

BALL FIENDS CLASH

COOS BAY CONCERT BAND TO LULL THE FRACAS

With an Hour's Concert Will Furnish Curtain Raiser for Superbas and Boosters

When His Nibs, the Umpire, shouts "Play Ball" tomorrow afternoon and yells out the "batteries for today," there will be music by the band, loud huzzas of the congregated populace and the start of the biggest ball game of the season, the Front street Superbas, the cigar wrapper boys, in terrible conflict with the Central Avenue Boosters. The time is 2 p. m., and the place, the North Bend ball park.

The weather man promised a full share of sunshine. The ground has been worked over. The Coos Bay Concert Band will, and this is included in the price of admission, give a concert between two and three p. m. with the ball game immediately afterward.

GAME WARDEN AIDS NATIONAL BIRD CENSUS

Results to Show Effectiveness of the State and Federal Laws and Increase or Decrease of Birds

A bird census is being made by the Department of Agriculturists in every section of the United States. Its purpose is to determine the effectiveness of the present state and federal bird laws, what changes, if any, are necessary, and whether or not the birds are on the increase or decrease.

Game Warden Thomas, with the aid of several interested naturalists, is making a bird census in his territory. Every month he makes a report for the department. Traveling through his territory the game warden takes keen notice of his feathered friends.

The season in which they breed must be noticed, the number of pairs of birds nesting and where they build their nests, and the times of the year that they disappear and reappear.

These reports are sent to the department there to be filed with thousands of others and it is from these that subsequent charts are to be made of the various birds, species, and where they are found most frequently.

WHISKEY IN DEMAND

Large Withdrawals of Stock from Bond in England

LONDON, May 13.—The demand for whiskey, in anticipation of government action either in the direction of largely increased taxation or of prohibition, has been so great that dealers' stocks have been depleted and retailers have begun to speak of the possibility of a scarcity. There have been exceptionally large withdrawals of stocks from bond.

In the national drink bill prepared by George B. Wilson, secretary of the United Kingdom alliance, the annual expenditure of Great Britain in drink is computed at over $821,000,000.

LEARNING TO SAVE

Children in German Schools are Being Taught Economy

BERLIN, May 13.—The schools are undertaking their part toward educating the people in economical living. Boys attending the Berlin schools are now bringing home a printed circular to be hung up in their homes, showing in detail how food can be saved and best used—a sort of ten commandments for war-times. It bears the caption: "A rallying cry to German's Youth," and has as its motto: "Let us all be fighters in the cause." The ten commandments are as follows:

- 1.—Everybody must save, for only if everybody saves will Germany's supplies hold out.
- 2.—Waste no food, not even the most unimportant.
- 3.—Take time for eating, and chew thoroughly.
- 4.—Avoid all eating between meals.
- 5.—Eat rye instead of wheat bread and be economical with bread.
- 6.—Be economical with butter, and eat cheese, fruit sauces, and marmalade instead of butter.
- 7.—Eat abundantly of fresh vegetables so as to save meat, fats and bread.
- 8.—At table call for potatoes in the skins.
- 9.—Buy chocolate, and sweets and send to the soldiers at the front—we can gladly dispense with these things.
- 10.—In all that you do, remember that you can contribute your modest share toward helping create the new Fatherland that we are all hoping for. Practice self sacrifice and work.

Various remarks are added to these commandments, of which the following is a specimen: "Be careful to eat everything from your plate; otherwise much is wasted. Thus 20 grammes of fat is wasted for each person in Berlin every day in washing the dishes. If these 20 grammes were saved they would amount for the whole population, to 175,000 pounds of fat a day for Greater Berlin."

300,000. Over $517,000,000 is spent in beers, $50,000,000 in wines and the rest in hard spirits. This puts the average expenditure for each individual at 69 gallons of spirits, 28-78 of beer and .25 of wine, costing $17.50.

DUMB MERCHANTS

IT MIGHT WELL BE SAID THAT "THERE ARE NONE SO DUMB AS THEY WHO WILL NOT SPEAK."

There are merchants who would consider themselves sorely afflicted if they could not talk, yet who willfully and deliberately place themselves in the silent ranks of the non-advertisers.

In the modern business world the non-advertiser is like the unfortunate mute, but with this handicap:

HIS FAILURE TO UTILIZE THIS POWERFUL modern weapon—publicity—is a reflection on his courage and intelligence.

His voluntary silence—his failure to tell his story to the world—encourages belief that his story will not stand scrutiny.

For a merchant's proposition must have substantial merit if it is to be advertised successfully in The Coos Bay Times. It is there subjected to the censorship of both The Times and The Times' highly intelligent body of readers, trained to demand sincerity and cleanliness in advertising.

Times readers know that Times advertisers are the liveliest, most progressive, most responsible of all those seeking their patronage.
