

WHAT SOCIETY IS DOING

PERSONAL notices of visitors in the city, or of Coos Bay people who visit in other cities, together with notices of social affairs, are gladly received in the social department. Telephone 123. Notices of club meetings will be published and secretaries are kindly requested to furnish same.

THE CLIMBER

A climber there was, and she made a dash
(Even as you and I).
For a Dame with a name and a bunch of cash—
We called her a purse-proud sort of trash,
But the Climber thought she was all the splash,
(Even as you and I).
Oh, the teas we made and the trouble we take
And the excellent things we plan,
For the sake of the woman who would not come
(And nothing would ever induce her to come)
To one outside of her clan.

A Climber there was and her goods she spent

(Even as you and I).
Preparing "The Season's Chief Event"
Though never to such the Grande Dame went
But the Climber her invitations sent
(Even as you and I).
Oh, the life we waste and the strife we waste,
And the dinners and balls we give,
For the sake of the woman who will not come
(Who hasn't the least inclination to come)
And hardly knows where we live.
The Climber was pierced through her foolish pride
(Even as you and I).
Which she might have expected before she tried,
For the Grande Dame never even replied;
And some of her smiled, but the most of her cried
(Even as you and I).
And it isn't the shame and it isn't the blame
That hurts like a brand-new shoe;
It's coming to know she never would come
Seeing at last she never would come
And never intended to.
—Carolyn Wells.

GIRLS, if you wish to know why you are still tickling a typewriter where you should be bossing your own household here's the plain, unvarnished truth: It is all because you do not know how to dress.

And another thing, you must have a lot of moods. This is no mere man's view, but is according to a lady psychologist who claims to have made a study of your moods, tenses and hemi-demi-hemi-quavers. "If a woman is domestic," she says, "she usually has no parlor tricks. If she likes gayety, she is weak in home economies. If she is athletic, she is discontented in a 5-room flat without a golf course. If she knows how to dress, she is expensive. If she is indifferent to clothes, she is impossible. If she is amiable she grows tiresome. If temperamental, there is no peace." So you see, she has your number. To win out you must study the quality of clothes. "Girls are more affected by clothes than they know," she continues. "They need color. Color stands for warmth and youth. It brings a glow to the spirit which shows in the face. Women should copy the spring trees and autumn foliage and sky." If a girl is of the quiet, house type, she must have plenty of easily colored garments to produce another side of her nature. If she is a butterfly, she must teach herself to wear gentle grays and mauves and pale browns, made high and long. This will chasten her into the most home-loving mood. The athletic girl must sometimes force herself to wear chiffons, silk and dangling beads, if she would be softly feminine at times. The even tempered girl must rouse herself into combativeness sometimes by donning a frock that crashes with contrasting colors. The fussy girl must occasionally wear a straight jacket without adornment." If you follow this line of "dope" the lady psychologist promises that you will keep the marriage clerk so busy that he will have writers' cramp and, in addition, you will more than please fickle man.

LADIES' ART CLUB

The first meeting of

Art Club of the season was held yesterday afternoon in North Bend at the home of Mrs. Henry Hoeck, who had as special guests, Mrs. Wm. Schroeder and Miss Gladys Larsen, the latter and the hostess' daughter Miss Margaret Hoeck assisting in serving the guests a dainty luncheon at the close of the afternoon. Mrs. A. K. Arkley was added as a new member to the club. A pleasing feature was excellent piano music rendered by Miss Larsen during the sewing hours. The members out yesterday were: Mrs. F. M. Flye, Mrs. L. F. Falkenstein, Mrs. W. E. Hoagland, Mrs. L. G. Lang, Mrs. Chas. La Chappelle, Mrs. E. D. McArthur, Mrs. Ross Smith and Mrs. Hoeck. The meeting next week will be with Mrs. J. A. Blatt.

PHILATHEA SOCIETY

Election of officers was held last evening at the meeting of the Girls' Philathea Society of the Baptist Church, Miss Alice Tickell, teacher, with the following results: Pres. Ruth McLaughlin; Vice Pres., Miriam Wright; Sec., Louise Thompson; Treas., Naomi Daniels; Reporter, Rose Adair; Teacher, Miss Alice Tickell. Besides those elected to office, the girls present were Valentine Adair, Abbie Ledward, Clemence Wright and Bessie Redburg. The society is growing steadily under the splendid supervision of their able and experienced teacher, and the girls are planning many activities for the future. The next business meeting will be the first Friday in next month, in the church parlors, the regular meeting place.

