

A REAL newspaper has a much-needed value to its readers, as well as a news value, primarily the home news paper because it wants to know what is transpiring in the community and the paper that creates the local news fairly that reflects it without bias or prejudice.

But the advertising columns of a real newspaper are likewise of large value to the readers. In them are set forth the special offers of the day. A perusal of these advertisements means more intelligent buying, means economy, opportunity and the paper that has the confidence of the merchants, that is deemed by them to be a good advertising medium, is from the standpoint of the advertiser for the sake of far more value than is the paper that is viewed with distrust by the business man, whose columns are read perfunctorily and through courtesy only.

The paper in which all the leading stores advertise is of far more value than is the paper that is patronized by only a part of the stores. That goes without saying. Advertisements in a paper that treats the news fairly is of far more value to the advertiser than advertisements in the paper whose news columns are viewed with distrust. The reader can reduce the cost of living by perusal of the store news, and the people of Coos Bay can find the most complete store news, as well as the most complete local and general news in the Coos Bay Times. It is the favored advertising medium because, for one reason, its news service is trustworthy; it is likewise the favored paper in Coos County homes.

WILL MAKE STRONG RACE (From Salem Capital Journal) Mayor L. J. Simpson has resigned his office at North Bend, after twelve years of continuous service, in order that he may begin at once his campaign for Congressman in this district. He has a million dollars, is a business man and will probably run a strong race in the Republican primaries against Congressman Hawley of this city, who defeated another North Bend man last year hands down.

WITH THE TOAST AND THE TEA

GOOD EVENING He that is choice of his time will be choice of his company, and choice of his company—ferret Taylor.

BREATH OF THE MORNING Sweet breath of morning— How' gay is the day! My heart makes a song— For the joy of the way! My heart makes a song— And my wandering eyes Look out on the world— In an endless surprise.

TO THOSE THAT REMEMBER— All the beauties of spring— The beautiful birds— And the songs that they sing— The blue of the sky— And the green of the sea— Is that they remember them—

How old is the world— I know not, nor do you; I know, only this— That it's good to know— I know, only this— That it's good to know—

When the sun looks down at a happy home— And the stars look down at a happy home—

A good life is a good thing— When the sun looks down at a happy home— And the stars look down at a happy home—

Nothing was more as big as the world as good health.

Municipal Ownership at Eugene Pays City A Handsome Profit

Eugene, Oregon, is preparing to retire $50,000 of its warrant indebtedness on August 1, and sinking fund accumulations are now sufficient to retire over one-fifth of the city's entire bonded indebtedness. This satisfactory condition of affairs has been brought about through the successful operation of the municipal water light and power plants which are earning good dividends, although the rate for light and power has been cut almost in half since the municipal plant was installed.

ALLEGANY ITEMS

(Special to The Times.) Gould's camp was shut down for a couple of days last week as the boiler on one of the engines sprung a leak. It was patched by Mr. Kramer from the C. A. Smith shops, and work was resumed at once.

N. E. Daggert is hauling lumber for road work on the West Fork. There was a pleasant surprise at the home of Gen. A. Gould Friday evening when the neighbors walked in bringing their refreshments and musical instruments with them. The evening was pleasantly passed by all, with music and conversation.

Dr. James Richmond went down Saturday morning to attend to some business matters and secure berths on the Nann Smith for the next trip to California. School on the West Fork began Monday, May 10. We did not learn the name of the lady who is to teach.

WANT BRIDGE RAISED

People Say Navigation on Tallcoos Lake Will be Spoiled The Florence West says: "A meeting of the residents of Fiddle Creek was held at Ada school house to confer with a representative of the railroad company in regard to the bridge across the arm of Tallcoos Lake below the mouth of Fiddle Creek.

The people there state that the bridge as planned by the railroad company, would be only about four feet above high water and that it would seriously interfere with the navigation of the creek and make it impossible to get through with a raft of logs.

WILL BUILD ROAD

Glenada Plans An Outlet From City to the Railroad. GLENADA, Ore., May 13.—The Glenada city council has ordered a special election to authorize an issue of $10,000 bonds. The sum realized from the sale of the bonds is to be used to acquire right of way for and to construct a roadway from the western boundary of Glenada to the railroad. The construction of this road will put Glenada only ten minutes by auto from the depot.

Other road improvements in Glenada are contemplated, one of the most important of these being the building of a road from the center of the town to the lake resort in the south. This will give all tourists coming to this section ready access to all Siuslaw towns, the ocean beach and the lakes just south of Glenada.
