BORN

HAINES—To Mr. and Mrs. Karl Haines, at their residence on south Fifth street, Sunday, Oct. 17, 1915, a boy. This is their first child and both mother and son are doing very well and father grins all day long.

May Get Tickets.—Business girls may get new gymnasium tickets at Judge Hall. Six admissions for 50 cents. Tuesday nights only.

Will Leave Exhibit.—The art exhibit at the Central school building will be left the rest of the week by request. Open daily until five o'clock.

To Hold Bazaar.—The Ladies' Aid of the Norwegian Lutheran Church at North Bend are planning a bazaar to be held in the church chapel Saturday evening, October 23rd.

Restaurant is Closed.—The People's Restaurant in North Bend, W. J. Yague, proprietor, was closed today when suits were brought against him by the Pacific Grocery, Fourier Brothers and W. J. Fellows.

No Races Held.—The auto race was not held Sunday afternoon. The event was planned Saturday afternoon, but there was some misunderstanding about the purses and the race was called off.

To Be Over This Week.—J. L. Smith, County Agriculturist, writes that he will be over to Coos Bay this week to look after some work here. He has been kept extremely busy in the Valley for the past few weeks looking after the corn show displays and getting everything in readiness for the show in November.

Sale Still Open.—The ladies of the Episcopal Church, who conducted the rummage sale on Front street three days last week, decided to keep the sale open again today and tonight, as they still had some goods left on hand and decided to remain open to dispose of them.

Concert Wednesday Night.—The concert to be held Wednesday evening, October 20th, in North Bend, Eckhoff Hall, by Jeno Sevelly, Gerald Hunt and Henrik Glerdum, under the auspices of the North Bend Library Association, is being looked forward to with much enthusiasm by their music lovers.

Will Move Camp.—The Smith-Powers company will soon move Camp Five to the heavy timber beyond Powers and when this is completed, the camps will all be prepared for a several months steady run. About thirty per cent of the logs are white cedar. The logs are of a better quality as they get farther back into the timber.

Had a Sunday Bottle.—William Killian either had foresight enough on Saturday night to get his Sunday bottle or else he had one "awful holdover" from the previous night, for he was found yesterday afternoon in an extremely wobbly condition. He was given a slight-seeing trip to the Hotel Carter, where he spent the waking hours in lonely meditation.

No Council Tonight.—Members of the city council stated today there will be no meeting of that body this evening, the special meeting of Thursday having adjourned until the 25th. The special session on Thursday loses his name—? ? ? ? ? is the name under which a man was billed at the police station this morning. Chief Carter found ? ? ? ? ? drunk and unable to walk or talk on Front street this morning. But a few minutes later Christian Nelson appeared in a somewhat similar conditions, insinuating that his foot had slipped after the excruciating dryness of yesterday.

Stamp of Approval on Fair.—W. U. Douglas returned yesterday on the stage from San Francisco. He says that he can safely put the stamp of approval on the Fair, though he had but a few days to visit on the grounds. Mr. Douglas went south as one of the attorneys in the appeal in the case of Wittick and Bernitt versus the Smith-Powers Logging Company, the latter appealing from a judgment of some $3600.

Find No Bear.—Though they searched valiantly through the brush and over the mountain tops beyond the Maze on the ridge on South Coos River yesterday, J. C. Murphy, Ferdinand Painter and Dr. Vaughn failed to find any bear. There were tracks found but the going of the huckleberries had evidently taken away the bears' reason for loitering in the vicinity. Mr. Murphy has his Air-aldes with him, hoping to try them out on a big black bruin.

Saturday was the fifth birthday of little Eleanor Lewis, who in the afternoon, celebrated the event with a party, and invited a number of her playmates to join with her in having a happy time. At the close of the afternoon, the mother of the little hostess, Mrs. E. P. Lewis served tempting refreshments. The children invited were, Elizabeth and Tom Flanagan, Rosemary Richardson, James Flanagan, Jimmie Richardson, William and John Elliott, and Howard, Lewis and Herbert Lewis.

Get Ducks.—F. A. Baker, Don Gardner and Dan McGee walked to Winchester Bay and then back to Beale Lake. They took their guns along and got about twenty ducks.

Geese Flying.—Yesterday and last night numerous flocks of geese passed over Marshfield. During the day, they were flying high but last night their "honk, honk" kept the nimrods awake. The flight indicates cold weather and storms in the north.

Court Still Goes On.—Judge Blake is busy with equity cases and clearing up legal matters, the equity session still being open. There seems to be a grist of smaller legal matters to be attended to, enough work to keep the judge busy for many weeks to come.

