GIRL SWIMS MILES

MISS ALMA WATT ATTEMPTS MOUTH OF COLUMBIA SATURDAY

Seized With Cramps at End of Fourth Mile—Is Daughter of J. W. Watt of Marshfield

Attempting to swim across the Columbia river, seven miles wide at its mouth, on Saturday afternoon Miss Alma Watt was seized with cramps at the end of four miles and was pulled into a boat that accompanied her. Gene Gustl, a fisherman who also attempted to swim, was forced to give up exhausted at the end of the first mile.

Though the water was rough and white caps breaking clear across Miss Watt was undeterred in starting. She is an expert swimmer. Several weeks ago she came into prominence for her feat of swimming across the Columbia at The Dalles, a distance of more than 1,600 feet.

The young lady learned to swim in Salem, where Mr. Watt formerly lived before moving to Coos Bay several years ago. She is now a nurse in Portland. Last year she received a medal from the Young Women's Christian Association there for her swimming abilities.

OLD SETTLER OF COOS BAY PASSES AWAY

Of Late Years Resided on S. C. Rogers Place on Coos River—Daughter in Portland

Capt. Jacob Ernst, one of the old settlers of this locality died this morning at 4:30 o'clock at the S. C. Rogers farm on Coos River. He had lately made his home with the family most of the time and had his own little house on the place where he resided. Capt. Ernst returned from the exposition about a month ago. He visited relatives in San Francisco. On returning home he did not seem quite as well as usual and has been ill for about ten days previous to his death.

Capt. Ernst was 75 years of age and had been on Coos Bay for about forty years. He formerly was a steamboat captain on the bay. He never liked gasoline boats and would not take them up in place of the steam boats.

Capt. Ernst has a daughter, Mrs. Amelia Jackson who resides at Portland and whose husband is the superintendent of the Multnomah County poor farm. He also leaves a brother in San Francisco.

The members of the K. of P. took charge of the remains. The body was brought to Marshfield and the time of the funeral will not be decided upon until the daughter is heard from.

FLORENCE IS BLUE

POPULACE GATHERS ON BEACH TO WATCH STRANDED SHIP

Relief Crew Tell of Near Tragedy—Aided in Putting Line to North Jetty—Wind Blamed

It was a blue and disheartened Florence that Sunday trooped down to the mouth of the Siuslaw to watch the big steam schooner Grace Dollar, largest ship to enter their harbor, pound on the sands where she stuck for more than nine hours trying to get out. Details of the accident reached here today when the gasoline boat Relief arrived at the dock from Florence.

Northwest winds are responsible for the shoaling of the bar, said the crew. At the present time the water often cuts two channels on the bar, neither one very deep, and with sand lodges down the middle. This, they claim, is what happened on Sunday when the Grace Dollar attempted to get out and stuck and now the wind has changed there so that the channel is deepening once more.

While the steamship was still on the sands the steam schooner Patsy came in from Portland and it is said she had but eight feet of water Sunday night at low tide and bumped her way inside, but crossed out the next day with 13 1/2 feet of water.

Water Was Rough

Though the bar was breaking across and was so rough that the Relief could not get out, the men this morning said that the Grace Dollar hardly at any time was in danger. She was on the sands and extremely close to the south jetty toward which she swung several times. The captain of the steamship, they said, is a good navigator and it is owing to his seamanship that nothing worse happened.

The Relief early in the day went down to the bar and aided the stranded vessel by putting a line across to the north jetty, one of the things that aided very much in getting the craft off that evening.

As soon as the news about the Grace Dollar going ashore most of Florence's population trooped down to the mouth of the river and stayed there until that evening. Their celebration at the coming of the big ship was turned to sorrow, for thousands of dollars have been expended by the Port of Siuslaw on their jetties.

Work Started on Jetty

The government has within the last few weeks let the contract for extending the south jetty some 600 feet and work has already started on this project and probably will be completed in the spring. This done, said the Relief crew, would aid materially in scouring out the mouth of the river and ought to raise the depth of water there considerably.

They say the Grace Dollar has still another cargo to take at Florence, but do not know whether she will return. She was not forced to unload any of her 700,000 feet of lumber in order to get out yesterday making the exit without any trouble, after sounding clear across the bar.

