Boys Ford.—Dick Richards has purchased another Ford for the Bandon-Marshfield auto stage line, making three in the service.

Get Electric Lights.—Frank Ackley came in today from Powers and states that they now have electric light service there.

Baby Dies.—The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Enlow of North Bend died Thursday after a short illness of a complication of diseases.

Crushes Toe.—Mrs. W. H. Ashman dropped a stick of wood on her foot and crushed her toe. The injury is a very painful, although not serious.

Has Carbuncle.—C. H. Coddling of Millington was in Marshfield today receiving treatment for a painful carbuncle. His head was swathed in bandages.

Program Committee.—Chairman R. M. Jennings has appointed Dr. Leslie, W. G. Chandler and Tom Bennett as members of the program committee of the Fourth of July arrangements.

Want Baseball.—Norm Johnson and other baseball fans are endeavoring to have the Fourth of July Committee set aside a purse for some baseball games during the celebration.

Brother On Battleship.—J. Q. Jarvis' young brother is now on the U. S. S. South Dakota, which is at Portland during the Rose Festival. He was formerly in the Navy Hospital Corps at San Francisco.

Seeks Divorce.—Divorce proceedings have been started in Circuit Court by Mrs. Edna M. Schroeder, of Omaha, Nebraska, against her husband, L. P. Schroeder, a local plumber and hardware man.

Give Program.—The Bunker Hill and Bay Park Sunday Schools have arranged a splendid program for children's day which will be held in the Bay Park chapel Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Sued for Divorce.—Among the new cases started in the Circuit Court is a suit brought by Mrs. Edna E. Wyatt for divorce from her husband, B. F. Wyatt, Mr. Wyatt formerly resided in North Bend.

Has Fine Strawberries.—E. L. Church at his farm on Isthmus Inlet not far from Flagstaff has raised five acres of strawberries this year. The rain damaged a few of them but the greater part of them are coming onto the market in good shape.

Hot Weather.—Miss Harkness and other Marshfield teachers who recently left here, write that they encountered unusually warm weather in the Valley and that it made them long for Coos Bay's cooling breezes.

Breaks Leg.—P. D. Dahl, a Smith mill employe who lives at a boarding house in Bunker Hill, suffered a broken leg late Thursday night. He said it resulted from a fall out of an automobile in which he rode home from town.

Court Still Busy.—There still remain on the present Circuit Court docket some 14 cases, according to John D. Goss, though it is not certain that all of them will be tried at this term. It is expected that the session will last for at least another week.

Cruise Timber.—George Stephenson, who recently returned from the north is cruising timber near here and expects to put some other cruisers in the field, according to reports at North Bend. It is said that his deal for the Simpson property is still pending.

New Members.—D. K. Lawyer, C. M. Byler and Messrs. Ross and Bugge were elected to membership in the Millcoma Club. Plans for reducing the rent and expenses so that the membership dues will be $1.50 instead of $2.50 per month are being discussed.

Mail Hurries.—It is said the mail from Roseburg missed the afternoon train from Myrtle Point yesterday by less than half an hour and the belief is that soon the mail will be able to make the train daily. The road is said to be improving rapidly.

May Move Here.—L. A. Liljeqvist, District Attorney, has evidently about made up his mind to move to Marshfield from Coquille. He is figuring on buying a home here, he and Mrs. Liljeqvist having looked it over and secured a verbal option on it.

Goes On Michie.—Andrew Koerner, of Portland, arrived today and will be employed for a time on the dredge Michie with Captain Polhemus an old friend and former schoolmate of his brother. Mr. Koerner is a Stanford student and a member of the Kappa Sigma fraternity to which Captain Polhemus also belongs.

Goes Home.—J. F. Boyles, the Smith-Powers brakeman who was injured a few weeks ago by striking a bridge timber while leaning out of a car, will be able to leave Mercy Hospital tomorrow and return to his home in Coquille. He is suffering from partial paralysis on one side of his face but most of this may later disappear.

Has Hard Time.—Geo. Guloyson, who is spending a few months with his wife and family with her parents Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Vincent, near Central Point writes that he is having a run of hard luck. He left here to recuperate from a slight illness and soon after he got there, he contracted poison oak and later became afflicted with the hives.

Kretzer Returning.—Col. Grimes received a telegram today from his daughter, Mrs. Dorsey Kretzer, saying that she and Mr. Kretzer left Chicago today and would arrive in Portland Tuesday. Mr. Grimes will meet them there and accompany them home. Although no particulars were given, it is believed that there has been marked improvement in Mr. Kretzer's condition.

To Close Deal.—J. Q. Jarvis has about closed negotiations for the purchase of the Knorr drug store at Gold Beach and if it goes through as he now expects, he will take possession about July 1. Mr. Jarvis has been with the Red Cross for some time and his departure will be regretted by the many friends that he and Mrs. Jarvis have made here.

Wilson Not Coming.—According to a report in North Bend, W. J. Wilsey was expected here within a few weeks. However Warren Reed who was here from Gardiner today stated that Mr. Wilsey would not be back from New York for several months. Wilsey is buying supplies for the Allies in the east.

