HOLD BABY CONTEST

INTERESTING FEATURE OF FAIR AT MYRTLE POINT

Little Ones Can Be Entered Sept. 9 and 10 and Possibly Also on Sept. 11

(Special to The Times)
MYRTLE POINT, Ore., Sept. 8.—The Better Baby show is one of the interesting features of the county fair and it is expected that there will be a large number of babies shown. Babies can be entered when they arrive on Sept. 9 and 10 and possibly on Sept. 11.

The babies will be scored according to the regular schedules which are used at all the baby shows. The score cards are given to the mothers so that they will know on just what points their babies are weakest and will be able to correct the weak features.

The show will not only be of great interest but as well it will be of much benefit to the parents as the examination necessary in the contest makes a valuable guide for the mothers in the future care and raising of the babies.

PETITIONS SIGNED

MANY VOTERS WANT SPECIAL BOND ELECTIONS

Need 800 Names To Allow County to Vote on $370,000 Bonds—Would Be in November

Good roads petitions, calling for a special election to consider $370,000 road bonds, are being freely signed and meeting little opposition, according to J. E. Montgomery, who in the past week has been well over the county. September 16 is the date set by President A. T. Morrison, of Coquille, for a reorganizing of the Good Roads Committee of Coos.

According to the law at least 800 names of registered voters must be secured before a special election can be called. It is believed, said Mr. Montgomery, that at least 1,200 will be on the petitions before they are finally sent into the county court. Every person submitting a petition must swear to the legality of all names on his list.

With the required number secured in all probability the election would be held this fall, probably in November. At the Bridge Carnival in North Bend October 8 will be a meeting of good roads enthusiasts in the county and this, with other smaller meetings from time to time and a campaign of publicity and education among the voters, is expected to prepare the people for a true expression of their beliefs at the voting booths.

Expenditure of the special bond money would take in a permanent road from Bandon to the Curry county line, according to the petitions, and the remainder would, as far as possible, build a hard surface road from Myrtle Point, through Coquille, to Coos Bay and thence to the South Inlet Bridge.

Name Committee

With Frank Horton, chairman, a committee of 12 has been named by the Coos County Business Men's Association to co-operate with the good roads committee of the county. The other members are Charles Hall and George Goodrum, Marshfield; George Hazer, Dr. I. B. Bartle, North Bend; Dr. Endicott, W. H. Eyzon, Coquille; John Dickey, J. E. Wolstrom, Bandon and C. E. Huling, Myrtle Point.

AMONG THE SICK

Bud Brigham, a son of Colonel Brigham of North Bend, is suffering from an attack of blood poisoning.

INSTITUTION EXPECTS FRESHMAN CLASS OF 300

Several Students to Go from Marshfield—Faces Brightest Year in 40 Years' Existence

More than 300 freshmen are expected in the beginning class at the University of Oregon when the state institution opens its doors next Tuesday, according to an announcement from Eugene which is interesting news to present and former students of Oregon who live on Coos Bay.

The most successful year in the history of the university is just ahead, according to President P. L. Campbell, father of Miss Lucia Campbell who visited here last week.

To the faculty have been added 10 instructors, bringing that body up close now to one hundred members. This for the first time will open a complete law course at Eugene. Gradually the school has been moved from Portland and now the entire course there is for five and six years, with two and three years collegiate work preparatory. Law professors of ability have been engaged and it is said the department will rank high with any other schools of the coast.

It is also expected this year that the registration in the School of Architecture, newly established last year, will be larger than ever before.

In Portland the Oregon School of Medicine will have a $50,000 building.

From Marshfield this year will be Miss Lucy Powers, sophomore, Max Reigard, junior, Albert Haines, sophomore.

Mr. and Mrs. James Bennett Report Pleasant Visit South

Mr. and Mrs. James Bennett who arrived home Saturday from a visit in California report a fine trip. They were away nearly a month. From Marshfield they made the trip in their auto to San Francisco, going out by way of Roseburg. After visiting the fair they went on the steamer Harvard to San Pedro and from there to Los Angeles where they visited Mrs. Bennett's brother whom she had not seen for eleven years. They spent a week in Los Angeles and returned to San Francisco on the Harvard and made a second visit to the Exposition. They shipped their machine home and returned on the Adeline Smith.

On the trip down Mr. and Mrs. Bennett took a camping outfit so they could stop along the road when they chose and enjoyed that feature of the travel very much.

POSTAL INSPECTOR LOOKS OVER PROPOSED RURAL DELIVERY

Would Include Bunker Hill, Flagstaff, Libby and Eastport—Says Plenty of Names on Petition

Inspection of the proposed rural free delivery route south of Marshfield was made yesterday by D. E. Wood, postal inspector of this district, and Postmaster Hugh McLain and the belief is that the route will now be established.

Included in the route would be Bunker Hill, Millington, Flagstaff, and thence over the hill out to Libby and back through Eastport. All people living in these districts now must get their mail at the local Postoffice.

Two months ago there was established on Coos River the first rural delivery on Coos Bay. Should this new route be put in it would be the second.

A competitive examination was held at the local Postoffice several weeks ago for carriers and clerks and though the names of the successful applicants have not yet been received back, nevertheless there will be a waiting list and a carrier could start as soon as word is received from the Postoffice Department.

Many Affected

Over 200 families are situated on the eleven and one-half-mile route a condition twice as good as ordinarily is met, it has been explained. There is a law that service only three times a week can be received while the route undergoes the experimental stage. It is believed that here a special dispensation might be made.
