

NEW FALL SUITS FOR WOMEN

New Suits are just unpacked—so advanced in idea, so splendidly made, that you can buy and wear them now, and through the winter, too, and find that at the end of the season they will still be in the lead of the mode—still fresh looking and perfect in shape.

Perhaps you are going away this Summer or Fall? Much of the pleasure of your trip will be in the admiring glances your fashionable new suit will bring. And even if you plan to stay at home, you will be judged by your appearance, as you unconsciously judge others.

Briefly, you need a new suit—such as these just on display.

PIONEER IS LEAVING FATHER SURPRISED

M. G. POHL SEEKS CLIMATIC CHANGE AT SAN DIEGO

Has Lived in Coquille Valley for Over Half Century and is Widely Known

Dr. M. G. Pohl, of Bandon, was in the city Monday and in the afternoon left on the steamer Speedwell for California. He will go to San Diego where he expects to benefit his health by taking the baths and enjoying the climate. Mr. Pohl is past 80 years of age and is in good health, but he thinks that the change will do him good and the length of his stay in Southern California will depend upon how the locality agrees with him.

Old Pioneer
Mr. Pohl is one of the oldest pioneers of Coos County. He has resided in the Coquille Valley longer than any other living man excepting Mr. Lowe. Mr. Pohl is a native of Germany but moved to this country when a young man. He came to Coos County with Dr. Herman in 1859, so has been a resident for 56 years, although he has traveled a good deal during that time. He has been all over the United States and has visited Asia Minor, South America and many far-away points in the world.

Moved to Bandon
Dr. Pohl, as he is generally known, is a graduate optician and practiced his profession for some time in Myrtle Point. He never resided on the Coos Bay side of the county excepting for a time when he helped Capt. Dryden on his land at North Bend when there was only one house there. Mr. Pohl was Coos County fruit inspector for a number of years, but resigned the office. Some years ago he moved from Myrtle Point to Bandon and near the latter city had an attractive little home, but this place he has sold.

Relatives in War
Mr. Pohl at the start of the war had nephews and other relatives number 28 who were fighting in the German army. Some of them have been killed, but lately he has not been able to get any letters and does not know how all of his relatives have fared.

FORMER PROFESSOR IS NOW AN EDITOR

Arthur Silverman Has Charge of Recent Issue Summer Session Californian at Berkeley

A recent issue of the Summer Session Californian at the University of California, was edited by Arthur Silverman, who until June was instructor in English and public speaking at the Marshfield High School. Silverman is the second Oregon student to hold this honor. He is taking work in the journalism department there for the summer. In addition to this he has also been participating in the annual tennis tournament of the summer session. Next year he is to teach English in the Walla Walla High School.

There are close to 6000 students at the summer session in Berkeley and the Californian is issued daily with the news of the campus. The reporting and editing is always done by the students and a position on the staff is considered a great honor.

STEEL SPLITS EYE

JAGGED PIECE FROM THE CHECKER CAUSES PAINFUL WOUND

Guy M. Allen, Tie Maker, Brought Here Early From Bandon For Aid

With his eye ball split straight through the middle by a piece of steel which was wedged out of sight in his head, Guy M. Myers was brought to the city from Bandon in a special car at 2 o'clock this morning. He was given immediate medical treatment but the sight of the eye is entirely gone.

Tom W. Allen, partner to the injured man, explained that they had been working together in the Kendall Tie camp, 10 miles above Bandon, and yesterday a piece of steel as large as a small marble and jagged, flew from the checker and cleaved the eyeball of Myers. The two men were working alone.

Myers fell to the floor and was unable to rise without the aid of his companion who came running to him. By that time part of the eyeball had broken like an egg, said Allen. He helped carry Myers half a mile to a house and a machine was called.

At Bandon little aid could be secured, and he then hired a machine for Marshfield. He said that two doses of morphine had little effect on Myers who went out of his head and raved all the way over.

The injured man has a wife and child at the camp though they did not accompany him here.

'Mermer' Reported Swimming About In South Coos Is Bedecked In Proverbial Smite

Between the dark and the daylight, when the dawn was beginning to tower there dropped into the "drink" on South Coos Sunday morning a "merman," a nature faker perchance, for he wore but the proverbial smite. But he smiled from ear to ear, and then plunged in, and splashed about with all the abandon of a young sea monster and all was well until the Rainbow came steaming by.

It is said that despite the fact the swimmer ducked low in the water there was much indignation aboard the steamer it was said the matter was to have been reported to the county authorities. The name of the man found swimming there was not given.

DREDGE OREGON DONE ON WILLANCH INLET

Cooston Now Has Good channel From Bay to Dock For Small Boats

The dredge Oregon yesterday finished work on Willanch Inlet having taken out a shoal at the upper Cooston landing and also a bend in the channel below that point. It is said that there now is a channel with a minimum depth of four feet at low tide.

It is possible that the bucket dredge may be taken over to Coal Bank Inlet to throw up some dikes for the Reynolds Development company, though this plan has not been definitely arranged for.

The dredge Oregon has, but a short time ago, finished the dredging of the north and south forks of Coos River, greatly facilitating navigation on both streams. This work was done under the supervision of the government engineers.

