

All Women Should See These Crisp New Fall Suits

These Suits are the very newest styles for Fall and Winter, built with an artist's eye to their style and a tailor's care for their fit and finish.

The showing comes a bit early but this is only that you may see these new styles—and have the pleasure of wearing them on your trip—or at home.

There are any number of new features that will interest you, among them the convertible collars that make each model thoroughly practical for immediate wear as well as the Fall days that are to come.

You will find a visit more than worth your while.

NEPHEWS IN WAR KEEPS OUT OF JAIL

ELEVEN RELATIVES OF MARSHFIELD MAN ARE FIGHTING

E. A. Eickworth Hears from Members of Family in the German Army

E. A. Eickworth of this city has eleven nephews in the German army and is naturally very much interested in the progress of affairs in the big war. He recently had a letter from his home town, Bremen, from one of his relatives who states that affairs there are not as bad as one would expect. There is plenty of food and prices, the letter tells, are really not as high as in this country, excepting the charges for coffee and some of the products which must be exported from other countries.

One relative of Mr. Eickworth is now in Bremen, having come home from the Russian front for a month's vacation. This relative is a brother of Miss Anna Johansen well known here.

Mr. Eickworth has been receiving papers from Germany and has given the Times an interesting map from one of the papers which shows where the many vessels have been sunk by the German submarines. The map is shown in the Times window.

ADOPT STREET PLAN

EASTSIDE CITY COUNCIL GOES AHEAD WITH IMPROVEMENTS

Approves Estimates of Engineer Cathcart—Councilman Meeks and Tom Bennett Clash

The Eastside city council last evening adopted the plans and specifications of Engineer Cathcart for the Coon street improvements. His estimates call for about $23,000 worth of street work. The property owners now have a week or so in which to enter a remonstrance after which the council will take further action.

There was another clash last evening between Tom Bennett, who represents the townsite company, opposed the proposed improvement, claiming it would practically confiscate the property. He argued that the council be lenient and find some less expensive way of providing thoroughfares.

Councilman Meeks again scored Mr. Bennett and the townsite company hard, claiming that all the townsite company did was to hold back that section while they disposed of their property at big prices.

MRS. FANNIE O'DONNELL WINS ANOTHER POINT

Stay of Execution is Secured for Her by Attorney Miller at Eleventh Hour

Mrs. Fannie O'Donnell who was to have begun her three months term in the county jail yesterday got another stay at the last minute and will not have to go to jail for a time at least. I. N. Miller, her attorney, secured a stay of execution of the sentence until September 1 to give him time for an appeal. He will take it up on a writ of habeas corpus and says that he hopes to get the law prohibiting sales of liquor on Sunday held unconstitutional.

Mrs. O'Donnell was sentenced to three months in jail and to pay a fine of $200 for bootlegging at Empire. She is at liberty under bonds.

Denies Request
Judge Coke refused to grant the petition of Mrs. Ohma Maginnis for funds to appeal her divorce case to the Supreme court. Judge Coke refused to grant her a divorce from Tom Maginnis and she wanted to appeal the case but was without funds unless the court would compel Maginnis to make her a sufficient allowance.

DENIES CHARGES

JAMES DURRAND EXPLAINS MATTERS TO JUSTICE PENNOCK

Neighbor of Years Says that Allegations Were Made Without Any Justification

James Durrand of the Bunker Hill district came in today and informed Justice Pennock that charges against him (Durrand) were unfounded. He said that he was really the one who had a grievance. Some neighboring children had been molesting the Durrand children and when he went to protect them the others caused trouble. He said that the charges of intoxication were wrong. Justice Pennock said that he would take the matter under consideration.

Others in the neighborhood bear out the statement of Durrand. W. J. Rust who lives at Flagstaff said that he had been a neighbor of Durrand for eight years and has always found him a peaceful and desirable neighbor and that it was his opinion that the charges made against him were entirely without justification.

Mr. Durrand states that the whole thing started because of one woman who wished to make things unpleasant for him by filing the charges.

LIQUOR TAKEN BACK

COPPERFIELD INCIDENT RECALLED

Man Who Figured in Affair Was in Marshfield a Few Days Ago

One of the exciting incidents of Governor West's administration is recalled by the following press telegram from Baker Ore:

William Wiegand and H. Stewart, the Copperfield saloon men whose stocks of liquor have been in storage in the Ellis Transfer warehouse since a year ago last January, have paid the storage charges and have taken their goods back to Copperfield. The owners will attempt to dispose of the liquor before the prohibition law goes into effect. The liquor was seized when Governor West sent the militia to make Copperfield "dry," following complaint of citizens.

There was quite a lot of interest in the Copperfield affair at the time that it happened. Col. B. K. Lawson who was in Marshfield a day or two ago, is the man who figured quite conspicuously in the affair. He was at that time warden of the state penitentiary and is a member of the state militia and Governor West ordered him to go to Copperfield and seize the liquor. Lawson says that there was a good deal of exaggeration about the whole story as the newspaper accounts were sent from Baker and the facts were frequently gleaned largely by telephone messages between Baker and Copperfield. There was much said about the militia being called there but as a matter of fact Col. Lawson went to Copperfield with a captain of the national guard and four privates. At one time when trouble was threatened twelve guardsmen were sent there but they were not needed and were sent back on the same train. Col. Lawson and the five other men took charge of the liquor and packed it up and as a matter of fact those six men were all the militia at Copperfield. The general impression at the time was that a large number of national guardsmen were there.

