WITH THE TOAST AND THE TEA

When you say that some men are fatheaded fools every man who hears you knows that you are talking about the other fellow.

Eve was the only woman that ever moved into new quarters and didn't kick about the dirt left by the woman who moved out.

There is too much bull in the world. It has got so that driving a garbage wagon is a "position" and not a job, and $6 per week is salary and not wages.

Before marriage he imagines that it is sentiment that makes her save his love letters, but after marriage he learns better.

How much happier this old world would be if every man who wields a hammer were a builder and not a knocker.

FAITH

I believe in the world and its bigness and splendor, That most of the heart beats around us are tender; That days are but footsteps and years are but miles That lead us to beauty and singing and smiles; That roses that blossom and toilers that plod Are filled with the glorious spirit of God.

I believe in the purpose of everything living, That taking is but the forerunner of giving; That strangers are friends that we some day may meet, And not all the bitter can equal the sweet. That creeds are but colors, and no man has said That God loves the yellow rose more than the red.

I believe in the path that today I am treading, That I shall come safe through what dangers I'm dreading; That even the scoffer shall turn from his ways And some day be won back to trust and to praise; That the leaf on the tree and the thing we call Man Are sharing alike in His infinite plan.

I believe that all things that are living and breathing Some richness of beauty to earth are bequeathing; That all that goes out of this world leaves behind Some duty accomplished for mortals to find; That the humblest of creatures our praise is deserving, For it, with the wisest, the Master is serving.
