REV. L. H. STEINHOFF AT-TENDS GATHERING

District Missionary of the Baptist Church Not to Return Here—Takes Large Map With Him

To attend the state convention of the Oregon Baptists, Rev. L. H. Steinhoff, district missionary in Coos County, left yesterday morning for Eugene. He probably will not return to the county this winter, but will spend his time in the Willamette Valley.

He took with him a large blue print map of Coos, prepared by D. L. Buckingham, which this week is hanging on the walls of the Baptist Church in Eugene, showing the work that is being accomplished here in church work this year in the Coos district. It has been traced out in red ink showing all the Baptist missions in Coos County.

Rev. Steinhoff has been in this territory for some time and has made a great many friends, who would be very glad to see his return.

OLD MAN STRICKEN

THOMAS WYMAN HAS PARALYSIS AND VERY ILL

Was Formerly Assistant Light-house Keeper and Lost his Leg in the Service

Thomas Wyman, well-known resident of the South Slough district, has suffered a stroke of paralysis and is reported to be in a critical condition. Today it was said that he was unconscious and there was not much hope for his recovery, as he is quite an old man.

Mr. Wyman is the grandfather of Wyman Albee, keeper of the government lights and the county bridge at South Slough. He is a Civil War veteran and some years ago was assistant keeper of the light-house at Cape Arago. At that time a cable broke when when Albee was crossing on it from the mainland to the point where the light-house is situated. He fell clear down into the rocks below and as result of the accident lost a leg.

STILL MAKES GOOD

TOM RICHARDSON, PREMIER BOOSTER, NOW IN HOUSTON

Was One of Original Founders of Local Chamber of Commerce—Valuable in Oregon

Tom Richardson, one of the original founders of the Marshfield Chamber of Commerce and one of the best boosters Oregon ever had, is making good with the Southeastern Texas Development League, with headquarters in Houston.

Ocean going vessels now come to the docks at Houston, some 50 miles inland via ship channel, and the boosting of the Port of Houston is one of the big duties in which Mr. Richardson is interested. The channel has been partially dredged up from the Bay of Galveston and is a project that cost considerable money.

On his first visit here, many years ago, Mr. Richardson aided in starting the local Chamber of Commerce. He traveled all over the state and has many other such organizations to his credit. He was formerly head of the Portland Chamber and later secretary of the Oregon Development League, in which connection he did much valuable work.

RUMMAGE SALE WAS A SUCCESS

Nearly Three Hundred Dollars Taken in and People Given Chance to Get Cheap Buys.

The rummage sale held by the ladies of the Episcopal Church was a big success. A large amount of goods of all kinds was gathered and offered at very low prices. On account of the large volume of goods sold the ladies took in $286.70. The money is to go to the church and is to be used to pay the street assessment. More than enough to meet this indebtedness was taken in at the sale.

In addition to raising money for the church the sale afforded many an opportunity to buy needed goods at a very small figure.

LOOK FOR COUGARS FISHER PRESIDENT COOS TRADE LARGE

REPORT COMES NEST OF FAMILY WAS FOUND LAST SUMMER

Howls Have Been Heard in Woods Near Boise Addition—Some Families Skeptical of Stories

Further reports of cougars lurking in the vicinity of Boise Addition have been coming in. The little girl of E. R. Henderson first reported the animal and came crying to the house, some 75 feet distant from the woods.

Since then it has developed that last summer surveyors working through the brush in that vicinity came up on the nest of a family of cougars. Mr. Henderson says that several times he has heard them howling through the woods.

Children in the neighborhood are being watched carefully to see that they do not stray off too far from their homes. Other persons who live there say they are skeptical of the stories and believe that it was a big dog sighted in the first place and that there are no varmints in that section. Meanwhile a watch is being kept.

ELECTED TO HEAD FELLOWSHIP CLUB FOR 1916

Is Prominent in Public Spirited Work Plans for New Year Are Announced

Ben Fisher was elected president of the Fellowship Club at the annual business meeting of the members in the Chamber of Commerce last evening. Plans for the new year have already been announced. John C. Kendall, retired president, briefly presented his annual report.

The following are the officers elected: Ben Fisher, president; C. R. Peck, vice president; James T. Brand, secretary; John Ross, treasurer.

Six banquets were held last year, said John Kendall, with an average attendance of 60 members. About 25 new names were added to the list and about $300 was spent during last winter to care for the unemployed of the city.

To secure more members for the new year Ben Fisher has announced a campaign of several teams pitted against each other. Each team will consist of three to five members and the winner will be banqueted by the loser. This will probably be staged about the middle of November and he believes the total membership can be increased to 200.

Work for Unemployed
Approximately $150 will be raised to start the work this winter of providing for the unemployed, according to the present estimate. A separate fund will be raised consisting of the initiation fees of $1 and the annual dues of $1 and various organizations will be asked to aid in the work.

The plan does not call for the out and out giving of meals and lodging, but rather to find the men work, places where they may work for their room and board.

People of Marshfield who have employment of any sort, such as wood cutting, yard cleaning, will be asked to let a committee know that the men may be placed. A public wood pile has been suggested, anything that will furnish men out of employment something to do to make their living.

Worked Last Winter
Last winter close to $90 was expended in this matter by the Fellowship Club and it was possible to take hold of the problem without the forming of a free employment bureau or a coffee club.

Women of the various churches will again be asked to take the contracts for the furnishing of Fellowship Club banquets at the usual prices.

Mr. Fisher said this morning, "we intend to make the Club non-partisan, non-political and non-sectarian in every way. We want the men to get together, that's the idea."

Inspector in Bankruptcy Gives Some Figures for the Year of 1914 in Great Britain

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times)
LONDON, Oct. 20.—The report of the Inspector General in Bankruptcy for the year ended December 31, 1914, states that the number of failures in England and Wales for the year shows a large falling off, being the smallest since the Bankruptcy Act of 1883 came into operation, the decrease being attributable to the war.

During the first seven months of the year receivership orders were made in 2167 cases and in the last five months only 800.

While the number of failures has decreased the liabilities and assets have substantially increased and the total estimated loss to creditors is nearly two millions sterling in excess of the loss estimated in the preceding year.
