Shan Mitchell won the eight mile motorcycle race this afternoon. His time was 14 minutes and 12 seconds. Max Kruger finished second in 16 minutes and five seconds, and Phil Adams, of San Francisco, third, in 16 minutes and 36 seconds. Al Burroughs was fourth in 20 minutes and 37 seconds.

The men were started one minute apart and rode against time, the police, because of the heavy crowd, refusing to allow the entries to all start at the same time.

The start was made from the corner of Central and Broadway and took south to Bunker Hill and to the Ross farm on Isthmus Inlet and thence back again, finishing at the starting point.

Crowds thronged the streets and it was with difficulty that the police and the racing officials were able to hold the crowds back.

Got Tea Extra.—The Baptist Sunday school had a promise of an extra $10 from a friend provided that the school won the first prize. As the Baptists were successful the Sunday school will get the extra money.

Many to Take Swims.—Immediately after the races this afternoon there is expected to be 20 or 30 swimmers to take to the water off the dock in the rear of the fire station. The number going into the Bay is gradually increasing in number as the weather grows warmer.

Roman Candle Spouted.—Chief Carter was this morning looking for an unknown man who lighted a Roman candle on Front street and turned the spouting candle down at the sidewalk. The dress of a woman was badly burned before the candle was stamped out. The Chief was unable to find the man or to learn the name of the woman whose dress was burned. This is practically the only offense of the nature of fireworks and firecrackers that has concerned the police this Fourth of July.

Long Motor Trip.—H. S. Patten and wife, of Alhambra, California, and W. T. Davies and wife, of Santa Monica, arrived here in their car the other night on a long motor trip. They are planning to visit every town in which there is an Odd Fellows lodge.

Not an Accident.—Although there were hundreds of machines going to and coming from Sunset Bay all day Sunday and Sunday night there was not a serious accident. Watchmen were stationed at bad places in the road and as far as the autos are concerned the day was a lucky one.

Pleased With Exhibit.—Editor Edgar McDaniel of the Harbor at North Bend, telegraphed his office today that he had arrived with his family in San Francisco Saturday after making the trip in his auto. He states that he is greatly pleased with the exposition and especially with the Coos and Curry exhibit.

Informal Evening.—Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Kaufman entertained informally last evening for a few friends, the guests comprising Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Booth, Miss O'Dell, Miss Lucy Horton, Dr. J. T. McCormac, Henrik Gjerdum and Frank Wiekham.

The evening was spent in a social way, some excellent music being enjoyed.

Little Disturbance.—Very little disturbance has been reported this morning by the police. They say that it was unusually quiet for the Fourth of July. Joe Bell sought a bed when his cargo shifted and Al Bunch and Jake Horn put up a $10 bail for fighting and this was returned to them this morning.

Tom Carl and Charles Harris used bad language and so were locked up for a short time.

Accidents Are Trivial.—No accidents of any seriousness marred the Fourth of July celebration. There were few fire crackers fired, a fact that greatly reduced the list of killed, maimed and wounded, over the fatalities of former years. Despite the fact there were hundreds of machines on the go all day, no accidents were reported and the police today said that very little trouble of any sort had been reported to them.