Find No Deer.—Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Motley returned on the boat this morning from South Coos River where they spent the week end at the J. A. Smith place. Yesterday afternoon Mr. Motley and his wife were out stalking for deer but found there were none in that vicinity.

Improves Summer Home.—C. R. Peck has returned from his summer cottage on South Coos River where he is making improvements along the river bank. The slope is being leveled up and rounded off and he intends to get a lawn started, reaching down to the water's edge. Piling has already been driven along the waterfront.

To Dance on Halloween.—The Millicola Club is making arrangements for a Halloween dance on Friday, October 29. This year the members have decided to ask outsiders as their guests. Decorations will be in a regulation Halloween style and it is expected there will be a general good time. Halloween falls on Sunday and this is the reason the dance will happen a couple of days early this year.

Mother is Worried.—Mrs. William Craig, of Seventh street, is worried over the whereabouts of Charles Craig, her 18 year old son, who has not been home since Saturday night. She says that a friend saw him in the Blanco pool room yesterday afternoon. He left home in his high top shoes and old clothes but did not take any baggage with him, said Mrs. Craig. He has been working at Farwell's camp until that place closed down.

Retrop is Thrown.—Local wrestling fans will be interested in the news that Charles Retrop, who wrestled through this county and also in Curry, was thrown Friday night in Portland by Eddie O'Connell, also a wrestler who was in Coos and Curry during August. The first fall was in 45 minutes and the second in 42 minutes and 50 seconds. The hammerlock proved the successful hold. O'Connell has now issued an invitation to any grappler in the world of his weight, offering $1,000 as a side bet.

Capitalist Visits Bay.—Gay Lombard, Portland capitalist, is visiting for a few days in Coos County, and at present is at Shore Acres spending a short time as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Simpson. Mr. Lombard is owner of the Board of Trade building in Portland and is interested in real estate there. Visitors at Shore Acres say that as soon as the sea quiets a bit L. J. Simpson intends to turn the salt water into the big new swimming tank. While the water is turbid sand and sea weed, it was thought, might clog the pipes.

Waits For Case.—Chas. Fensler, formerly with The Hub in Marshfield but now manager of the Hub store in Powers, has received his appointment as Justice of the Peace at Powers and is now waiting for his first case. Chas. Zimmerman, deputy sheriff for that section, will be sworn in as constable as soon as he moves into his new home at Powers and will aid Fensler in meeting out Justice. Judge Fensler has not yet announced his code of rules in his court but it is understood that he has decided $25 shall be the minimum fine.

More Corn Prizes.—Prize winners in the corn shows to be held in Coos during the latter part of November may have a chance to take part and get a share of the $1,000 in cash prizes being offered by the O. W. R. and N. company. Any one in the Northwest is allowed to enter. The show will be held in Walla Walla December 2, 3, 4. It seems possible that prize winners here would have time to get their exhibits to Walla Walla to compete with displays from other sections of the Northwest. J. L. Smith, county agriculturist, says that considerable interest is being taken in the Coos show and that surprises will be sprung in November.

PERSONAL MENTION

A. H. COLLVER, of Catching Inlet, was down today on a business trip.

W. G. FELLOWS was in Saturday afternoon shopping from Lakeside.

MRS. S. LIBBY was a passenger south on the Kibburn Saturday for a visit at the exposition.

E. GEORGE SMITH and wife, of South Coos River, were visitors in the city Saturday and Sunday.

J. E. MONTGOMERY has returned from Gardiner and Scottsburg, where he went on business last week.

MRS. WARNER PETERSON returned this morning from a visit at the Andrew Kardell home on north Coos.

MAX ROBERTS came in from Powers yesterday for a short visit at the home of his sister, Mrs. Chas. Van Duyn.

RAYMOND E. BAKER, County School Superintendent, came over late Saturday from Coquille on a business trip.

A. J. MENDEL left yesterday for Portland and San Francisco on business connected with the opening of his new store.

GEORGE DWYER came in Saturday evening from Powers for a short visit with friends. He is now on the engineering force of the Smith-Powers camps.

MR. AND MRS. E. CONKLIN and three daughters, Myrtle, Maud and Evelyn, left Saturday on the Kibburn for San Francisco.

W. C. LAIRD, Deputy Sheriff, returned to Coquille Saturday afternoon from Spokane and Vale, coming back empty-handed.

MISS JULIA BENTGTON left overland today for San Francisco to visit the exposition, and will return in about two weeks.

PAT HENNESSEY returned on the morning train to the mines at Delmar this morning after spending the week-end at home.

