LANDS FOR STATE HOUSES ARE CHEAP

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE WOULD HAVE LEGISLATURE CONSIDER

Seeks Means for Disposal of Oregon-California Land Grant—Resolutions Adopted

Only by special session of the State Legislature can Oregon expect to derive her just benefits from the Oregon-California Railroad grant. Such is the gist of resolutions adopted by the executive committee of the Chamber of Commerce. It asks further that the legislature adopt a memorial to Congress seeking the privilege for the state "to take over the lands outright and pay off the equity of the railroad company at once."

To take advantage of this grant in the manner further agreed upon it would be necessary for certain legislation and constitutional amendments. The belief was expressed that nothing other than the memorial should be adopted until Congress shall have acted on the main issue of the land grant question, that is, the manner of its disposal.

According to the recent decision of the Supreme Court of the United States the matter is left up to Congress, at its next session, as to the manner of disposing of these lands. Fear has been widely expressed in this state that Congress will either turn the lands into reserves or put them under the jurisdiction of National boards, a fact that would give this state no advantage over any other state in securing benefits from the lands. The resolution says:

"Whatever moneys may be realized to the state from these lands, we believe should be apportioned to three funds for expenditures as our Legislature may deem wise, and we would suggest a division of said funds as follows:

- "One-half to public schools.
"One-fourth to good roads.
"One-fourth to reclamation of arid lands."

Further the report reads: "It would evidently be the policy of the state to sell these lands to actual settlers or actual operators as soon as practicable, and as the railroad company is entitled to its equity only upon the sale to actual settlers, it would not be unjust or inequitable for the state to pay such equity to the company as it might realize on the sales."

Cost About Six Millions.

Senator I. S. Smith declared such action would cost the state about $6,000,000. He thought it a good investment.

Representative C. R. Barrows, who was present, said he favored selling the lands to settlers and getting it as soon as possible upon the tax rolls.

Hugh McLain, in a short address, said that too much of Oregon is now put into reservations.

It is expected that within a very short time a state-wide meeting will be called for representatives of various sections to discuss the situation and agitate a special session of the Legislature. The committee having the resolution in charge and who presented it was composed of C. R. Peck, Hugh McLain and J. Albert Matson.

TO WELCOME R. R. WED AT COQUILLE ELKS TO BE HOSTS

NORTH BEND CHAMBER HAS A ROUSING MEETING

October is Month For Celebration—All Coos Bay Asked to Take Part In Festivities

North Bend means to celebrate the coming of the railroad. She asks all of Coos Bay to cooperate with her in a program of three days festivities at some date between the first and the middle of October.

En masse the North Bend Chamber of Commerce turned out last evening to discuss the project. A committee of prominent citizens was appointed to frame the general celebration. This is composed of Dr. Ira Bartle, chairman; M. E. Everitt, E. F. Russell, H. G. Kern, B. B. Weldy, V. C. Groat, A. R. Arkley, Peter Loggie and William Schrock. Sub-committees will be appointed later.

Many plans for the celebration were suggested and will be considered by the committee. The belief was freely expressed that there should be held a huge barbecue for the entire county, there should be racing on Sherman avenue and an illuminated parade.

The Executive committee of the Chamber of Commerce will take charge of the financing, according to Secretary Smith. The Marshfield chamber will be asked to cooperate in the program planned for the three days.

That the bridge across the bay at North Bend will be completed by October 1 or even October 15 can not be definitely stated by the officials. However, because of later weather conditions the proposal is that the celebration should be early in the month.

Would Bond County.

"Hard surface roads for the county," is the slogan of the Chamber of Commerce at North Bend. Planning is unwise in their belief. A committee is to be appointed whose work it will be to conduct an education campaign, working toward a $2,000,000 bond issue that would put permanent roads all over Coos county. A special act of the legislature would be necessary to allow this action.

However, the Chamber favors the $400,000 bond issue now proposed, providing the money shall be used for hard surfacing.

ASKS PORT TO PAY

ARTHUR McKEOWN SEEKS $25 FOR SERVICE

Claim Referred to Compromise Committee—Bill Counter Claim Against Dredge Fill Bill

The Port of Coos Bay has referred to a compromise committee a claim of $25 charged by Arthur McKeown for a half day's service when, many months ago, he went up the river in a special boat attempting to secure the signature of William Luse for a dredge fill in South Marshfield. This bill was put in as a counter claim against an account of $23.10 charged to Mr. McKeown for a fill on a lot of his near Mill Slough.

According to the Commissioners at the time signatures were being secured to further the dredge fill project, many prominent men gave their services free. Some of them are said to have worked for weeks.

Because of his acquaintance with Mr. Luse, Mr. McKeown was asked to make the trip up the river. He was gone half a day, it is said and the boat hire was paid for by the Port. With the bill before the Commissioners the Port owes Mr. McKeown $1.90, it is figured. The compromise committee is composed of Peter Loggie and A. O. Rogers.

ENTIRE COUNTY INVITED TO HIGH JINKS AT BANDON

"Movies" of Races July 25 With Big Features of County Industries to be Taken

High Jinks of the Elks of Coos and Curry, more than 200 of them, to which every man, woman and child in the two counties is invited, are scheduled for July 25 at Bandon. Two thousand feet of film will be taken and in conjunction with the big celebration will be pictured "movies" of prominent features of Southwest Oregon. These films will be placed in practically every moving picture theater in the state forming one of the widest publicity campaigns ever staged by this section of Oregon. These were only a part of the many projects launched by the local Elks lodge last evening.

