An informal recital was given Tuesday evening at the Conservatory by pupils of Mr. Gjerdrum, Mr. Hunt and Miss Larson. Those appearing on the program were Miss Victoria Kjelland, Miss Irene Holm and Mr. Alfred Filsburg, piano pupils, and Miss Anna Cox, Miss Hil-dur Selander and Mr. Herbert Buserud, voice pupils. Miss Mary Kruse assisted with the accompaniments, and also played the Sonata in C minor, (first movement) for two pianos by Mozart-Grieg, with Mr. Gjerdrum at the second piano. All the performers did credit to themselves and their instructors, and the recital was much enjoyed by those present.

POPULAR CONCERT

The first popular concert to be given by the members of the Henrik Gjerdrum Conservatory faculty will take place November 7, at the Noble Theater. An unusually interesting program is being arranged. Jenö Sevely will play Wilhelm's arrangement of Schubert's wonderful Ave Maria and Wagner's "Walthers' Pride Song," also arranged by Wilhelm. An Hungarian Dance by Brahms will also be one of Mr. Sevely's numbers. Mr. Hunt has selected the famous aria "Eri tu che Macchilavi" from the Masked Ball by Verdi, besides other numbers of great interest. Miss Edna Louise Larson is to be the piano soloist for this occasion. Everyone will be anxious to hear Miss Larson again. There has been too long an interval since she appeared in Marshfield. With her brilliant technique and fine musicianship she always captivates her audience. A quartette has been organized by Gerald Hunt, which will appear for the first time on this occasion, singing the quartette from Rigoletto. The members are Mrs. R. E. Miller, Mrs. E. Stanley Henderson, Gerald Hunt and B. Ostlund. The concert will be given at popular prices, the admission to be 25 cents. A packed house should be the reward of the artists who are doing so much to uplift the taste for the best of music in this community.

BANDON CONCERT

Referring to the concert given by Messrs Gjerdrum, Hunt and Sevely, of Marshfield, Friday evening, Oct. 22nd, in the Orpheum theater at Bandon, the Recorder of that town makes the following comment: "There was nothing common or mediocre about the entertainment given by the Gjerdrum Conservatory faculty of Marshfield at the Orpheum Friday night. Every number on the program was high class and was presented with the skill and talent that bordered close on genius. At the piano, with vocal music and the violin the mechanical execution was in the superlative degree. "Henrik Gjerdrum, pianist, appeared in all the numbers as an accompanist and in three of the numbers appeared singly as a soloist on the piano. His finger work was a marvel to behold and he won prolonged applause at the conclusion of each of his solo selections. His work was that of a finished artist and to listen to him was a treat. "Gerald Hunt the Baritone soloist delighted all with his selections. He had perfect control of his tones and was repeatedly applauded and encored. "The music of Jenö Sevely was a revelation to many who did not think it possible to wring such music out of a violin. Sevely is evidently a Hungarian by birth as well as training for he has the stature of the people across the Danube. Short and swarthy with a shock of black hair he looked the popular conception of an artist. Every pass of the bow across the strings of his Cremona aroused melody of the sort the old masters dream of. Sevely's selections were a musical treat and were appreciated by all lovers of violin music. "The entertainment which was for the benefit of the high school student body was given a fair patronage."

LODGE ELECTIONS AND INITIATIONS

The annual district convention of the Rebekah Lodge was held on Wednesday of this week in Marshfield, representatives being present from Bandon, Myrtle Point and North Bend. #### BAND CONCERT

The program to be given by the Coos Bay Concert Band this Sunday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock in the Orpheum Theatre, is of special interest to the music loving public, as it contains, not alone new numbers, but numbers that are especially popular with the Marshfield audiences. Among the new numbers will be the Overture "The Comedy" by Franz Von Suppe. This Overture was written by Von Suppe in 1822 for a fairly tale which had been dramatized by Heinrich Ritter von Veitchnigg. The piece was very successful and much of this success was due to Suppe's music, which had been described as of unusual brilliancy, very melodious and catchy. Strange to say, with the disappearance of the piece, the music was forgotten, until through a number of fortunate circumstances the Overture was recovered. It is in Suppe's most inspired vein and will stand favorable comparison with his very best Overtures, particularly Pique Dame and Poet and Peasant.

The Marshfield order of Women of Woodcraft also elected officers at their regular meeting last Monday evening, in their lodge rooms, which resulted in the following ladies being placed in office: Guardian Neighbor—Ruby Drews. Adviser—Zelma Mason. Magician—Ada Harrington. Attendant—Lizzie Brown. Re-elected clerk—Mary Cowan. Captain of the Guard—Lillian Morey. Re-elected Banker—Ann Smith. Re-elected Managers—Euphemia McCulloch, Nellie Owen and Ora McCarty.

The remainder of the evening was spent in a social way and dainty refreshments were served. This was in charge of Mrs. C. P. Mason.

Twelve new members were initiated into the North Bend Royal Neighbor Lodge last Tuesday evening, the affair being held in Loggie's hall.

The candidates for initiation were: Mrs. Lena Arkley, Alta Groke, Mrs. E. Hemingway, Mrs. Myrtle Bock, Mrs. Arthur Derbyshire, Mrs. Edna Bergren, Mrs. Earle Hutchins, Mrs. Edna Schafter, Mrs. Bessie Praw and the Misses Louise Eismiger, Ida Neilson and Ella Weiss. The visitors present from the Marshfield lodge were: Mrs. G. N. Bolt, Mrs. A. Z. Downs, Mrs. R. Walters, Mrs. M. Pritchard, Mrs. S. J. Immel and Mrs. Inascom. Next Tuesday evening, the Marshfield lodge will initiate several candidates and the North Bend order will be the guest of the evening.

The lights were shaded with Jack o'lanterns, Navajo rugs covered the floors and here and there in conspicuous places were large yellow pumpkins, while many little black cats and witches added to the appropriateness of the arrangements. The guests came masked and appearing among them were clowns, negro wenches, a Spanish girl and Mr. and Mrs. George Washington.
