The Noble Theater TONIGHT

William Fox presents Henri Bernstein's masterpiece, "SAMSON" (Not the Biblical play), with WILLIAM FARNUM.

A splendid picture produced in five reels, with the highest priced actor in the motion picture business. Roused to Titanic wrath by the falseness of his friends and by the fact that the wife he worships spurns his devotion, this modern Samson pulls down the structure of wealth that he himself has erected, ruins the rake who is pursuing his wife and crushes the crowd of sycophants and hangers on, that his benevolence has enriched. A powerful dramatic play of tremendous force.

Other pictures will be shown in addition to the Fox attraction. Fifteen Cents, upstairs or down. Children, 5 cents

Tomorrow night: "Jim Wilson," the 19-year old wonder—everyone should see him. "The Romance of Elaine" and other good features.

BORN

JOHNSTONE—To Mr. and Mrs. Jas. R. Johnstone, of Allegany, September 22nd, a son. Mother and child are doing nicely.

Office in Coke Building.—District Attorney L. A. Liljeqvist is making arrangements for offices on the third floor of the Coke Building where he expects to move in soon, bringing his office here from Coquille.

Brings New Horse.—To take the place of the animal that two weeks ago was shipped from San Francisco to be used on the new Standard Oil company's delivery wagon came another horse this morning. It arrived in good shape.

Gathers Evidence.—Ben Fisher is back from Eureka where he went gathering evidence in the William Shook white slavery case which it is expected will be heard in Portland early in October. It is possible he will also go to Gold Beach.

New Machinery.—Otis H. Wilson is just installing a complete set of agate cutting machinery in his new jewelry store. The complete equipment will greatly reduce the time required for cutting and polishing agates and enable him to do better work.

New Floral Store.—Manager Scott of the Marshfield Florist Company, has leased show window space from L. L. Thomas in the Wiley B. Allen Music Store and will open a downtown branch of his business there, having special displays on Fridays and Saturdays.

Bank at Powers.—E. J. Loney, the Port Orford banker, was in Marshfield last week on business. He expects to open his new bank at Powers in three or four weeks. He will retain his railroad tie business at Port Orford and divide his time between there and Powers.

Roads in Bad Shape.—A. J. Mendel and Rex Webb went down to Bandon yesterday morning in a machine, returning from there last evening. They said the roads were in mighty poor shape and that the auto had to do some strenuous plowing and groaning to get back again.

Get Three Deer.—Capt. E. George Smith, Frank Rogers, George Baker and Floyd Coffelt went hunting yesterday on the south Coos River near the head of Bessey Creek and came home with three fine bucks, Geo.

Baker brought down two and Capt. Smith one of the three animals and all enjoyed a huge venison feast.
Home on Furlough.—Leland Howey, a member of the Philippine Constabulary, arrived on the Santa Clara this morning from San Francisco on his first visit home in five years. He left for his home in Coquille this afternoon and will have until January 1 on his furlough. He said that everything is quiet in the islands at present.

Plenty Hops This Year.—Just on the verge of Oregon's going dry comes the news that the state this year has produced some 100,000 bales of hops. More than $1,000,000 has been spent this year in cultivating and gathering the crop. Dozens of pickers went to the Willamette Valley from Coos, among them being several workmen from Marshfield.

Wed Here Today.—Ernest Guggenberger, of Gardiner, and Miss Ruth Smith, of Elkton, were married at noon today at the home of D. L. Rood, Rev. H. B. Foskett officiating. The bride is a sister of Mrs. Coffelt, of Coos River, who witnessed the nuptials and they will spend part of their honeymoon at her home. They will make their home in Gardiner.

Council Meets Tonight.—The City Council is scheduled to meet this evening, principally for the purpose of again taking up the matter of the Mill Slough drainage system, which was discussed at a special meeting with the Port Commissioners on Tuesday. Nothing was done at that time and the Councilmen say they may get some headway this evening. Mayor Allen is still in San Francisco.

Hot Stuff is Fatal.—Surrounded by friends, a jovial crowd, Charles Olson on Saturday night sloped over the bounds of his constitution and found himself gloriously drunk and unable to toe the scratch. He had failed to heed that "the sin men do by two and two, You must pay for one by one" and went to jail to spend his night sleeping it off. In the morning his pile was minus a five that plunked into the general treasury.

From Sullivan Ranch.—Mr. Sullivan says that the story that the fine display of fruits and vegetables in the Chamber of Commerce window came from Bill Sullivan's garden on Knob Hill was a canard as they are the products of Sullivan Brothers' ranch at Cooston. He says Bill Sullivan could not raise a hill of beans on his Knob Hill Garden. The exhibit which has attracted so much attention is simply the run of the products at the Cooston ranch.

Roads That Are Roads.—A copy of "Motoroad" received here contains magnificent photos of scenes along the Columbia River Highway. An article written by S. C. Lancaster consulting engineer of Multnomah, tells of the construction of the road that is attracting national attention and shows what can be done when people start to make "roads that are roads." The issue is especially significant here where the bonding issue will probably soon be before the voters.

Says Fair is Wonderful.—J. L. Koontz who recently returned from San Francisco where he visited the exposition says he doesn't blame people for going broke to see it for it is surely worth it. Mr. Koontz was on the grounds on Native Son day when there were more than 275,000 people there and when ex-president Taft burned the mortgage papers. He also visited several of the leading machinery plants in San Francisco and learned a few new tricks in acetylene welding work.

Adds A New Line.—Matt L. May, the well known and popular traveling man has just added another line to the standard brands of food products which he carries. Mr. May has been made the Coos Bay representative of the American Biscuit Co. which with his other accounts makes a quartette of the leading products including Haas Bros.; Grocers, Armour & Co, provisions; Astoria Flouring Mills Co., flour and feed and the American Biscuit Co. cracker manufacturers. His friends now refer to him as being with the "Big 4 line."
