VICTOR EMMANUEL OF ITALY NARROWLY ESCAPES

Shell Explodes by Him But He Rides Among Troops and Victory Is Won

UDINE, Italy, Oct. 6.—King Victor Emmanuel recently had a narrow escape from death by shell fire while close to the firing line at the front.

A shell exploded so near to him that the splinters of the shrapnel struck and injured his horse. The king's composure was not disturbed and when his suite urged him to retire, he called for another horse, exclaiming:

"Here we must win or all die". Then he rode in among the troops who with shouts of "Savoys" took the Austrian position by storm.

The spot is now called "Kings Spur." The king previously had another narrow escape when a shell exploded on the spot from where his auto had just left.

GREAT BRITAIN WILL GET NOTE

Settlement of the Arabic Sink-ing With Germany Leaves Way Clear for Action

BURDEN IS PLACED

England Will Be Asked to Account Regarding Stopping of Goods to Neutral Ports

DOCUMENT IS A LONG ONE

Held That England Must Not Assume That All Food Stuffs Directed to Germany Are for Military Use—Packers' Case not Mentioned

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 6.—Secretary Lansing indicated today that the settlement of the Arabic case had cleared the way for the dispatch of the note to Great Britain, covering the general subject of trade negotiations and interference with American goods in neutral trade.

The note has been completed and is ready to be forwarded to Ambassador Page. It is a lengthy document covering the general situation.

Places the Burden The note, it is understood, contends that the burden of proof is upon the British government to show that goods for neutral destination, destroyed or seized by the British, are intended for Germany, and that the assumption that all food products going to Germany are intended for German military use is not justified.

The Packers' Case The note does not specifically cover the problems of the Chicago packers which probably will be dealt with in a separate communication.

GREEK CABINET HAS RESIGNED

Premier Insisted on Striking Immediately for Allies and the King Disagreed

CRISIS IS SERIOUS

Chamber of Deputies Suspends Session After Wild Discussion When Announced

NEXT MOVE NOT KNOWN

If Greece Tries to Remain Neutral and French Troops Stay on Territory, She May Be Forced to Bulgaria's Side

KING HAS ACCEPTED CABINET RESIGNATION LONDON, Oct. 6.—King Constantine of Greece has accepted the resignation of the Venizelos cabinet, according to an official dispatch today.

LANDING OF TROOPS IS TO PROCEED PARIS, Oct. 6.—The landing of French troops at Saloniki and their prompt dispatch northward across Greek territory to the Serbian frontier will proceed without regard to the cabinet crisis at Athens.

Word was received from Athens that King Constantine has accepted the resignation of the Venizelos Cabinet, which was unable to agree with King Constantine concerning Greece's next step in the fast approaching Balkan crisis.

The King came to Athens from Tatoi yesterday and summoned the Premier to the palace. After a tense interview, in which there was the plainest speaking, the Premier proceeded to the Chamber of Deputies at 9:30 last night and announced that he had disagreed with the King and presented the resignation of himself and the cabinet.

Wild Discussion The announcement led to wild discussion on the formation of a coalition cabinet. The resignation is believed to be due to Venizelos' insistence that Greece strike quickly in behalf of Serbia and the entente powers.

It now seems certain that Bulgaria will ally herself with the central powers. The matter doubtless will be brought to a head by the landing of allied troops at Saloniki.

Question Critical It is assumed that hostilities in this new field cannot be averted. What Greece will do now is a critical question. If she determines to remain neutral and French troops refuse to withdraw from Saloniki, she may be forced to join the central powers and Bulgaria in opposing them.

CHAMBER SUSPENDS Session Quits When Announcement is Made by Premier

ATHENS, Oct. 6.—After his conference yesterday with King Constantine, Premier Venizelos returned to the Chamber of Deputies and made the statement of the cause of the disagreement. He then announced the resignation of the entire cabinet. The sitting of the Chamber was suspended.

MORE TROOPS LAND French Putting Forces in Greece at Saloniki

LET US TALK IT OVER

THE TIMES has preached peace, hollered for harmony and cried for co-operation on Coos Bay until at times it would seem the very persistence of its pleas might provoke opposition. It has talked get-together and boomed and boosted, not for one city or one section of Coos Bay or Coos County, but for all cities and all sections at all times.

The Times has at all times denounced and deprecated the narrow selfishness of either individual or community that can see good only in that which is of immediate and direct benefit or advantage.

Fighting has never won anything for anyone anywhere at any time. The victor is always a loser. War is destructive. The individual, city, community or country that engages in it suffers and pays a heavy price for the foolishness of fighting.

All this by way of prelude to the statement that there is apparent effort to revivify the corpse of bitter factionalism between Marshfield and North Bend. This should not be done. It can only result in disaster to all the participants. North Bend cannot prosper without Marshfield participating in the progress it makes and if Marshfield marches forward North Bend cannot remain far in the rear.

North Bend is having a Bridge Carnival celebration this week and Marshfield should join in the festivities. We should help our neighbor in celebrating what is of great mutual benefit. Let us get together in having a good time.

Marshfield merchants are going to have two big Dollar Days, Saturday and Monday. These are trade celebrations being held all over the county. Albany, Eugene, Salem and Portland have already held these celebrations and Oakland, California, is preparing for one. In another column of today's paper The Times prints a letter from one of the leading business houses of Portland telling what a tremendous success the event was there and advising Marshfield merchants to get busy with the same thing, but Marshfield merchants were already busy, being quite as alert and wide-awake as elsewhere.

It would be a good plan for Marshfield merchants to close Friday afternoon and attend the Bridge Carnival and next Monday North Bend might reciprocate by joining in one of Marshfield's Dollar Day Carnivals.

Let us all be good fellows together. Don't try to grab the other fellow's game. It does no good and it's bad business, besides.

Must Be Perfect The board met in the office of Secretary Daniels and later was received by the president.

"We may not," the Secretary told the members, "expect to build the biggest navy in the world, but with the help of this board we must have a navy, every unit of which shall be as nearly perfect as American ingenuity makes it possible."

The board went later with Daniels to the navy proving ground at Indian Head on an inspection tour. Not Merely Technical "Preparation for defense is not merely a technical matter," said the President. "It is a matter the army and navy alone can take care of, but a matter in which we must have the co-operation of the best brains and knowledge of the country, outside of the official service of country as well as inside."

Democratic Spirit "I feel it is only in the spirit of true democracy that we can get together to lend such voluntary aid, the sort of aid that comes from interest, and from knowledge of the varied circumstances involved in handling the nation."

THOMAS EDISON PRESIDES

Members Taken to Navy Yards for Inspection—Are Told That Best Brains of Country are Needed to Make the Navy Perfect

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 6.—President Wilson outlined his attitude toward the national defense question today to the new advisory board of the navy. He believed, he said, that the whole nation was "convinced we ought to be prepared, not for war, but for defense, and very adequately prepared."

The meeting was the first held by the board and was presided over by Thomas A. Edison as chairman.
