AROUSE DAIRYMEN

"BETTER Sires BETTER HERDS"
SAYS PROF. FITTS

Five Farmer's Picnics Over the County Are Successful and Result In Dairying Impetus

"Better sires and better herds," the slogan that Professor E.B. Fitts of the O. A. C. dairy department, was the slogan that Prof. E. B. Fitts spread through Coos County last week. He arrived here on his way to Corvallis after attending four gatherings of dairymen and their families in Coos and Curry.

"Everywhere I met young men who are anxious to do things," he said on his return. The enthusiasm with which the new propaganda was greeted by the dairymen was extremely pleasing to Professor Fitts.

He arrived here too late to meet with the Coos Bay dairymen last Wednesday on the Charles Selander ranch on Catching Inlet. However Professor Fitts did meet with them at Coquille, Myrtle Point, down at Bandon and at Langlois.

Wherever he went he preached the gospel that is essential to local dairymen. This is his second trip here and the needs of the county have impressed him.

"You need good full blooded sires here," he said and so this is what the dairymen received straight from the shoulder. "Get them and then you can build up your grade herds," he continued. This point too was emphasized and the result, declared the dairy expert, was the arousal of interest in the securing of new blood for the herds.

The large picnics held for the first time in the county, were under the guidance of J. L. Smith, county agriculturist, who worked for weeks in conjunction with the cow testers of the five county associations. The result was gratifying and it is expected that the picnics will now be held annually as a direct stimulation of the dairying industry.

Representatives of Commercial Bodies To Meet in Portland—Local Chamber may Send Delegate

A state conference of representatives of the commercial bodies of Oregon next week in Portland is being called by the Portland Chamber of Commerce to formulate a policy with regard to the disposal of property involved in the Oregon and California Railroad land grant case. On Friday night a meeting of the local Chamber of Commerce is called for a consideration of the matter. Coos county is vitally interested in the movement as this is the third county, in size of holding, that is involved.

Generally the opinion here seems that the land should not revert to the government and be held in a high national forest reserve. By doing this the counties in which the great tracts are situated would be without the taxes ordinarily due from such lands.

The policy adopted by the conference in Portland will be referred to the Oregon delegation in Congress as a suggestion in the introduction of bills bearing upon the disposal of the case, and the effort will be to get the Oregon delegation harmoniously pledged to some non-political program which is regarded as the fairest and best for the citizenship of Oregon.

No definite day has been set for the meeting in Portland because Senators Lane and Chamberlain are both absent for a few days from Portland. A special committee from the Portland Chamber of Commerce will probably be appointed to formulate the findings of the convention and place them before the Congressmen.

Students of the university of Oregon and the members of the alumni are wondering what will now happen to the famous Mill Race at Eugene which for years has been known in traditions and songs of the institution and which has been sold this week for $25,000 to a couple of manufacturing companies who use the race to get their water power. The stream is lined with trees and for two miles winds through the city making a strip of scenic beauty and a place famous for swimming and boating. It is problematical here whether or not the famous stream that was dredged 60 years ago will now be changed.

HORSES ENTERED TO NAME GODDESS

MYRTLE POINT EXPECTS 14 ENTRIES FROM INDEPENDENCE

Celebration There Not Expected to Interfere With Local Festivities—Closes Saturday

Fourteen race horse entries from Independence are expected at the Myrtle Point race track this week, according to Harry Fensler who was over here yesterday. A wire was received a short time ago, he said, and it is probable that the animals will be brought here for this week, later taken to the fair in Roseburg and then out to Salem for the state fair.

For two days the Declaration of Independence will be celebrated at Myrtle Point, said Mr. Fensler. The festivities open July 2 and close Saturday. He said the belief is that this will not interfere with Marshfield's festivities and that, following the races there, there will be several hundred from the Myrtle Point vicinity come here for the next two days.

Much interest is being taken, he said, in the wrestling and the boxing match that have been arranged for next Friday in Myrtle Point.

Jack Sherry, reputed boxing champion of Coos county, is expected to meet up in the arena with James DeKoy, amateur boxing champion of Oklahoma, at his weight. Both these men are from Marshfield, he said.