F. A. BAKER, road supervisor and prominent citizen of the Bridge county, with Mrs. Baker, was a visitor here on Saturday and yesterday.

MISS MARIE GREGG intends to leave in the morning for Portland and thence into Washington where her father, the Rev. Gregg is conducting evangelical services.

W. W. GAGE returned this morning from Allegany where he went to look after his ranch. Three of the Greeks who had leased the place have been called back to Greece.

D. L. FOOTE left yesterday morning for Portland in his 1914 Cadillac which he will try to trade in on a new Winton six.

AMONG THE SICK

Earl Mack, fine man of the local telephone company, is suffering from a severe attack of Poison oak sustained while working on Coos River last week.

Mrs. Cook of First Addition who underwent an operation Saturday for acute appendicitis and abscess is reported doing nicely. They formerly resided in North Bend but recently Mr. Cook has been employed at the Conner & Hoagland store.

LID CLOSED DOWN

GARDNER CLOSED ON SUNDAY "TIGHT AS DRUM"

Travelers Complain Couldn't Even Buy Smokes—Salmon Run Not Up To Average

"Tight as the proverbial drum" is the explanation given by travelers of Gardner on Sunday. They say that yesterday everything was closed there with the exception of the hotel and the drug store, every other merchant being closed under the Sunday closing law. From this it is inferred that the district attorney of Douglas county is clamping on the lid, enforcing the law to its blue letter limit.

Salmon Run Small This year has not, so far, been on a par with the runs of previous years, it is reported. Both the canneries are in operation and many fishermen are at work, but the catches are small. The expectation is that later in the season the run will materially increase.

Building Tunnel Warren Reed continues to burrow his 1,000 foot tunnel to pierce the hills into Clear Lake, thus furnishing a fresh water supply to the town of Reedsport, where the Willamette Pacific will cross the Umpqua.

On Saturday Mr. Reed told travelers through there that the entire 1,000 feet is now half way completed.

Putsey Visits There The gasoline schooner Putsey is now operating into the Umpqua, bringing cargoes down from Portland. This vessel is fairly good sized for a gasoline schooner and is well equipped in most every port on the Oregon coast.

We have a nifty line of coal, wood and combination heating stoves, send this line before you buy, Schroeder and Hildenbrand.

FATHER IS KILLED

C. W. VIERS RECEIVES WORD OF FATAL ACCIDENT TO PARENT

Mother Also Injured Near Seaman, Adams County, Ohio—No Particulars Given

C. W. Viers this morning received a telegram from a sister at Seaman, Ohio, announcing that his father, J. S. Viers, had been killed and his mother injured in an accident yesterday. No other particulars were given, but he expects additional information soon.

His parents and two sisters lived about three miles from Seaman, which is in Adams county, Ohio. The roads in that section are very hilly and he thinks that they met with an accident en route to or from town. His father was about seventy years old. His mother visited here last summer and the family was planning to move from there to Coos Bay.

Owing to the distance, Mr. Viers will be unable to return home for the funeral.

BROTHER IS DEAD

Jacob Mattson Received Sad News From Portland

Jacob Mattson of North Marshfield today received a letter from his niece in Portland announcing the death of his brother, Nick Mattson, of paralysis. The news came as a great shock to him. Less than a month ago, Nick Mattson came here from Portland to visit, surprising his brother whom he had not seen for thirty years. The brothers came to this country together but separated and lost track of each other. Soon after his return to Portland from Coos Bay, Nick Mattson suffered a stroke of paralysis which later proved fatal.

DISPLAYS ARRIVING

SACKS OF COOS BAY CORN TO BE PUT ON EXHIBIT

Specimens Show What Can Be Done Here—C. G. Stadden and F. B. Rood Have Exhibits

Coos Bay farmers are already evidencing their interest in the corn show to be held here during the latter part of next month and shipments are arriving at the Chamber of Commerce from river points for the exhibition.

This morning on the boat came sacks from the ranches of Frank B. Rood and C. G. Stadden, the latter being on the L. F. Price place near near Sumner.

Good Samples Come From the samples that have come in from the Ten Mile region several weeks back it is expected there will be some husky specimens of corn from there during the display week, showing in a concrete way exactly what can be raised in a country that hitherto has been branded as a "poor corn country."

As the samples are received here at the Chamber of Commerce they are being taken care of. Some of them are in danger of becoming mouldy unless placed in a warm room and allowed to thoroughly dry out.

North Bend Norwegian Lutheran Ladies' Aid will hold annual bazaar at chapel, Saturday evening, October 23. Refreshments served.