The Bandon Elks have issued the invitation. They will be the hosts for the county on that date. On the beach will be a huge barbecue free to everyone. Auto and running races are staged for the afternoon, one of the features being a backward race for machines along the hard sands.

In the breakers men will contend in tubs, one of the most unique contests of the day. The Marshfield and Bandon Elks have two picked nines that will cross willows in the afternoon. The Coos Bay Concert Band will furnish further joy for the occasion.

Committees have been appointed from every Elks lodge in the county to have a hand in the arrangements, especially for each committee to see that its locality is well notified and sends a delegation.

From Bandon, representing both the Commercial Clubs and the Elks lodge of that city came a committee composed of Jack Sullivan, H. J. McDermott and W. S. Wells. They brought the glad tidings, told of what has been done and how the project has met the approval of every commercial club and branch of the lodge in the two counties.

The committee from Marshfield is composed of F. G. Horton, Frank Catterlin and George Goodrum; from North Bend, Don Gardiner and Dr. Ira Bartle; from Coquille, Judge James Watson and J. H. Parton; from Myrtle Point, Dr. Johnson, J. O. Stemmeler and Chester Huling; from Powers, A. H. Powers, A. J. Mendel and Claire Swaye.

Bandon Stands Expense

The expenses of the day come from the pockets of the Bandonians. To start the ball rolling the Elks there assessed themselves $10 each. Reduced fares have been arranged for. It will cost exactly $1.55 to and from Bandon for Coos Bay people. The train will leave at 7 a. m., will be met at Coquille by a special boat. In the evening Superintendent Miller has agreed to hold the train and it is expected it will arrive here by 8 o'clock.

Advertising a Feature.

"Two birds with one stone," is the way the committee here expresses the situation. To get moving pictures of the Coos and Curry resources is an easy matter to get these pictures into circuit for showing over the state has been an other question. By making the Elks High Jinks the "news feature," the picture can be "gotten over."

Pictures will be taken of the Coos Bay bar, of the Smith mill, the loading of the Nann or the Adeline, the logging operations at Powers and the dairy industry of the county. These, combined with the High Jinks pictures will make a film, it is believed, that can be shown anywhere in the state or outside the state, on a percentage basis.

To start the movement, the Bandon Commercial Club has agreed to pay one-quarter of the expense and the local Elks a half, and the remaining quarter will be easily raised.

COOS BAY WANTS TO CROSS WILLOWS WITH ROSEBURG NINE

Coquille Valley Team Loses Last Sunday, 8 to 1, and Locals Would "Get Even"

Coos Bay seeks revenge for the drubbing given by the Roseburg to the Coquille Valley nine last Sunday. Already has been organized a local team, whose members in oaths legal and mighty, have declared they go to bring back the hide of the Roseburgians. August 1 is the date planned for the onslaught and it is proposed now that a series of games be played on the trip.

Practically every team in the Coos Bay league is represented in the tentative line up. Efforts are being made to secure contests not only with Roseburg but with teams in that vicinity, ending up with a game at Eugene and returning here via Mapleton and the beach route.

The tentative lineup as announced this morning was as follows: Thomas catcher; Collier and Johnson, pitchers; Kism, 1st b; Dement, 2nd b; Ben Fisher, 3rd b; Mike Burke, short stop; with "Speed" Wood and Oarding, of Coquille, in the outfield with a third man still to be chosen.

REPORT IS MADE ON MINING CONDITIONS

U. S. Geological Survey Says There Have Been Few Changes in State—Increase in Gold

(Special to The Times.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 15.—Very few changes in the mining conditions in Oregon are noted by Chas. G. Yale, of the U. S. Geological survey, for the first six months of the year. The Mint and smelters at San Francisco show only about $15,000 increase of gold receipts in the first five months over the same period in 1914.

The Powder River Dredging company at Sumpter, the most productive placer mine in the state, is installing an additional dredge. The North Pole mine, in Cracker Creek district, non-productive for some time, will shortly again be producing. It has a large territory only partly opened, but recent developments show strikes of good ore. A railroad is being built from Grants Pass into the Waldo copper district, in Josephine County, and these lines will then be given an opportunity to ship their ores to a smelter. Prospecting is rather inactive in the state, as capital is scarce to develop even the known properties.

Productive Mines.

The most important productive mines of the state continue to be the following: Among the deep mines, the Rainbow Commercial Mining Co. and the Cornucopia Mines Co., located in Baker County, are the largest two producers. The Rainbow mine is in the Mormon Basin district and the Cornucopia mine is in the Cornucopia district. Other prominent producers in Baker County are the Columbia Gold Mines Co., at Sumpter, Cracker Creek district, and the Baker Mines Co. in the Cornucopia district. Outside of Baker County the Ben Harrison mine at Granite District, Grant County, and the Humboldt Consolidated Gold Mines of Rye Valley, Mormon Basin, Malheur County, are the only large producers.

Placer Workings

The most important placer mines are the Powder River Dredge Co., Cracker Creek district, Baker County (the leading dredge mine), the Osgood Mine, Waldo district, Josephine County, and the Layton, Applegate district, Jackson County are the leading hydraulic mines. As before, the dredge mining is far in excess of any other form of placer mining in Oregon, and hydraulic and drift mining being the next in importance. Baker County continues to be the largest producing county.