SHIPPING NEWS CAPT. MAGEE HOME

VETERAN MARINER MISSES THE BOAT ON RETURN TRIP

Says Exposition is Fine and All Should See It—Son Not Heard From

Captain James Magee, of Empire, who has followed the sea for over forty years missed his boat when he wanted to return from San Francisco Sunday. He and Mrs. Magee had been taking in the exposition and visiting at California cities and had purchased their return tickets. He saw that the Santa Clara was advertised to sail at 11:30 Sunday and they went down to the pier a little before that time only to find that she had already sailed. He was not to be outdone, though, and they went over and caught the 1 o'clock train out of San Francisco and arrived in Marshfield yesterday afternoon by auto only a few hours later than the Santa Clara reached here.

Capt. Magee says the exposition is fine and everyone should see it. He has not heard from his son, Capt. W. A. Magee, since he sailed on the Nann Smith from San Francisco. He will have to make about 18 ports and figured on the trip down taking about 25 days, another 25 days being occupied in making the numerous ports and another 25 days back.

COMPLETE BIG BOAT

BUILD LARGE VESSEL IN TEN WEEKS

Big Freighter Turned Out at Union Iron Works in Record Time—Will Ply Deep Water

In ten weeks the Union Iron Works, of San Francisco turned out the big freighter Annetto Rolph, for the Rolph Company. This is a record for ship building on the coast. It is expected another month will be consumed in fitting out the ship, and installing the engines.

Increased freight rates in the deep water trade is responsible for the hurried job. Rolph and Company are big shippers and needed the extra vessel to fill contracts.

TIVERTON IS HERE

The steam schooner Tiverton arrived Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock and is loading lumber at the Simpson mill at North Bend.

DRUGGISTS OF COOS BEST LOCALS IN CHASING SPHEROID

Pharmaceutical Association Holds Meeting—Elects Officers and Gathers for Banquet

Druggists of the county chased the pill on the diamond yesterday afternoon—chased it right for time and again the elusive spheroid went twirling, whirling, hurling into the outposts—never even hesitating at outstretched mits and the like. Grand finale, Allies, alias Coos county Druggists, 16; Marshfield, 4.

The banquet and business session was held in the evening and officers for the year were elected.

The officers elected were: President, R. S. Knowlton, Coquille. Vice president, W. S. Wells, Bandon. Secretary, J. L. Brown, Marshfield. Treasurer, D. W. Snyder, Myrtle Point.

At nine o'clock 15 members of the Coos County Pharmaceutical Association gathered in the Guild Hall of the Episcopal church for a banquet served by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wells. It was following this that the business session was held and officers elected. The next meeting of the Association will be held in North Bend in December.

Nurse Sore Spots

Until a late hour the members were still discussing the game of yesterday near the coal bunkers. Team mates sympathized with each other over bruises and lame "soup bones" that had long since ceased operations in the direction of the national pastime.

Harry Winkler is the local hero. In the game for the first time in 12 years he met one of the fireaters that D. W. Snyder brought from Myrtle Point and hurled over the middle pan and with one mighty swipe the pill went aeroplaning over the enemies trenches and Winkler scooted around for a home run though Eaton, third baseman from North Bend, is still arguing he forgot to touch third.

The lineups of the two teams follow: Marshfield: Allies Pitcher; Jarvis D. W. Snyder; Birch J. Donahay; F. D. Cohan W. S. Wells; Church 1st Base; R. Swanton C. J. Fuhrman; J. L. Brown 2nd Base; Winkler 3rd Base; Custer 4th Base; Neilson Shortstop; Time—unknown. Six innings. Neither side needed a centerfielder.

New Ruling in Affairs of the Schools

The Coquille School... Students attending the high school from other parts of the county shall receive tuition for the expense of such students. Pupils from districts attending the high school will be charged tuition for a year's course... This is what it costs to try to furnish a year's education for a pupil, and the board decided that non-resident pupils pay their due proportion of the expenses of running the school.

ROUGH WRESTLING

Jim Wilson Wins From Bandon

Parties from Bandon and Marshfield met here Saturday between Jim Wilson and Custer. Wilson was one of the winners ever witnessed. Wilson, about 180 and Reentry 165, took the first fall in forty minutes and the second in twenty minutes. Wilson is to wrestle at Myrtle Point this week and expected to be even better than the Bandon bout as Custer reported to have been riding mat in California on several roughhouse tactics.
