The Noble Theater To-Night

Where all the World's Greatest Photoplays are Showing. The 21st episode of "The Exploits of Elaine," the thrilling serial story with Pearl White and Arnold Daily. The story that is holding up to the last.

BETWEEN THE TWO OF THEM—A three-part drama Broadway star feature. With Sidney Drew as one of them. A dandy good picture with many laughs.

THE POLLYWOGS' PICNIC—It's the newest of the mirth-provoking, rib-tickling "Ham" comedies. If you have ever attended a country picnic or county fair, taken part in the pie-eating contest, tug of war, caught the greased pig, you will have a faint idea of the laughs in store for the patrons of the Noble theater tonight.

BORN

HOLMES—To Mr. and Mrs. Fred Holmes at their home on Tenth street, near Commercial, a son, their first child. Mr. Holmes is connected with the Holmes grocery on North Front street.

Builds House.—Geo. E. Cook is arranging to erect a house on his lot in Perham Park near the R. A. Coplee home.

Going East.—R. A. Coplee will leave Monday morning for a month's trip to New York and other eastern wholesale centers.

Many From Coquille.—Fred Slagle said that nineteen people came over on the autos from Coquille this morning. It required three stage autos to bring the crowd.

Much Cascara Bark.—Aboard the steam schooner Yellowstone today for shipment to San Francisco was loaded a car load of cascara bark sent down by Henry Sengstacken.

Build Air Vent.—Noble Brothers are building an air vent on the roof of the Noble building. They expect to soon start the construction of a concrete sidewalk around the building.

Comes to See Property.—J. O. Bristol, a member of the Eugene police force, arrived here last night to view his property on North Front street. He came down from Florence on the gasoline boat Relief. Mr. Bristol was here two years ago and bought the property on which the Canton Noodle restaurant now stands. He had erected the brick building there and today saw it for the first time.

Keks Dog Gets Bit.—Little Wallace Douglas, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. U. Douglas, kicked his pet dog this morning while the latter was drinking. The dog turned and bit the boy on the hand though the wound was slight.

Makes Early Trip.—Captain Dave Holden was out at 2:30 this morning with a load of passengers aboard the Gasco for up the beach. By 7:15 he was back up the bay again with those who came down from Florence and from Gardiner. Those leaving here this morning will get through to Portland this evening.

Take Examinations.—Several young men are taking the carrier-clerks civil service examination today which is being conducted by Mrs. Eddy. Though the examination is the same for the clerks or the carriers, yet they must designate ahead of time which position they wish. There is a clerkship vacancy in the postoffice at present.

M. L. CURRY GETS NEW AUTO DEVICE

MAKES IMPORTANT ADDITIONS TO HIS SHOP AND IS NOW PREPARED TO DO SPECIAL ELECTRICAL WORK — GETS FORD AND CADILLAC TOOLS.

To Auto owners:

In the past four years electricity has played such a prominent part in the modern automobile and with such rapid strides has the electrical starting, lighting and ignition system, been developed that today the modern car contains a complete self-maintaining and efficient electrical plant though in miniature form. So ingeniously are these systems built in the car that they are practically automatic and fool proof. Yet these same conditions have created a field for a mechanic well versed both in electrical and gas engine work, and realizing this demand early in the game, I have made a special study of this branch and have endeavored to keep my shop so equipped.

I have just completed the making of an instrument for the re-magnetizing of the magnets on a Ford magneto which with the other electrical apparatus already installed enable me to do any and all kinds of magneto and automobile electrical work.

My facilities for doing this class of work are not equalled outside of San Francisco or Portland. This item alone is worth considering as I am able to give the same service, less the usual delays accompanying such work when shipped outside.

To the above equipment I have just added a set consisting of fifty separate and special Cadillac tools direct from the Cadillac factory and with a complete set of Ford special tools enable me to overcome many of the intricate and difficult problems ever arising in the average shop not so equipped.
