MAKING HISTORY.
When Kinglake was writing his history of the Crimean war he received letters from all sorts of people concerned in the war. One day a letter with a deep black border came from two people in the colonies, husband and wife, describing their grief. Their only child had been killed in the Crimea. They wanted to have him mentioned in the "History of the Crimean War." Kinglake was touched and replied by post that he would do his best if they would send him the necessary particulars. Again a letter, also black bordered, full of thanks, but with the following conclusion: "We have no particulars whatever to give you. He was killed on the spot, like many others, but anything you may kindly invent will be welcome. We leave it entirely to your imagination."—London Opinion.

A Friend of the Family

All things being equal, the newspaper that goes into the home and is read there is the most valuable advertising medium. A newspaper like The Times like this is really one of the best advertising mediums in the country. It goes into the home and is thoroughly read there. It's a family newspaper. Our merchants can begin to sell their goods at the fireside. They can finish the sales in the stores. The Times acts as a salesman in the home.