HANDCAR WRECKED

H. G. REEDER OF BEAVER HILL IS INJURED

Was Riding on Flatcar When Collision Takes Place—Others Are Slightly Hurt

H. R. Reeder, proprietor of the Beaver Hill hotel, sustained a broken leg yesterday when a handcar on which he was riding ran into a boxcar. The fracture was reduced by Dr. Mings who does not anticipate any serious results from it.

Mr. Reeder was riding on the flat car with three Italian miners. The latter were working the car, all coming out from Beaver Hill to the junction to catch the train. They were going along at a good clip and the conversation caused them to forget to watch the track. The boxcar had been set on the siding and the hand car struck it before the party on it knew of the danger.

None of the Italians were injured aside from a few bruises and scratches.

WESTERNER IS COMING

Lumber Schooner to Bring Part of Nann Smith's Freight Here

Agent C. F. McGeorge received advices late yesterday that the Nann Smith would probably not be able to sail from San Francisco for Coos Bay until next Wednesday.

The Westerner, which is under charter to carry white cedar from the C. A. Smith mill here to San Pedro, will leave San Francisco for Coos Bay next Monday and will bring part of the Nann Smith's freight. This will reduce the delay of shippers. The Westerner does not carry passengers.

HAD BAD ACCIDENT

Jessie Barker of Fairview lost a horse last week while attempting to corral a wild steer. The horse was running down a very steep hill, near the bottom of which there was a log it had to jump. It made the log all right, but was unable to stop or turn quick enough, and ran its head between the boards of a fence, breaking its neck. Mr. Barker escaped with no injury save a shaking up.

DEER PLENTIFUL

GAME WARDEN REPORTS AFTER TRIP THROUGH STATE

Hunters' Clubs Have Created a Spirit of Protection Which is Very Beneficial

Because of the greater spirit of protection shown by the Hunters' clubs and the sportsmen individually, there are more deer this year than there have been for many seasons, is the report of Carl D. Shoemaker, state game warden, who returned yesterday from a 16 day tour through the state.

The warden visited the game reserves and the many hunters' clubs in order to familiarize himself with local conditions and get acquainted. All the accounts say the mountains abound with deer. Last winter the light-footed animals were little molested by the wild cats and cougars, as there was plenty of food to be had.

The main reason for the increase, however, is the preventative measure taken by the organization of sportsmen. Heretofore some of the members were the worst violators. They would shoot female deer and then mutilate the carcass so that it could not be recognized by the game wardens. Since the co-operative work has been instituted between the law enforcers and the hunters most of the illegal hunting has stopped.

In game district No. 1, which includes all the counties west of the Cascade Range, the open season for China pheasants will be from October 1 to 31, with the exception of Jackson county where only ten days hunting will be allowed, beginning on October 1. There will be no open season in Coos, Curry and Josephine Counties. In the Eastern Oregon district, with the exception of Union County, there will be no China pheasant shooting this year. The season in Union will last from October 1 to 10.

Ducks are plentiful this year, and will provide sport for thousands this year. Geese are being given pretty good care on the reserve in Harney County, so they will increase in numbers.

WANT 1000 NAMES

PETITIONS FOR BOND ELECTION SIGNED LIBERALLY

Not Certain Whether They Will be Presented to Commissioners for Action Tomorrow

The petitions asking the County Commissioners to call a special election to submit the question of bonding Coos County for $370,000 to build permanent roads are being freely signed. It is the wish to get at least 1000 signers, although the law does not require that number. There are 250 petitions being circulated in various parts of the county.

Whether the petitions will be presented to the County Court tomorrow is not certain and will not be determined until tonight.

A Ten Mile delegation is said to be planning to go to Coquille tomorrow to enter protest against the calling of the election.

Fred Chestnut, Chas. Hall and others who had another plan for calling the election are also protesting against the present petitions. They wanted it specified that the bond money was to be expended under the direction of the State Highway Commission and in this way Coos County would have a stronger claim for a big portion of the proposed $10,000,000 state bond issue for road building. Mr. Hall is now away, but he is said to have discussed this plan with S. Benson and others prominent in the Oregon state highway movement.

JACK LONDON BUYING MYRTLE FURNITURE

Noted Author Pleased With One of Coos County Exhibits at the Exposition

(Special to The Times.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 5.—Jack London, famous author, just in from a five-months' sea trip, came to the Oregon building the other day, saw the exhibits, registered and under "remarks" said: "Fine and splendid." To the one in charge, Jack said he could write a book about the Oregon showing. Incidentally he remarked that he had been buying the Coos Bay myrtle wood furniture for several years, had $700 worth ordered at this time, and that he thought it the most beautiful of all woods.

Francis Wilson, world-famous stage artist, has come to the building several times. He thinks the furniture made by the Oregon children, together with the dresses and other features in the educational display, wonderful in the extreme—but not more wonderful than that 75c luncheon served by the domestic science girls from the Agricultural college. Mrs. Phoebe Hearst, the greatest of the great in the Bay region, is another charmed with the domestic science luncheons.

Senator Ben Tillman, brandishing a cane rather than a pitchfork, saw the sights and said he would go back to Carolina the happier for having seen Oregon's building and display. Teddy Roosevelt failed to get into the Oregon building but dashed through the Oregon exhibit in the horticultural palace and was "delighted" as a matter of course.
