BORN
FLANAGAN—To Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Flanagan at their home on South Fifth street, a son. Mother and child are doing nicely and Mr. Flanagan is proud over the advent of his fifth child and third son.

Wedding Anniversary.—H. J. McKeown and wife and family have gone to Ten Mile where they will quietly celebrate their wedding anniversary.

Relative Gets Iron Cross.—Mrs. Chas. Kaiser and R. F. Gebhardt of North Bend are second cousins of Max Gebhardt, a sixteen-year old German lad who was awarded the iron cross for bravery in a recent battle there.

Repair Bridge.—The Anderson & Klockars pile driver, which has been working on South Coos River is being taken to South Inlet, where some additional piling will be put in for the drawbridge which is again endangered by the shifting channel.

Must be Stamped.—Parties who have been sending letters and papers to ranchers and campers on North and South Coos River without stamping them cannot do so any longer. The regular boats on those runs are now rural mail carriers and can only handle stamped mail.

Excursion Postponed.—The moonlight excursion to the sand hills in the lower bay, scheduled for last evening on the Alice H., was indefinitely postponed but it is expected that it will be held a little later in the summer.

Fires Bother.—Gordon Smith is today fixing up the old fire engine to eliminate the danger of fires from it. Yesterday he was using it on the wharf pumping water for the street cleaning force and said that sparks and cinders from it started a half a dozen little fires.

Men Get Deer.—W. W. Lawhorn, of Brewster Valley, and Robert Goetz, returned about midnight from Curry where they went on a hunting trip. The men report bagging some deer, but say they were not successful in bagging the limit of game.

May Fight Turks.—According to a letter received by Fred Chestnut from his brother who is now in England with the second Canadian contingent he may soon be sent to the Dardanelles with the other troops of the Allies. The brother enlisted with the volunteers from Toronto.

Greeks to Banquet.—A number of the Sigma Chi alumni chapter of Coos Bay with their friends and families expect to have a lamb barbecue on South Coos River near Goodwill's next Sunday. They will go up in a special boat. To prepare the scene, get all in readiness and to catch a big mess of crawfish, J. C. Kendall and Jack Flanagan expect to go up Saturday night.

Man Known Here.—Suffering from an incurable disease James H. Kouns, a graduate of the University of Oregon, and known by some of the old graduates on Coos Bay, on Sunday night hanged himself in Portland. He used a towel for the purpose, swinging from a hook in the ceiling. Nearby was found an unsigned sketch entitled, "The Letter He Left." Kouns was a draftsman, about 30 years of age and unmarried.

Sheriff is Better.—Sheriff Alf Johnson is much better and able to be about again, according to A. P. Davis who was here today. He said he was laid up several days after the auto accident on the Bandon road when he was thrown from the machine. Contractor Mintoyne, of Coquille, was more seriously injured but is recovering very nicely it is said.

Month to River.—Bridges men say that the main steel riveting for the bridge across the Bay will not be done until the spans have been put in place and that it will then take about 32 days to complete the operations. This is the process where the men toss red hot rivets to the drivers, who catch them in buckets. The big draw span and practically all the spans north of the main draw have been put in place.

One Case Finished.—John C. Kendall talked over the long distance to Gold Beach last evening with John D. Goss who said that one of the Fish War contempt cases had just been finished but that Judge Calkins reserved his decision until later. It is expected the present term will last until next Wednesday, the longest term ever held in Curry.

Smoke on Bay.—There was heavier haze than usual of smoke hanging over the bay this morning, caused by the burning of slashings up the Coos River and also out near Gould's Lake, where the Clarence Gould outfit is doing considerable clearing. Reports are that there is no danger anywhere from these fires.

Trailer Cuts Paving.—Chief Carter has told the drivers of the teams hauling logs from West Marshfield that hereafter they must make wider turns at the corner of Commercial and Front streets. Yesterday they made the turns so that the wheels cut deep into the paving alongside the tracks, taking out large chunks of the bitumen. The long length of the logs has made the turning difficult and the same trouble has been experienced with the trailer behind the auto truck.

To Build Another.—Councilman George E. Cook bought a lot in Perham Park and let a contract for a house. He had eight prospective renters apply and so today bought through W. A. Reid the adjoining lot and expects to build another house on that. The work of erecting the first building will be very soon under way. The new lot is number 19 in block 27 on Eighth Terrace.

On Vacation Trip.—A. B. Campbell, of the Coos Bay branch of the Standard Oil Company, and wife, left on the Kiburn today for their annual vacation in California, and will be gone several weeks. After visiting the exposition, they plan to visit Mr. Campbell's mother at Los Angeles and friends and relatives there, at Riverside and other points. During Mr. Campbell's absence Wm. Sleep, a brother of Mrs. Campbell, will have charge of his work at the Standard Oil plant.

Party Returns Home.—Mr. and Mrs. Allen A. Lobree, Mr. and Mrs. Wallenstein and Mr. and Mrs. Herzog left this morning in Lynn Lambeth's machine for Roseburg, returning to their homes in California after a visit of a week on Coos Bay which the old home of several members of the party. Mr. Lobree said that they had enjoyed the trip immensely and that he does not expect to wait another 31 years before coming on another visit.

Auto Over Edge.—Dwight E. Hodge returned by auto over the Coos Bay Wagon Road from a two weeks business trip to Portland last evening. He said that the machine in which he was returning attempted to pass the outgoing stage yesterday in the canyon and the former machine slipped dangerously over the edge and it was also four hours before it could be pried back again into the roadway. He was the only passenger in the car. The other machine was delayed only about half an hour, he said.

Brush Fire Scared.—The North Bend fire department was called out at seven o'clock last evening on an alarm sent in from Old Town. The chemical was used in putting out a brush fire that had been started at the bottom of the hill and which, if allowed a few minutes more freedom, would have probably caused considerable damage.