The loggers from Powers are ready to back to the limit George Lambert, 160 pounds, in a wrestling match with Dal King, of Eugene who has a good record in Northwest amateur wrestling circles.

TAKE RACE HORSES TO MYRTLE POINT

F. P. Norton Has Harry N. and Bonnie Joe in Readiness for This Week's Events.

Harry N. and Bonnie Joe, belonging to F. P. Norton, were taken today to Myrtle Point, there to receive their last grooming and training before the racing events of Friday and Saturday there.

The two animals have spent the winter at Provo out from Medford and were brought here about the middle of this month in excellent shape.

Harry N is a pacer and has done the mile in 2:21½ minutes while Bonnie Joe is in the trotting class with a record of 2:24 1-4.

Mr. Norton is uncertain yet as to whom he will have drive the horses. They will be led over to Myrtle Point.

NEWS OF GOLD BEACH

Notes of Curry County People Taken from the Globe

Arthur Anderson and Miss Hazel Williamson were married by Rev. Mr. Hoyt at the home of the groom's brother, Gilbert Anderson in Wedderburn.

The wharf at Port Orford is badly needed as there is butter, cheese, wool and other products awaiting shipment and thousands of railroad ties to be shipped. However work on the wharf is now being done. T. J. Milne bought most of the wool in the Gold Beach district paying for the bulk of the clip 29 cents a pound. Some small lots brought only 27 cents.

The Gold Beach Water Company has teams at work hauling gravel to its reservoir site on the hill. The plan is to make a concrete reservoir sufficient to supply the city for some time to come.

Historic Place Will Now Be Commercialized

Students of the university of Oregon and the members of the alumni are wondering what will now happen to the famous Mill Race at Eugene which for years has been known in traditions and songs of the institution and which has been sold this week for $25,000 to a couple of manufacturing companies who use the race to get their water power. Goddess of Liberty Contest—Noble Theatre Tonight—Six reels of Pictures, Five Special Features, Martin's Orchestra, One Big Show, 8 p. m.

FIRST VOTING TAKES PLACE THIS EVENING AT 8 O'CLOCK

Six Young Women Named on Candidates' List—Three Highest to Be Voted on Thursday

- CANDIDATES FOR THE GODDESS OF LIBERTY
- ♦ Ruth Matthews. ♦
 - ♦ Ann Holland. ♦
 - ♦ Emma Quatermass. ♦
 - ♦ Marjorie Graham. ♦
 - ♦ Virginia Lyster. ♦
 - ♦ Adelaide Clarke. ♦

Three of the above young women will this evening be selected for the final voting on Thursday night, when the Goddess of Liberty will be chosen by the people of Marshfield. There will be a long show at the Noble Theatre this evening and every ticket will count at 100 votes to be voted for any of the young women named. During the performance the votes will be counted and the judges believe that before the crowd leaves it will be possible to name the three that have stood highest on the list.

Much interest today centered about the selection of the Goddess of Liberty and the belief is that tonight there will be a bumper crowd waiting to aid in choosing the young woman who is to preside over the destinies of the Fourth of July celebration.

Special features have been added to the bill this evening, commencing at eight o'clock.

On Thursday evening the three young women, highest on the list tonight will be voted for in a similar manner and at that time will be made known the name of the Goddess.

A share of the proceeds of these two entertainments will go to the Fourth of July committee for the purpose of purchasing a gown for the young woman and also to decorate in regal style, her float.

AUTO PARADE TO BE GREAT EVENT

MANAGER GOODRUM SAYS CARS FROM ALL OVER COUNTY WILL PARTICIPATE—NORTH BEND TO HAVE SPECIAL SECTION—OCCURS ON SATURDAY MORNING.

Manager George Goodrum of the Fourth of July auto parade says it will be one of the finest ever held in southern Oregon. All of the autolists throughout the county are promising to be in line and many of them will enter the contests for the best decorated cars.

Mr. Goodrum has arranged to have a North Bend section in the parade, the North Bend cars being put in one division. Some of the Coquille auto enthusiasts have been planning a similar arrangement for the Coquille cars so that there may be considerable friendly rivalry as to which section will have the best showing.

The auto parade will start at 10 o'clock Saturday morning at Fourth and Commercial and Mr. Goodrum asks all autolists to have their cars in line promptly at that hour.
