BOOST YOUR OWN TOWN

COOS county has a number of growing and prosperous towns, in which newspapers are located. The better these papers are patronized by advertisers and subscribers the better it will be for these towns and for the surrounding country.

If you want to be a real booster for your home town, stand loyally by your home paper. It may not be as big nor published as often as other papers in the larger cities, but it is bound to be more closely identified with the direct needs of your own town than any outside publication could possibly be.

HOW TO LIVE TO 100

IN THE "Interesting People" department of the August American Magazine appears an article about Henry F. Swanback, the oldest Odd Fellow in America, who lives at the age of 100 at Greenwood, Nebraska. Mr. Swanback was a boyhood friend of Bismarck's. His grandfather lived to be 117. Following are his rules for living to be 100.

"Go to bed early and get up early."

"Never sleep in a heated room."
"Keep fresh air in the sleeping room."

"Sleep out of doors in summer—winter, too, if it can be arranged."
"Drink plenty of fresh water."

"Use very little red liquor."
"As old age comes on take, each morning, a small wine glass of one-third glycerin and two-thirds good whisky."

"Smoke as often as you please, but do not inhale the smoke, or blow it out through the nostrils."

"If you are unfortunate enough to lose your wife, get another. It is not good for man or woman to live alone."

"Don't worry over anything. Worry kills more people than disease."
"Keep an even temper at all times. Be cheerful at all times."
"Keep the feet dry and the head clear."

"Never eat meat. A little chicken will harm no one, but must not be eaten too often."

"Eat plenty of fresh fish."
"Do not drink coffee."
"Keep away from sweet stuff. It ruins the stomach and kidneys."

"Take plenty of outdoor exercise. Walk a great deal."

"Follow these rules, and any normal man, barring accidents, can live to be one hundred."

WITH THE TOAST
AND THE TEA

GOOD EVENING

That is true cultivation which gives us sympathy with every form of human life, and enables us to work most successfully for its advancement. Refinement that carries us away from our fellow men is not God's refinement.—Beecher.

KISS HER

Why don't you kiss your wife each morning when you go to work? Perhaps she does look frazzled and her face might scare a Turk. But remember, man, she is the girl you took for good or bad. And you're not such a wonder when you show your mug, he-dad!

When wife is wan and tired, wise hubby looks her o'er And muses, "Gosh, she's getting old, and looking pretty pore." And then he spies a beauty young, a-walking on the street— He thinks she is the read kid-do and tries with her to meet.

Remember, man, Old Father Time has lined up your face, too. And if you'd use a looking glass you probably will view A dried-up, grouchy appearing flaz, red nose and bleary eye. So when you leave the house for work just kiss the wife goodbye.

—E. W. Jorgenson

When a man hates you he has a grouch on when you come around. But when a woman hates you she smiles sweetly when she meets you, although she could be arrested for what she thinks of you.

The man who whines that a woman drove him to drink is a liar. No man is born without a thirst.

Maybe this would be a happier world if things were reversed and it cost $500 to get married and only $5 to get a divorce.

After sitting down and being honest with yourself you will admit that your fool friends cause you more trouble than your enemies.

When a girl has shown an interest in you and she meets you on the street four times in one afternoon, it isn't an accident. It is a frame-up.

QUESTION FOR THE DAY

Why is it that a souse gets his red nose from rum and that a prohibitionist always gets his red nose from stomach trouble.

One reason why father likes to move in another house is because he knows that the day after mother gets moved in she will discover some other house that she likes better.

STICK TO THE BATH TUB, MARY Since Mary went out on the beach she's been as red as blazes. And cranky! Gee, but she's a peach. Her needlessness amazes. For Mary took a dip one day. Into the briny ocean; Since then poor father's had to pay For lotion after lotion. You see she dabbled in the sun In salt abbreviated. While at it Mary thought it fun; She's changed her mind, she's stuck.

Now home's no pleasant place to be. Rehoboth we get are nothing. We're hoping that hereafter she will stick to bathtub bathing.

BEAUTIFUL SUNSET BAY

The people are flocking there to camp. They sail in Sunset Bay, slide. If only for a day.

Nature surely has done her part. The scene is intensely grand. You can take a boat and go to sea Or take a car on land.

You can pitch your tent by the fresh sea air, And feel the ocean spray. Or spread your couch under the eucalyptus.

On beautiful Sunset Bay. Many come to take a rest On beautiful Sunset Bay. There's food for thought at every glance To drive the cares away.

You can view the ships as they sail at sea, From beautiful Sunset Bay. But there never was a grander sight Than the setting of the sun at sea.

Some day man's hand will beautify The look down by the sea. But we will still look for a place unadorned.

On beautiful Sunset Bay. Mrs. C. Galbreath. Camping at Sunset Bay

The Fool and Our Forest
Dollars

E. T. ALLEN.

Goodbye to the fool with the empty gun; Forgotten his bid for fame. Though he kills the friend, it only counts one. And that, nowadays, is fame. The fool who playfully rocks the boat Is on the front page no more. He may rank high with the fools afloat But his glory is gone ashore. There's the fool with women, the fool with wine, And the fool who games with strangers, And the joy-ride fool the deer well in his line By combining these a client dangers. But they're all still down in the primer class, Mere jokers taking a flyer. Compared with the prize-taking, criminal ass, The fool in the woods with life. A few hearts break for the deeds they've done In their pitiful amateur way. But five slays dozens where they slay one And scotches a state in a day For the ruined home and the smokeless stack And the worker unemployed. Know a hundred years shall never bring back The child a chat his match destroyed.