DID NOT GET BEAR

James Coke Returns From Visit Without Big Game

James Coke and family have returned from an outing at his old home in Brewster Valley. He failed to bag the bear that he was told was waiting for him. This caused his brother, Tom Coke, to recall a bear hunt several years ago in which James Coke and Bennett Swanton were the participants. They told of the big bear they were going to kill and on their return to town borrowed an old bear skin from Tom Coke to prove that they had killed a bear. With this proof, they succeeded in making some of their friends think that they had actually killed a bear but finally Tom Coke gave them away.

Doings of City Council

BUILD NEW WALKS COUNCIL IS QUIET

COUNCIL STARTS FIGHT AGAINST PLANKING THAT RATTLES

Many Sidewalks to be Repaired Under Supervision of Street Commissioner Lawhorn

Plank sidewalks that rattle when people pass over them and are dangerous must go, the city council decided last night, and many feet of new sidewalk will be the result of the edict. In several places the City engineer was authorized to draw up plans and specifications for whole new walks.

On Central avenue, between 11th and 12th street the planks are in a very bad condition, reported Street Commissioner Lawhorn. Plans will be made for entire new planking on the north side of the street with the south sidewalk to be done away with. Where the walk branches down the hill at this point no change is to be made.

Between Bennett and Elrod avenues on Sixth street plans also are to be prepared for new walks. This was done only after a heated argument. Councilman Kimball favored "getting two birds with one stone" by making it a permanent improvement for it was shown that the street planking as well is in a dilapidated condition.

"It can't be done," intervened Mr. Ferguson. "That's an improvement slated for next year when we put Sixth street clear across the flat to Central."

The matter was dropped and the sidewalks will be replanked.

Over on Alder avenue between Front and First streets, the boards have so rotted that people walk in the streets, it was reported. Discussion was made as to whether or not new sidewalks should be put in according to grade. To do this on the south side would be unfair at this time, the council agreed. It would put the walk several feet above the entrance to John Bear's livery barn and the First street question is still pending.

The north side of the street will have the sidewalk raised to grade through to Broadway and replanked.

From Otis H. Wilson was received a petition that he be allowed to put a post in the sidewalk on Central avenue in front of No. 87 in which is now situated the Ladies' Emporium, and thereon put a watch sign. He intends to open up a jewelry store at that location. This was referred to the street committee though the council expressed itself against the putting in a post on the narrow sidewalk.

NO AUDIENCE OR DISCORD TO BRIGHTEN SESSION

Two Members Gone and Excitement Falls to Low Ebb—Routine Matters Up.

Absence of an audience and the fact that two of the councilmen were gone depleted the enthusiasm of the council meeting last evening and by 10:15 p. m., for the first time in weeks, Councilman Kimball was able to "move we adjourn" before the midnight curfew tolled.

A clause in the minutes of the previous meeting of the council to the effect that McDonald and Condon would take the responsibility for all damages occurring on the streets in use by them and relieve the city of any resulting suits was hotly protested to by Walter Condon.

He stated his willingness to waive all damages against the city that might accrue from accidents to any of his men or subcontractors, but felt that the former clause would be unfair.

"We promise to keep the roadway in repair at all times," he continued, "and if we do this, we have done our best and all that is fair."

City Attorney John D. Goss believed that unless something like this was put in the contract that the streets would be allowed to go to pieces, "as they have done in some cases. And it was only because God loved Marshfield that we haven't had suits that would knock the stuffing plumb out of the general fund."

"These men are bringing a payroll of $75 a day, anyhow, into Marshfield, and I say we shouldn't be here putting any obstructions in their way. We need the money," declared Councilman Kimball.

Mr. Condon said they have about 6,000,000 feet of timber to come out and that probably the crew will be working there for the next six months.

His point was gained and the motion unanimously passed with the provision, "That McDonald and Condon will agree to relieve the city from all damages to themselves, their employes or subcontractors on the streets used, shall plank the roadway lengthwise under the plans of the city engineer, shall keep the same in repair, shall leave it in good shape and furthermore, shall remove this extra planking if at any time the camp is closed down for a period of 30 days or more." This was agreed to by both parties.

Meet as Board.

Meeting as a board of equalization the councilmen levied the assessment for the improvement of Eighth street between Central and Commercial avenues, the entire cost being $2,294 or at the rate of $2.14 per front foot.

Bids were opened for the sewer work on 12th Court, between Flanagan and Golden avenues, two of them being received. The award was made to Moon and Barclay, their bid being $594.25 and that of McLain and McLean being $625.25.

With two of the city dads out of the city for at least 30 days the council last night was unable to adopt the usual procedure of passing ordinances, and to agree an emergency exists and in that way get immediate action. The four members present voted for the sewer on Front street from near Market to Alder street and thence east to the bay but no emergency could be declared and action is held up for the next 30 days.

There will be an extra cost for running the sewer across Alder avenue and down to the Bay. This will amount to about $258, according to the figures of A. B. Gidley. Because later there will be other sewers emptying into this branch the city fathers decided to levy the cost in the sewer district and not entirely upon the Front street users.
