TRAIN ROBBED BY MEXICANS

Bandits From Across the Border Commit the Crime and Make Their Escape

TWO MEN KILLED

Victims Are Corporal McBee, Engineer, Who Was Pinned Under Locomotive

SEVERAL CARS WRECKED

Track Is Loosened and Pulled Away Just as the Train Approaches—Twenty Mexicans Keep up a Steady Gun Fire

[By Associated Press to Coo's Bay Times.] BROWNSVILLE, Texas, Oct. 19.—Inspired by race hatred as well as a desire for loot, 20 Mexicans who claimed to be followers of Luis De Larosa, leader of a so-called Texas revolution, held up and robbed a train near Olmito, seven miles north of here last night.

As a result three are dead, another probably fatally injured, and four others seriously hurt. The bandits are believed to have escaped into Mexico.

Three Are Dead The dead are Corporal McBee, Third United States Cavalry, who was shot; Engineer Kendall, who was pinned beneath the locomotive, and Dr. E. S. McCain, deputy state health officer. The robbery was the boldest work by bandits since the raids began three months ago.

Caused a Wreck

They removed the spikes from a rail and lying concealed in nearby brush, jerked the rail from under the nose of the engine with a long heavy wire. The engine, baggage, mail and express cars jumped the track. After the robbery the Mexicans burned the trestle north of the wreck.

Few Passengers

The scene of the robbery is three miles from the Rio Grande. The Mexicans, as they fired at the train, shouted, "Viva Pizano, Viva Carranza." Pizano is a co-leader with De Larosa. Few passengers were aboard.

The robbery was conducted by five or six Mexicans in Khaki uniforms while 15 or 20 more kept up a constant fire.

Troops Detained

The burned trestle prevented the prompt arrival of the United States soldiers from San Benito to take up the pursuit. John W. Sword, a former United States soldier, said he and three soldiers, McBee, Brishear and Laymon, occupied a boat at the front end of the smoking car, the three soldiers in uniform, but unarmed.

Four Men Arrested

Four Mexicans are under arrest in connection with the robbery and were brought here today. It is reported a posse shot and killed two others.

Health Officer Dead

Dr. E. S. McCain, deputy state health officer, died this afternoon from revolver wounds he received.

Began Firing

As the train came to a stop he noticed Mexicans crowding into the rear end coach. The Mexicans came forward firing. The first firing was directed at the army uniforms worn by Sword's companions. Two soldiers were shot at the first fire and Laymon was hit as he dived for the front door.

Go After Soldiers

In the smoking car also were a man named Wallis, Dr. McCain, District Attorney Kiebler of Brownsville, and two traveling salesmen, R. Wright and P. M. Sauer.

In the first rush at the uninformed men, the bandits paid little attention to the other passengers. McCain and Wallis took refuge in the toilet. Kiebler felt as if shot, while Wright and Sauer hid under the seats.

In the meantime Sword brushed aside a bandit's arm, jumped off the train and fled three miles to a telephone.

Shot Through the Door The bandits knocked on the toilet door and commanded McCain and Wallis to come out. They refused, whereupon the bandits fired through the door, hitting McCain in the abdomen and wounding Wallis twice.

domen and wounding Wallis twice. Sauer was relieved of $30 in cash. The bandits relieved the dead soldier, McBee, of his shoes. Doc Washington, a negro, hid beneath a seat, but the bandits saw his feet, stole his shoes and $95 in cash.

TODAY IS APPLE DAY

OREGON MARKENS TO BECKONING OF THE APPLE

If You Haven't Eaten One Yet Today, Hurry Up—Coo's Produces Most All Apples Eaten Here

By the way, have you eaten that apple yet today? If not, get busy. This is October 19 and therefore, by government decree, Oregon Apple Day. Remember the date.

Rosy checked Gravensteins and palefaced Bellflowers, early this morning, long before Old Sol was up, had begun talking about the occasion. It is their big day. And they are liberally backed up by the Coo's River Beauties, the Kings, the Baldwins, the Jonathans and the whole Apple Family.

Into Marshfield this year have been shipped less than 200 boxes of outside apples, from Hood River and Wenatchee mostly, say the produce men. In other words the local produce has been practically taking care of the demand.

From up both forks of Coo's River, from orchards north, west, and south of the city the orchards have been pouring their crops into the city. There have come very good varieties of apples and they have been cheap, a great deal cheaper than those that are brought here from outside points.

It has shown everyone what can be done. That we do not have to depend on the so-called apple regions of the Northwest for our apples.

And with the prices more reasonable than ever another result has been an increasing use of the product. There have been a greater number of apple pies, apple dump-ings, apple sauces for the Tired Business Man and little Willies and Mary all of whom are mighty glad that apples can and do grow in Coo's county.

So tonight in keeping with the spirit of the day there should be some variety of apple sauce or pie on the table, or cider and, if this is lacking, be patriotic and use apple vinegar anyhow.