NEWS OF NEARBY TOWNS

NEWS OF BAXTON

Notes of People at that Place Told in Recorder

Chas. and Ray Bowman and their new Dodge auto started on a trip to the Willamette valley and Portland. Ernest Bender joined them at Myrtle Point.

Mrs. J. A. Byrne returned from Coquille where she has been doing stenography work for a firm of that city while their regular stenographer was taking a vacation.

Robert F. Munford and Sarah E. Rook both of Arago were married on Sunday evening, August 8th at the home of the bride's parents, Elder John S. Rook in the presence of near friends and relatives. Rev. L. B. Overholster of Bandon officiated.

R. W. Bates and family of Roseburg are among the visitors to Bandon this week stopping at the Gallier. Mr. Bates was raised at Port Orford but left this country many years ago. He was formerly publisher of the News of Roseburg but sold out a couple of years ago. He is now engaged in the job printing business at Roseburg.

Albert Garfield plans to leave his automobile the latter part of the week for San Francisco, accompanied by Mrs. Garfield, Mrs. W. E. Crane and daughters the Misses Emma and Pearl, and by Miss Nora Solive, to be gone for a two or three weeks trip.

Recorder Kausrud left this morning on the stage for Roseburg where he will take the train for San Francisco for a visit to the fair. He was granted a month's leave of absence by the council at his last meeting during which time Mrs. Kausrud will attend to the duties of his office. Mr. Kausrud may go on to his former home at Rice Lake, Wis., where his parents live but was not decided on this trip at the time of leaving.

Sam Barrows in his Ford started for a trip into the Willamette to be gone a week or ten days. He was accompanied by his mother who will go as far as Eugene, also by Mrs. Anna Barrows and son Charlie, the latter chauffeur, and daughter Manile. The party goes first to Roseburg where relatives will be visited. Then to Eugene and from there perhaps to Menmouth and Carlton.

COOS COUNTY BELOW AVERAGE

The wildest figures we ever saw published are those in the last issue of the Oregon Voter in which Mr. Chapman makes Coos county's cost for county officers $181,696 a year. We have before us Assessor Thrift's estimate of the cost of our county officers for 1915, as follows:

Cost of Sheriff's office$8,000
Cost of Clerk's office8,000
Cost of Treasurer's office6,000
Cost of Coroner's office1,000
Cost of School Superintendent's office4,000
Cost of Assessor's office6,000

Total$33,000

Mr. Thrift's estimate is a liberal one and as Mr. Chapman, in the Oregon Almanac for the present year, puts our population at 21,000, it seems that we had a long way short of his "county unit" of $2 per capita for such expenditures. Instead of being 210 per cent in excess as he puts it. We wonder where on earth he got such figures for old Coos. More singular is the fact that when it comes to the cost of county courts and commissioners Mr. Chapman makes the standard rate for Coos $5,213 and gives our county court credit for using up only $2,527 of that.—Coquille Sentinel.

Invitations printed at The Times office.

INVITED FROM CURRY

People There Wanted Committee to Come Up Coast

The people of Curry County were also anxious that the Rivers and Harbor committee of Congress come north up the coast from Crescent City to Coos Bay so that they could view the Curry County harbors and waterways. Roderick Macleay of Wedderburn writes that he has been making every effort to co-operate with the Coos County people in inducing the committee to make the trip, having personal friends among the Oregon delegation in congress. The efforts to get the committee to come this way apparently were made too late as word was received that the trip would be made from Crescent City to Grants Pass and through the Willamette Valley to Portland.

TEACHERS AT COQUILLE

New Instructors Chosen for Coming Year There

The Coquille public schools will open for the fall term on Monday, Sept. 13th—the same date on which the other city schools of the county open.

There are only two changes in the corps of teachers from that of last year. Prof. J. W. Crites, of Hood River, will be principal of the High School, the position held by L. W. Turnbull last year, who goes to Bandon this year as superintendent of the city school there. Miss Mable Hanson, who taught mathematics and German in the High School last year will not return and Miss Mable Hay, of Ft. Collins, Colo., has been engaged for this position. She has been principal of the High School there and is highly recommended.—Coquille Sentinel.

MYRTLE POINT FAIR

September 8, 9, 10, 11, Wed., Thurs., Fri. and Sat., are the days for the Coos and Curry counties exposition at Myrtle Point. Fifteen horses in training and more heard from.—Myrtle Point Enterprise.

BARROW OPPOSED TO RECALL

Attorney C. R. Barrow, of Coquille, spent Monday night in Bandon visiting with his relatives, the J. E. Marshall family and attended to legal matters while in town, returning home on the noon boat. He stated that so far as he knew there was nothing to the recall movement, and that out of 700 or 800 voters in Coquille, he did not believe that there were 25 who would sign such a petition.—Bandon Recorder.

SHIPS DRIED LOGANBERRIES

W. C. Snyder, who lives a mile northwest of Coquille, shipped 7200 pounds of dried loganberries to a Portland wholesale house Tuesday, where they will be stored for a future price. They are pooled with the loganberry association at 20 cents per pound, and prospects are good for a better price. These berries were grown on five acres, and the yield would have been at least a ton more if frost had not nipped some of the vines.—Gerrais Star.

ANXIOUS FOR RESORT

Heceta Beach, Lane county's new ocean resort, was the objective point of 350 Eugene excursionists Sunday. A train of six coaches made the trip from Eugene to Cushman over the line of the Willamette Pacific in record time and within an hour after its arrival at the end of the line the merry-makers were at the new resort, after a boat ride of about six miles of the Siuslaw river and a hike up the beach.—Eugene Register.
