JOHN D. GOSS DELIVERS PATIOTIC ADDRESS THIS MORNING

New Citizens Are Welcomed to America and R. Bugge Responds With Talk of Appreciation

Crowds thronged into the opera house this morning immediately following the civic parade. Introduced by Mayor Allen, John D. Goss responded as the speaker of the day, extending a welcome to all newly pledged citizens of the United States. On behalf of the new citizens, R. Bugge responded with a short talk, showing the patriotism that is being displayed by newcomers to American citizenship.

The Coos Bay Band gave a short patriotic concert before the addresses were started and the entire audience joined in the singing of "America."

"We offer to the emigrant a land of freedom from the intrigues and the jealousies of Europe, facts which have engrossed that continent in bloodshed," said Mr. Goss, "and we stand ready to welcome the newcomers as new citizens, all striving toward one patriotic aim."

"Patriotism in America has ever been the guide line of the Union, serving in times of stress to keep together the states in one common bond."

On behalf of the new citizens who are being welcomed to America, R. Bugge responded, saying that despite the fact the newcomers are still bound to the old country by the ties of family and the cherished thoughts of their youth, nevertheless, they look forward to taking their part in the big Republic, and stand ready at all times to do their share in whatever way they may be called upon.

America is viewed in the light of their new home and the home of the generations to come, he said, and in time here too will grow up the same sentimental ties that now hold them to the Old Country.

Applause greeted the addresses of the two speakers and in less than an hour the entire ceremony was over and the crowds were again mingling in the streets or had hurried home to get ready for the afternoon's festivities.

KEEPING UP FIGHT

Ground Which Was Previously Lost is Now Being Regained by the Kaiser's Troops

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

LONDON, July 5.—The German assaults on the French lines are continuing and have been successful in regaining ground previously lost on a front two thirds of a mile long west of the Le Pretre forest. In southern Poland, the Russian armies, driven over the Galician border are fighting determinedly to check the Teutonic thrust at Warsaw.

Berlin and Vienna admit the Russians are making strong attacks. Vienna declares that at what seems to be the chief point of the Teutonic attack in Poland, near Krasnik, heights to the north were taken.

Note Not Ready

The latest advices from Berlin confirm the recent intimations that the German reply to the American note may not be delivered for several days, during which time an agreement may be reached between the naval extremists and those favoring a compromise as to Germany's submarine policy.

Bell is Wheeled on a Truck Into Independence Square Where Patriotic Exercises Were Held by the People of Philadelphia

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

PHILADELPHIA, July 5.—The Liberty Bell, precious relic of the American Revolution, will start today on its eighth and longest journey from Philadelphia since it was first hung in the old State House of the Province of Pennsylvania in 1752. It goes to the Panama-Pacific International Exposition and before it is returned to its big glass case in Independence Hall next November or December, it will have traveled more than ten thousand miles and will have been seen by millions of people.

On its journey to San Francisco the Liberty Bell special train will traverse Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado, Wyoming, Utah, Idaho, Washington, Oregon and California.

Elaborate arrangements have been made for the journey and everything that will add in safe-guarding the bell from injury has been done. Four policemen from the Philadelphia traffic squad will guard the relic until it is again returned to its home.

Moved at Sunrise

At Sunrise today workmen will remove the bell from its case and put it on a special hanger that will support it across the country. It was wheeled on a truck into Independence Square where patriotic exercises were held. At noon the First Brigade, Pennsylvania National Guard, escorted the bell to the West Philadelphia station of the Pennsylvania railroad to be hoisted on a special car. The first troop, Philadelphia City Cavalry, which organization escorted George Washington on state functions in Philadelphia, was the special escort of the bell as on previous occasions. At 3 p. m. the bell train with a party of twenty-six councilmen, will start on the journey.

Bell at Rear.

The train consists of a baggage car, a diner, three sleepers, a special car for the reception of guests en route, and a car for the bell, which will be in the rear. This is a specially constructed flat car with an iron railing at the sides and ends. American flags will wave from staffs at each corner and there will be other decorations in American colors.

The Councilmanic committee in charge of the journey announced that in hanging the bell, the crack in it will be on the right hand side of the car as it journeys west.

