SUNRISE AND SUNSET

Friday
 October 29—Sun rises at 6:48 and sets at 5:02.

Buy Auto.—W. J. Conrad has purchased a new Buick Six from Geo. Goodrum.

Returns From Gardiner.—The Rev. Robert E. Browning, rector of the Marshfield Episcopal Churches on the Bay, returned from Gardiner on Thursday of this week, having gone there to visit the Parish at Gardiner and conduct services.

Lets Contract.—Geo. E. Cook has let the contract to Simmons and Lupton for the erection of another bungalow in Perham Park adjoining the one he has just completed and with Frank Horton will occupy tomorrow. He has several applicants for the new house also.

Sunday School Notice.—The pupils and those interested in the Sunday School of the North Bend Episcopal Church, are kindly asked to note the hour for the Sunday School session held in the chapel in the Simpson Building at 9:30 each Sunday. Mr. Karl A. W. Fliesburg is in charge.

Had Hallowe'en Social.—The Ladies' Aid Society of the Bay Park Chapel last evening held a very enjoyable Hallowe'en social at the chapel. There were about 60 persons present in the evening and the women sold pies and cakes and other toothsome dainties, realizing some $10 from the sale, all of which goes into the expenses of the church.

Is Buried Today.—The funeral of Thomas Wyman was held this afternoon from the Wilson Undertaking Parlors. Many of the G. A. R. veterans were in attendance to pay last respects to their old comrade. There were also the relatives and many of his old friends of South Inlet present. The deceased died Wednesday as the result of a paralysis stroke.

Hold Swimming Party.—Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Simpson last evening gave a swimming party to a number of their friends, to initiate the new pool that has just been opened. Among those who were present were Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Cumbers, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth D. Hauser, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Painter, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Turpen, I. R. Tower, Tom T. Bennett, Ralph Rounds and Ben Fisher.

Information Acceptable.—The Knickerbocker Press, of Albany, N. Y., has acknowledged the receipt of panoramic views of Coos Bay and its lumber resources for its "Deeper Hudson" issue. It asks for information on Marshfield and the weekly and monthly shipments of lumber and where it goes to. The issue will be in the interests of making Albany an Eastern distribution point for Pacific Coast lumber.

Committee Meeting.—The committee of the Fellowship Club is meeting in the Chamber of Commerce this afternoon, together with President Ben Fisher, to talk over plans for the coming winter. The problem of aiding the unemployed was taken up last year and very successfully worked out and in all probability this will be one of the principal projects again this winter. The committees were appointed a few days ago.

Up to Executive Committee.—J. L. Hartman, of Portland, secretary of the Oregon State Bankers' Association, in a letter to the Chamber of Commerce today advises that the matter of holding the convention of the state bankers here next year is in the hands of the executive committee that meets before the first of the year, though he believes they have no power to change the place of meeting from Portland, which was unanimously decided on. The members of this committee will be written to individually.

More Corn for Show.—Every few days now brings more corn into the Chamber of Commerce for exhibit in the corn show to be held here November 18. Victor Stauff, of Kentuck Inlet, has brought over a sack full of excellent specimens. John Blasca has also sent in corn for the exhibit and Warren Bessey, of Coos River, has sent down one of the longest corn stalks seen in this section this season. On it are several very large, well developed ears. Rocco Blasca sent three enormous pumpkins down from his Coos River ranch yesterday. They would make the eyes of most kiddies bulge out now that Hallowe'en time is near.