HONORS MRS. HAUSER

Complimentary to Mrs. Kenneth Hauser, Mrs. F. D. Cohan was hostess at her home yesterday afternoon to a party of Marshfield ladies at nine tables of auction bridge, at which Mrs. Harrigan won high score trophy and Mrs. J. W. Bennett low prize. Mrs. Cohan, in carrying out the delicate color scheme of yellow, used a beautiful assortment of marigolds and chrysanthemums. She was assisted in serving by Misses Genevieve Sengstacken and Grace Kruse. The affair was delightful in every detail, the following ladies being favored with invitations: Mrs. R. E. Miller, Mrs. C. W. Cumbers, Mrs. J. S. Lyons Mrs. Chas. Hall, Mrs. C. K. Perry, Mrs. W. H. Kennedy, Mrs. A. R. O'Brien, Mrs. D. Y. Starford, Mrs. L. L. Tidball, Mrs. W. S. Nicholson, Mrs. H. E. Quist, Mrs. George F. Hladmarsh, Mrs. H. J. McKeown and the Misses: Genevieve Sengstacken, Grace Kruse and Miss Beebe.

A. N. W. CLUB

Thursday afternoon Mrs. Eugene O'Connell, assisted by her daughters, Mrs. E. K. Jones and Mrs. Edna Richardson, very delightfully entertained the A. N. W. Club. The affair was also a miscellaneous shower for the little stranger who arrived this week to take up her abode in the C. F. McKnight home, the ladies bringing many dainty and useful garments, as results of their handiwork. The name of Mrs. Kate Landu was added to the membership roll. She was formerly a member, but lodge work during the past year has necessitated her absence from the meetings. At the close of a very pleasant and profitable session, tempting refreshments were served by the hostess and her assistants to the following ladies: Mrs. F. E. Allen, Mrs. G. A. Bennett, Mrs. Lily Friedberg, Mrs. F. E. Hague, Mrs. A. T.

CONTRIBUTIONS concerning social happenings, intended for publication in the society department of The Times, must be submitted to the editor not later than 6 o'clock p. m. Friday of each week. (Exceptions will be allowed only in cases where the events occurred later than the time mentioned.)

Haines, Mrs. Alice Hall, Mrs. J. T. Harrigan, Mrs. Frances Hazard, Mrs. Elizabeth Hyde, Mrs. Alexandria Lando, Mrs. E. Mingus, Mrs. George F. Murch, Mrs. W. P. Murphy, Mrs. Mary McKnight, Mrs. Nancy Noble, Mrs. H. E. Quist and Mrs. Chas. Stauff. Mrs. J. T. Harrigan will be hostess to the club next Thursday afternoon.

MOVE SUNDAY SCHOOL

The Union Sunday School of East-side has changed its meeting place from the old school building to the new one, and Sunday School will be held in the new quarters next Sunday. From now on, all church services will also be held here, the new building being much more convenient and pleasant in every way for these gatherings. Rev. H. E. Foskett, of the Marshfield Baptist Church, will speak Sunday at the close of Sunday School.

ENTERTAINS SOCIAL CLUB

The Eastside Social Club, formerly the Sewing Club, will be entertained on Thursday of next week at the home of Mrs. Ben Wright. All the ladies of the club are requested to be present.

EVENING SEWING PARTY

Last Saturday evening Miss Grace Johnson, of Bunker Hill, was hostess to a few friends at sewing, her guests including Mrs. Olive K. Brown, Mrs. E. Stanley Henderson, Mrs. J. Hillstrom and Misses Inez Johnson, Clara Myren, Alice Curtis, Irene Preuss and Agnes Kunkel. After a very pleasant evening of the domestic art and social chat, the charming hostess served appetizing refreshments.

A HAPPY SURPRISE

A very pleasant surprise was given John King Tuesday afternoon, at Mercy Hospital, in honor of his birthday. This was an unusual event to take place at the hospital, but Sister Theresa kindly gave her consent on account of Mr. King's long disability. The merry-makers brought with them a birthday gift in the form of a beautiful bathrobe. The party took place in the sun room where the table was set and refreshments served, the hospital staff assisting in every way to make the affair a pleasant one. Those present were Mrs. John Tellefsen, Mrs. Prescott, Mrs. Edward Erickson, Mrs. G. Steen, Mrs. C. G. Magnus, Miss Elsie Larson, Miss Edna Johnson, Miss Alice Mathison, Miss Eunice Refsland, Miss Cora Mathison, Myrtle Steen and Mrs. R. O. Thorpe.

PRESBYTERIAN LADIES'

The Ladies' Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church met Wednesday afternoon in the church and discussed plans of activity for the coming year. Only a few attended, and no matter of special business was taken up. The last Wednesday in October is the date set for the next meeting, which will be with Mrs. Harry Fulson at 10 a. m.
