LOCAL BREVITIES

AUGUST TIDES Time and heights of tides at Marshfield. The tides are placed in order of occurrence, with their times on the first line and heights on the second line of each day.

WEATHER FORECAST (By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.) OREGON—Fair, northerly winds. LOCAL TEMPERATURE RECORD For the 24 hours ending at 4:43 a. m., Aug. 20, by Benj. Ostlund, special government meteorologist.

Is Entertaining.—Mrs. J. H. Stadden is entertaining at cards and sewing at her home on South Fourth street this afternoon. Issues Invitations.—Mrs. Charles Q. Van Duyn has issued invitations for bridge parties on Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons of next week.

pects to add materially to his dairy herd there next season.

Sue Steamship Company.—Suit was instituted today in the Justice Court by William W. Ladd and H. A. Harris against the North Pacific Steamship company for $26.70 alleged to be due them.

Called Away.—Rev. G. L. Hall left early Thursday morning for Hermon, Ore., called there by the death of his father D. A. Hall.

Our Door Service.—The Norwegian Lutheran churches of Marshfield and North Bend will hold an open air service at Port Barnum, Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

Pig Takes Swim.—Loading a couple of dressed pigs aboard the North Star this afternoon one of them seemingly came to life, jerked away down the gang plank from J. E. Ford and took a first class swim dive into the murky depths.

Takes Oath of Office.—Cal Wright today before Justice Pennock took the oath of office as deputy game warden and will have his headquarters in Curry county.

Visit at Hatchery.—To see how the salmon are raised and also to visit Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Troxel and Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Goodman of Roseburg, went up to the Coos River Hatchery this morning.

Seeks a Divorce.—Mrs. Lydia McDonald, formerly Miss Lydia Holmes, has instituted divorce proceedings against her husband Lester McDonald and alleges desertion.

San Francisco Cold.—F. W. Powers, who returned night before last from a few weeks at the San Francisco fair, says that the weather there has been miserable, cold, windy and foggy.

Returns North.—Gay Lombard, a Portland business man and political leader, who has been spending his vacation with L. J. Simpson at Shore Acres, expected to leave today for his home.

Bonfire Party.—The pupils of the Methodist Sunday School are enjoying a bonfire party at the A. Isaacson place on South Twelfth street this evening.

At Crater Lake.—Cards received from Judge Coke and family indicate that instead of going direct to San Francisco on their auto trip, they took in the side trip to Crater Lake and Klamath Falls.

Brings Produce.—R. A. Easton, of Brewster Valley, drove to Marshfield with a big load of farm produce, including vegetables, fruits and eggs.

Builds Big Barn.—Jack McDonald is just completing a big barn on his Loom Lake ranch. The structure is 100 by 84 feet.

To Curry County.—Charles Young and Marion Wilkes of Corvallis arrived on the Bay last evening after an overland jaunt. They are en route to Curry county where they will spend a month hunting and prospecting.

Hard Old World.—"Sandy" who is a mighty intelligent full-sized dog and belongs to William Chandler, thinks this is a mighty hard old world. Raymond McKeown for many weeks has been raising a brood of rabbits, well inside of a wire enclosure at the rear of the Chandler and practically all of Sandy's waking hours are spent outside looking in, brooding over the delicacies that never can be his.

Not Bothered With Deer.—Harry J. McKeown and W. J. Conrad returned yesterday in the latter's machine from a two days' hunting trip beyond Myrtle Point.

reports of many deer in that country should have been severely considered. Unlike Harry Rohm and Clem Well, who said they had a hard time driving the animals away from their camp, the hunters said they weren't even threatened.

To Collect Big Wage.—According to work from Portland most of the Alaskan salmon packing ships of the Columbia River are expected back from the north about September 8 after a successful season. The fishermen have worked through the season without collecting any wages and their pay day in Portland will be about $150,000.

Follow Coos Example.—The example of Coos county, the testing of herds and the keeping of monthly records to show exactly what each animal is producing and the amount earned over all expenses, is being suggested for Multnomah county and word from there states that special attention is to be paid by this phase of the dairymen and experts are now investigating the various systems and say they will cut out the "boarders" from all herds.

Coos Bay Best.—James L. Stevens returned yesterday from a trip to Portland, stopping at various places in the Willamette Valley, and is free to make the statement that South Coos River looks good to him. At Eugene he procured a saddle horse and rode several miles through the farming country. There seemed to be an utter absence of moisture, pastures dried up, and everything covered with dust.
