Is Improving.—Wm. Horsfall, son of Dr. and Mrs. Wm. Horsfall, who has been quite sick of typhoid fever, contracted while on their recent auto tour of California, is reported improving.

Meeting Postponed.—The public worship conducted each month in the Bunker Hill school building by Rev. G. L. Hall is postponed this month on account of painting operations now going on.

Quits Camps.—Eugene O'Connell and wife, Mrs. Richardson's children, Mrs. E. K. Jones and son, Eugene, and a number of others will break camp on South Coos River this week, returning to town for the season.

Dock is Repaired.—The dock near the Wason Fish Market is being repaired, under a motion passed by the city council several weeks ago and the repairs will be made also in the back of the Norton and Hansen store the property owners along there having been warned that the dock was fast becoming unsafe.

Special Meeting Tonight.—There is a special meeting of the Port Commission called for this evening in the Chamber of Commerce where the Commissioners will make arrangements with several property owners who have not yet paid their fill assessments. The claims against the Nasburg Land company, amounting to about $4,000, will be the largest one to be taken up.

Mail Comes Late.—There was no mail last evening on the train from Myrtle Point, not until the train arriving from there this afternoon. No cause is known for the delay. Even a day late the mail is still on the schedule and within the time allowed by the government for its delivery here. There have been only two or three times this summer that the mail has failed to come through a day ahead of time.

Atlas Measured Up.—Harry J. Kimball, collector of customs, was today measuring up the new passenger boat Atlas so that it can be entered in the United States book of registry. The builders of the craft failed to make the exact measurements, a fact that necessitated this morning the taking up of some light planking in the stern to get at the actual length.

Caught Big Salmon.—Monday Mrs. F. M. Friedberg landed the biggest salmon that has been caught this year by any of the South Coos River colony. The fish weighed just twelve and one-half pounds and she and her young son were alone in the boat when they caught it. The previous largest one was a ten-pounder caught by A. P. Owen. Monday night, the salmon was baked at the Eugene O'Connell place and was served as a farewell feast of the season to A. P. Owen, Mrs. Carrie Dunagan, Mrs. E. K. Jones, Eugene Jones, Rosemary Richardson, and Mr. and Mrs. O'Connell.

Wait Us to Visit.—The 20th annual Astoria Regatta takes place September 2, 3 and 4, according to an invitation just received from the committee in charge there and addressed to the people of Coos Bay. A cousin of President Wilson will lead the big parade. Features will be the land and marine parades, auto, foot and horse races. Boats from all over the Columbia gather there for the Regatta and it is expected hundreds will congregate at the city near the mouth of the Columbia.

Straw Hats Off.—Old Sol poked his head above the eastern mountains early this morning, grinning. He had a right to the weather man presages days and days yet of good weather, warm weather with plenty of sun, shine to boot and Old Sol knew it too and he knew that straw hat season was off yesterday and that there went back into the dark closets the lids that must await the coming of the next fashion season before they can be trotted out once more. And Sol knew the signs that were sighted for the closing of the season meant the plunking over of good fivers for the somber hats of the fall.

Auto Accident.—Tom Walker, a well known Coquille man, was slightly hurt in an auto accident between there and Bandon when his auto overturned. It is claimed that the roadway caved in, causing the car to overturn.

Motorcycle Trip.—Henry O'Mara, superintendent of the Oregon Power Co. and wife expect to leave this week for Roseburg and Salem where they will spend his vacation with relatives and friends. They plan to go out on his motorcycle.

Outing Sunday.—The Swedish Lutheran church of this city will have an outing Sunday at the Chas. Enegren place on South Coos River, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society. Launch Wah-ta-wasa will leave Marshfield at 9:30 a. m.

Takes Position in North.—F. H. Starr, for two years a draftsman with Ben Ostlund, has accepted a position as draftsman and advertising manager for the Columbia River Door company of Rainier, Oregon. He says that he is expecting to return to Marshfield probably within a year.

Make Speed in Ford.—According to word received from A. T. Haines, who with his son George left here Sunday morning at eight o'clock in their machine for California, they went as far as Ashland by the first night and yesterday morning they were in Chico.

Timbermen Leave.—H. F. Chaney, of Detroit and G. H. Chaney, of Salt Lake, left here this morning in their auto after inspecting part of their timber holdings in Coos County. They have about 3000 acres. They motored up from San Francisco where they attended the exposition and yesterday were taken around by A. E. Adelsperger of the Smith Timber Company.

Back in Mines.—Frank Pugsley, has received word from his father-in-law, John Barrows, who returned to England last summer, that he has resumed his old position in the mines there. He writes that all England is united in a determination that the Allies shall be victorious in the war regardless of the cost or time required.

Warned About Beating Horses.—Chief Carter, in answer to an urgent phone call yesterday afternoon, went out to West Marshfield to investigate the claim that drivers of the logging teams have been unmercifully beating their horses. The woman who called up lives on the road and told the Chief that one of the men in particular had used a large plank, used on the road, to chastise his animals. The officer gave the men warning that further complaint would lead to arrests. Before turning into 14th street there is a slight hump over which the teams have a hard time pulling the heavy loads.

Bees in Boxes.—Lynn Schmitz came into the office of the Haines Feed Store yesterday afternoon and noticed a strange box under a table, nailed on top with a light board covering. He examined the package, but his curiosity was still unassuaged and he was about to yank off the covering when he heard a buzzing sound. There was a swarm of bees inside and already he could hear the "dull buzz of the bees" and clamped the lid on tighter than ever. The hive belonged to A. E. Seaman and was about to be taken up the river.

Claims Husband Drunkard.—Mrs. Dena Ingman has filed suit against her husband, Andrew Ingman, for divorce, accusing her husband of gross drunkenness, of falsely accusing her of associating with other men. The husband in turn is accused of associating with persons of ill repute and the claim is made that the wife, returning with her six-year old daughter from a visit in Finland was spurned by her husband, who then left their home. She asks $20 a month alimony, $50 attorney's fees, costs and two lots.

Football Camps to Open.—Local football fans are following with interest the beginning of the season in the Northwest. Word has just come that Coach Stewart of the Oregon Agricultural College will tomorrow lead a squad of 35 huskies to the beach at Newport where they will undergo strenuous training for the next two weeks before the regular college session opens. Coach Bexdek, of the University of Oregon, will take his squad to a camp up the McKenzie River, not far from Eugene. Work-outs in these camps are hard and the men are given little time to lie about in the shade.

Classes for fundamental piano will meet with Mrs. Conway on Saturday mornings, at Myrtle Arms. Mrs. Conway received her diploma for this course at Whitworth College, under a private student of Carl Faellton, and a graduate of New England Conservatory.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS
Parties having any protest concerning their assessment are requested to appear before the Coos County Board of Equalization at Coquille September 13 and present their grievance. Do it then as it will be too late to make any changes after that date. Tax paying time is too late to enter protests.

T. J. THRIFT, Coos County Assessor.