Refuses to Pay Damages.—The North Bend Council has turned down the claim of Mrs. Cora Rogers for $1000 damages because of an alleged injury to her when she stepped off the sidewalk at the corner of Sheridan and California streets some time ago. She alleges there is a hole there and that the plank was not nailed. With the refusal of the claim it is expected that suit will be brought against the city.

Is Adjudged Insane.—Judge Watson and Dr. Ira Bartle last evening examined Mrs. Frank Cameron as to her sanity and she will be sent to the asylum at Salem. She has been ill for many weeks, some times seriously and was in the Mercy Hospital. She is said to be suffering from locomotor ataxia and it was feared that she might do harm to herself. Frank Cameron is with her at present, having been paroled from a term in the county jail on account of her illness.

Auto Rate War.—According to reports received here, a lively rate war between the auto lines is imminent. Mr. Kolhagen who is interested in the Roseburg-Myrtle Point contract is said to be figuring on carrying passengers from Marshfield to Roseburg for $5.00. The fare on the old Coos Bay wagon road is $8 and it has been getting the bulk of the business. With a $5 fare on the autos from Marshfield to Roseburg, it is likely that the fare between here and Florence will be affected.

On Way to Portland.—Roderick Macleay who owns the large estate at Rogne river and salmon cannery at Rogne River in Curry county, is in the city today. He is on his way from Wedderburn to Portland and will leave overland tomorrow morning. Mr. Macleay expects to return soon to Curry county.

Special Service.—At 11 a. m. Sunday the Rector of the Episcopal church will deliver a sermon on the special subject: "The Child for Christ and His Church." The Sunday school is to attend in a body, accompanied by the parents. Those interested in the program of how to build the child into the church are cordially invited to attend the service.

Ref's Letter.—A letter was received today at the Chamber of Commerce from the San Francisco Board of Marine Underwriters, replying that they have no jurisdiction or can take no action regarding the measure to increase the coast guard appropriation to provide for life-saving ships. They ask that the matter be referred to the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce. An effort is being made to interest the commercial bodies before the matter is placed before the Congressmen.

Walks Back Home.—With his pack on his back "Curly" Larson arrived home from college, after waiking most of the way. This is explained, however, by the fact that having finished his semester at O. A. C. he went with two friends to Newport. There they fagged out and undeterred, Mr. Larson started on down the beach, determined to have a short vacation jaunt. He left Newport Sunday afternoon and arrived at the Unipqua on Wednesday afternoon. There was no boat to get across, so he camped for the night and came home Thursday. Mr. Larson is taking a course in architecture and states next fall he will probably go either to the University of California or to Eugene.

Fit Earthquake.—Richard Behr returned yesterday from San Francisco on the Nann Smith after an absence of three weeks in the South, during which time he visited San Francisco, Sacramento and east to Reno, Nevada. Two earthquakes shocks were felt in San Francisco last Sunday, he states. One was at nine o'clock in the morning and the other about three o'clock in the afternoon. He says the people seemed used to the experience and failed to become hysterical. Automobile men are overly plentiful all through California, he states.

Visits the City.—Anderson Wright one of the old citizens of the Summer district, was in the city yesterday. This was the first time Mr. Wright had been in Marshfield for the past three months.

NEW PICNIC DATE

CHANGE FROM JUNE 16 TO JUNE 23 IN ANNOUNCEMENT

O. A. C. Professors To Attend Four Picnics To Be Held In This Section

Change of the Coos River picnic for all dairymen at the Fred Selander ranch on Catehing Inlet is made from June 16 to June 23 that two speakers, Prof. W. A. Barr and Prof. E. B. Fitts, of O. A. C. may be in attendance. This was announced today by J. L. Smith, county agriculturist.

Four picnics are to be held in this section. The second Thursday, June 24, at Lundy's Grove near Myrtle Point; the third on the Watson ranch near Langlois, Saturday, June 26. Stimulation of the dairy business and interest in the cow testing associations is the purpose of the picnics. Stock judging will be a feature off all the picnics.

VESSELS NOW BUSY

Revival of Business Puts Idle Ships to Work

Three of the vessels of the Swayne and Hoyt Company which have formerly made this port are engaged for cargoes out of Portland and many of the idle boats are now being employed. In this connection the Portland Journal says:

Capacity cargoes of grain and lumber will be taken to San Francisco by the next three steamers of the Swayne & Hoyt fleet to leave here for the South. The first of the trio to get away will be the Saginaw now in port, and she will be followed by the Dalby Putnam. The third to clear for the company will not be announced for a day or so. Practically all of the Coast fleet are back in active service again, some of which are operating in the off-shore trade temporarily. The unprecedented demand for tonnage of that sort has had the effect of giving employment to many of the coasters which had been lying idle for an unusually long spell. It was not so long ago when a large fleet was tied up in Oakland creek. It is now about free of them, according to mariners coming up from California. Others of the large coast steamers are plying in the Pacific-Atlantic trade via the Panama canal.