Even cities traversed in the night will get a glimpse of the relic, a system of illumination having been devised that will throw a blaze of light on the bell as it passes through in the darkness.

To Keep From Jolting.

Shock absorbers have been installed on the flatcar to keep the bell from being jolted. The train crews will be specially picked for their carefulness in starting and

I AM filled with exultation On the birthday of the nation When I hear again the ever stirring story Of the colonists so loyal, Who renounced a ruler royal And above a land of freedom raised Old Glory.

When the band in lively manner Plays the old "Star Spangled Banner" And the flags on every hand are gayly waving I am thrilled by patriotic Sentiments almost exotic, And it might be said my joy approaches raving

YET I fear you'll call it treason If you do not like my reason. Such things don't command so much of my devotion As a certain very pretty, Very charming, very witty Girl, who throws my heart into a great commotion.

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

NEW YORK, July 5.—Efforts were made at Glen Cove and in several other cities to clear up the mystery said to surround the identity of Frank Holt, who attempted to assassinate Morgan. Federal detectives throughout the country were following up clues which they hoped would reveal the chief events in his life. One of the important questions which they had to solve was that raised by the police of Cambridge, Massachusetts, regarding the possible identification of Holt as Fric Muentek, a former Harvard instructor who disappeared after the death of his wife from alleged poisoning in 1906.

J. P. MORGAN IS OUT OF DANGER

The Physician in Attendance so Notifies the Members of His Family Today

SAYS HE SET BOMB

Claims to be Same Person Who Caused Explosion at National Capital Friday

ABANDON QUESTIONING

Because of Shape He Is In Officers Do Not Attempt to Talk to Him—When Aroused This Morning He Was Not Able to Sit Up

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

GLEN COVE, L. I., July 5.—J. P. Morgan, who was shot twice by Frank Holt Saturday, is out of all danger. His physicians so notified his family this morning. Morgan's pulse and temperature are normal and he passed a restful night.

Holt, the would-be assassin, on the other hand, was so weak today that when the keepers went to his cell to arouse him he could not sit up on his couch. Unless his condition improves rapidly it will be impossible for him to be taken into court for examination next Wednesday. All plans to submit Holt to further questioning today were abandoned because of his serious condition.

Fearing Suicide.

The government operatives who sought to complete their examination of Holt, abandoned the plan today when his condition became known. Holt became so despondent that his keepers, fearing he might attempt to injure himself, took away his belt.

Tells About Bomb

The government took hand in the investigation when Holt confessed on Saturday night that he was the man who exploded a bomb in the United States capitol at Washington Friday night. Holt told in detail how he had made the bomb and took it to Washington Friday from New York. After setting the bomb, he waited until it exploded and then caught a train for Glen Cove where he attacked Morgan.

Injuries Grave.

Dr. Clegburn, jail physician, examined Holt this morning and found his injuries graver than at first thought. Extreme weakness is the chief feature, due to loss of blood from a wound over the eye. Two stitches had been taken in the wound, but the flow of blood was not entirely checked.

In addition Holt sustained a black eye, his shoulder was severely wrenched and he was struck a powerful blow in the stomach which left that organ black and blue.

Morgan Rested.

Morgan awoke rested and cheerful this morning. The X-Ray yesterday showed that both bullets passed through the muscles of the hip. The only possible danger was that of blood poisoning and this grew less each hour.

WIFE CANNOT BE HELD

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

DALLAS, Tex., July 5.—Mrs. Frank Holt was unable today to clear up the mystery about the past of her husband who is under arrest for shooting Morgan. Her father, O. F. Censabaugh, questioned Mrs. Holt specifically to learn if she could recall anything which might throw any light on the matter. She said her husband was born in Wisconsin, but while she believed he might have told her his birthplace she was unable to recall the name of the place.

CONSUL-GENERAL SHANKLIN IN CHARGE OF RELIEF

Steps Taken Today to Relieve Famine Stringency in Mexican Capital—Not Molested by Fighting

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 5.—With American Consul General Shanklin and Charles J. O'Connor in Mexico City in charge of relief measures undertaken by the Red Cross with the aid of the United States government, officials today set in motion steps to assist the famine stringency in Mexico City. The fact that Consul Silliman made no reference to disorders or of foreigners in Mexico City is taken here to indicate that they are not molested in fighting.
